BOY SCOUT WEEK

This, as many informed folk know already, is Boy Scout Week, celebrating the 29th birthday of the Boy Scouts of America, a Movement that has already appeared to 8,400,000 American boys and men.

Such success as the Boy Scout scheme has had is due chiefly, aside from its inherent inductive appeal for boys, to the fact that thousands of devoted men have given time and money—but chiefly time—quite unselfishly in order that the boys who became Scouts might have the advantage of their counsel and experience. No similar social agency in the history of the world has ever engaged so many men as volunteers and their willingness and desire to be of some use is a tribute to the sort of unselfishness which is a component of the essential American character.

These Scout leaders have not given in vain, for there is ample evidence that the Boy Scouts of America have become among those consistently active in carrying out the service motto in our national life. This has always been amply demonstrated in times of emergency and is likewise to be discovered in ordinary days by many signs. Not the least of them is the fact that many, in fact, most of those becoming Boy Scout leaders in the past several years have previously been Scouts and are arising upon that way of re-paying the debt due their own Scoutmasters. This is significant evidence that the Scout creed of helpfulness to others is a working doctrine.

MORE PRAYER

Our older statesmen, United States Senators, are back to making laws after considerable national disapproval in the general election over the fruits of their last year's performance, are going to seek more higher guidance.

They are revising the rules of the Senate so as to provide for opening each day's session with prayer. Under the old rule, each legislative day was opened with prayer. A legislative day does not correspond to a calendar day as matters taken up under a legislative day may consume weeks before the legislative day on this item is concluded. In fact, last year, the Senate had only four legislative days and only four prayers for their guidance were raised throughout the year.

Now, however, they are going to take each day as it comes and begin it with an appeal for divine guidance in their deliberations. The chaplain is going to have to put together some potent prayers.

PAYING THE PRICE

With no intent to obstruct legitimate business or free trade the Associated Business of Branford is formulating a plan whereby the housewife may be protected to some extent from the fake goods peddler who annually takes a huge cash toll from residents.

Questionable solicitations appear periodically, especially with the influx of summer visitors. As an aid in the suppression of illegitimate and costly promotion, sales and advertising schemes the Association has compiled a digest of popular rackets that come and go at the expense of our citizens in which it advises not to contribute under any consideration to get rid of a persistent solicitor.

Particularly in these times of unemployment, are house-to-house peddlers numerous. In most instances, much better value in goods can be secured from local merchants.

Some salesmen are honest but are working against impossible odds.

It is the imposters and undesirable strangers the Association hopes to keep from our people, those racketeers who represent unfair competition and trade practices of the worst possible order.

"THE AMERICAN WAY"

Governor Raymond E. Baldwin was the originator of "The American Way", a slogan which has precipitated a wave of patriotic fervor throughout the country, it was revealed last night in a radio broadcast.

Elliott Lee, editor of the Connecticut Circle magazine, reported that the slogan had first been used by Governor Baldwin in his recent election campaign.

Recently, a New York paper adopted the expression for its title. Moving pictures plan to use it, and a youth organization is advertising the slogan nationally. Many other patriotic organizations throughout the country have adopted "The American Way" as a slogan of patriotism, according to Elliott Lee.

INDIANS GOVERNORS

Marking back many centuries to the priestly ceremonies of ancient India, the Pueblos of New Mexico have just conducted their annual installation of governors. In these 17 active Pueblos, each a distinct governmental unit, there are conducted each year solemn ceremonies which symbolize the preservation not only of their political independence, but what is perhaps even more important, the safeguarding of their traditional forms of worship. In no other place in the United States has Indian political and religious independence without so steadfastly and successfully the continuous streak of generations of suppression.

Spaniards had difficulty in knowing how to consult with the priestly hierarchies and secret societies which were the real government. Since that time the Pueblos always governed themselves, through the Spanish period, through their governors and councils.

The officers usually include a governor, lieutenant governor, war chief, and an interpreter. The servant and not the master of the people usually is responsible for keeping order on public occasions. The ex-governors become members of the council.

THE BIGGER BLOW

LOOKING AT AMERICA

America has been made great by the achievements of individuals—plus, of course, her unique natural resources. In many lines of endeavor Americans have outdistanced the world. Consider the esteem that has gone out to such stalwart pioneers as Alexander Graham Bell, Thomas A. Edison, Henry Ford, the Wright Brothers, Morse, Westinghouse, Goodenough and others who originated huge valuable inventions and created vast employment-giving enterprises.

Thank heavens, there still persists throughout America the hope among many that either they themselves or their children will climb to the top. People after people in foreign lands have submitted to having dictators clamp handcuffs on them. They have surrendered their liberty, their freedom. They have acquiesced in being misled, in surrendering free speech, a free press.

THE "WHY" OF FROZEN CAPITAL

Reference is often made these days to "frozen capital" as largely to blame for unemployment and business depression. Many people, no doubt, wonder just what frozen capital is, why it exists and why it is so closely tied in with our current economic ills.

Everybody knows that "capital" means money and that "frozen", in this sense, means inactivity. A good answer to the "whys" is found in a recent nationwide survey of potential investors. (Anyone with a savings account is a potential investor.)

The survey, conducted by the National Association of Manufacturers, asked this question: "Do you have money available which you could invest and would like to invest, but which you do not care to invest at the present time?" The reply of 73.1 per cent was "yes."

The 73.1 per cent was then asked to indicate why they did not want to invest now. Here are some of the answers: Inadequate present profits and doubtful future profits because of possible new legislation, existing taxes, prospects of new taxes, labor trouble and international troubles.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE

Two news dispatches were sent from Moscow, Russia, on the same day recently. Both are interesting to every American, and should be especially interesting to anyone who might have an idea that Communism isn't as bad as it is painted and that Communism is the ideal government of the working man.

One of the stories concerned the beginning of prosecutions under the new labor regulations. The first person put on trial was an employer, named (believe it or not) of being too lenient with one of his workers.

Under the new regulations it is a criminal offense if any employer fails to discharge a worker who is absent or late without legitimate reason. In this particular case, secret police found an absent employee at home in bed. They said his excuse wasn't legitimate, so the employer now faces a prison sentence of six months to three years.

OBSERVATIONS IN MIAMI

The excitement at Pier 34, North River, New York as the 408 foot steamer "Shawnee" of the Clyde-Mallory Lines sailed. The frosty wind in New York harbor which became comparatively mild when the Gulf Stream was reached the first day out.

The tail-end of an Atlantic storm which caused the ship to pitch and roll. The picnic waves. The long faces on the steatite passengers. The attractive Russian woman who disappeared for two days, a picture of misery. The same woman on deck the third morning holding of all things a box of chocolates.

The movies, horse racing, bingo and the perfect enjoyment of lolling in a deck chair with a steamer rug snug around the feet. The friendliness of the passengers. The excellent food exceeded only by the perfect service of Eric, our waiter, No. 29.

Two hours of sightseeing in Jacksonville. The first real glimpse of southern Florida, the shore of Palm Beach which glistened under a tropical sun. The splendid Federal Housing Administration low-rent housing project at Liberty Square, N. W. 14th Avenue and N. W. 62nd Street for 243 Negro families. One of the sights of Miami. The last word in modern cooperative stores at the same project under the expert leadership of Captain James E. Scott, housing manager.

The co-op store of the Miami Consumers Cooperative is in the building for white at N. W. 27th Street and 31st Avenue.

The glorious air and sun. The hundreds of other attractions to lure you back to Miami in 1940.

East Haven High School Notes

Mr. Thomas J. Dodd, recently appointed assistant to the United States Attorney General, has been secured as guest speaker at the annual banquet of the East Haven Teachers' League to be held in New Haven on the evening of Wednesday, February 15. Mr. Dodd has had a most interesting career since his graduation from the Yale Law School a few years ago, having served for a time with the United States Department of Justice preceding his appointment as State Director of the National Youth Administration, from which position he resigned to assume his Washington post. He is well-known as an interesting and inspiring speaker.

General arrangements for the banquet are being made by Miss Miriam G. May, assisted by Miss Loreta Hanley and the executive board of the Teachers' League. Mr. James Maloney will serve as toastmaster. An attendance of more than seventy-five is anticipated.

Grade school pupils will be admitted to a special afternoon performance of the "Mummy and the Mumps" to be given on Tuesday, February 21.

The public schools of the town will be closed on Monday, February 13, in commemoration of Lincoln's birthday.

The business staff and advisers were chosen early this week to assist in the production and direction of the first annual school play, "The Mummy and the Mumps," to be held in the high school auditorium, Thursday evening, February 22.

The business staff, working with Miss Louise Scott, play director, includes the following students: Kenneth Flynn, business manager; Virginia Freer, Jennie Rocco, assistants; Albert Bauer, stage manager; Alex Karmayn, Donald Hennessey, assistants; Henry Crosby, publicity manager; Albert Clark, Frank Leza, art assistants; Joseph Hawtin, Morton Cook, news assistants; Malcolm Douglas, house manager. The play will be directed by Miss Miriam G. May and Mr. Thomas A. Murray, faculty members.

Community Council League Scores Les Artosky Stars As Shirt Factory Loses To Ramblers

Branford Point's Last Quarter Rally Fails, Lost To MIF

Last Place Housatonic League Team To Face Weak Shelton Combine Tomorrow Night And Then Travel To Stratford Tuesday Evening For Game With Strong Stratford Team—Game at 8:30

The Ramblers, last Sunday afternoon in a Community Council League game with the rejuvenated Shirt Factory team at the Community House, were barely able to defeat the last place Shirt Makers combine by the high score of 27-23 in a thrilling battle.

By a fine second half rally the Branford Point team turned what had looked like a rout into a real battle in the Community Council League game with the Malleable Iron boys of the M I F.

The East Haven Blue and Gold high basketballs will face another busy week, tackling two rather formidable Housatonic Valley League foes, meeting Shelton at the East Haven high gym tomorrow night and Stratford at the latter's home court next Tuesday night.

We still maintain that Wallingford, continuing on its way toward the Housatonic Valley League title, will suffer a defeat before its goal is reached, but we also hold that the team's management will annex the championship. The only team in our mind, that could have defeated the Lyman Hallers for the crown is Stratford but the slow start of the Stratfordites saw them beaten by Lang Fernalds charges.

The game with Seymour was the second contest of the season between the two teams. Seymour will be the second contest of the season between the two teams. Seymour will be the second contest of the season between the two teams.

Looking For Fight Max Schmeling... Next Tuesday evening, East Haven will face a tough opponent in meeting up with a strong Stratford combine at the latter's home court.

Three Great Tilts Set Sunday For Community House

The Branford high school basketballers, seem to have found themselves and again on the road to victories. Last Friday they trounced Derby 39 to 23 in a thrilling overtime game.

A hard fighting East Haven high school basketball team handed the strong Hamden high team a sound trouncing Tuesday afternoon by the score of 36 to 15.

The Community Council basketball game resumes play Sunday afternoon at the Community House with the fifth place Ramblers taking on the Branford Point outfit.

The highly-touted Wedet Barbers club did not even an easy time last Sunday afternoon at the Community House in a Community Council League fray, when they were snowed under by the hard fighting Red Men, capturing the contest by the score of 32 to 24 in one of the wildest and wildest battles of the season.

Following this contest the Branford Hockey Club defeated the Fair Haven Hockey club on the Mill Plain Rink in Branford Sunday afternoon by a 5 to 2 score in a thrilling battle from start to finish.

Franz Peter Schubert, who "made the world sing," began the study of Music at the age of 6; at 14 he had composed several songs, compositions and a pianoforte fantasia of 32 closely written pages. He wrote at headlong speed and seldom stopped to blot a line.

Like the housewife who bakes a cake in the heat controlled oven of her range, the banana importer depends on the exact temperature control possible with gas heat to speed the ripening of the green fruit in the quantity required by consumer demand.

WHO PROFITS MOST? Who profits most? It is the man Who gives a boost when'er he can Who's on the square in all that's done And trusts and helps the others on; Who puts his task above mere self And values friends and counts them wealth. Who profits most? Is that your quest? It is the man who serves the best. --Charles Hipping, Newark.

SERVICE AND SACRIFICE

Wrapped in the misty shadows of the early morning, the heights of Coyotepe Hill in Nicaragua rose like gray battlements before the advancing U. S. Marines who were attempting to quell a revolution in that country in 1912.

Entrenched on its lofty summit and believing themselves to be secure, a native insurgent defied the efforts of the marines to oust them from their natural stronghold. In all of Nicaragua's stormy history no attacking force had ever been able to capture this hill from its defenders.

Long before sunrise the marines moved forward to the assault, half circling the steep conical hill with its rows of trenches and its known but unseen entanglements of barbed wire. As they moved forward the base of the hill still lay in semi-darkness while its crest was clearly outlined against a brightening sky.

Soon they were discovered by the rebels and a challenging shot from them was met by a burst of fire from the marines' rifles as they pressed forward toward their objective. As they forged through the undergrowth and climbed steadily up the steep sides of the hill, a barrier of barbed wire completely held up the advance. Then Private Charles H. Durham calmly stood and machine gunned the rebels, cutting and hacking at the wire until the last of its strands had parted.

Durham never faltered until his task was completed. Then, mortally wounded, he slumped to the earth, laying down his life for the success of his comrades and his flag. The bravery of Durham paved the way for a final victorious drive and the capture of the hill. Later a tablet to the memory of the courageous marine and those of his comrades who fell in the assault was unveiled at Boston, Mass.

SAGAS OF THE SKIES

By R. C. Oertel, Manager, Aviation Division, Sales Department, Colonial Esso Marketers

ROY WARNER, veteran American pilot, flying on the Trans-Andean run from Lima to Iquitos in Peru, may be pardoned hereafter if he seeks a "cow-catcher" as standard equipment for South American planes. He is probably the only pilot who ever landed a plane with a cow hanging from its under-carriage. A few years ago, Warner won a United States Air Mail Medal of Honor for saving mail from a flaming plane. Recently, flying for the Peruvian Condor Aviation Company, he was leaving a small field at Chachapoyas in a transport plane, when he found himself in a plane, when he found himself in a field, and Warner, unable to gain altitude fast enough, struck several with the under-carriage. A crash seemed inevitable if he landed, so he drove his plane into the air and set out for Moyobamba, the next scheduled stop. Warner knew his under-carriage had been damaged, and he felt a slight drag on the plane. But he never even suspected the truth--there was a cow tangled in the wreckage of the under-carriage. Poised above Moyobamba, Warner looked around at his crew and a dozen passengers, and ordered safety belts fastened for the landing. It would have been difficult to tell from his actions that he was concerned about landing with a damaged under-carriage. Warner wasted no time, but put the plane down safely with virtually no damage. When the cow was discovered in the under-carriage and it was realized it had been carried the entire distance from Chachapoyas, Warner's feat became all the more remarkable.
