Annual Borough Meeting Called For May Fifth

State Tax Commissioner Audit May Be Seen At Tax Collector's Office.

Notice has been given by R. Edwin Maddern, Warden of the Borough of Branford that all legal voters of the Boroughs have been called to meet for an annual meeting in the town hall on May 5th at 8 o'clock.

The purpose of the meeting is to act upon the reports of the Warden, Burgesses, Clerk and Treasurer.

Also to act upon the recommendations of the Warden and Burgesses for the budget for the current year ending May 1st and to lay a borough tax on the Borough grand list of 1940.

The meeting is likewise called to authorize the treasurer to borrow whatever money may be necessary to pay running expenses.

H. V. Young, Borough Clerk announces that the audit furnished by the state tax commissioner is on file in the tax collector's office in the town hall, and is open for public inspection.

Meeting Tonight Will Formulate Initial Steps

Plans for a Taxpayers' Association of Branford gets underway with a first committee meeting tonight.

The following citizens, all members of the Associated Business of Branford form the original committee: Reginald S. Baldwin, chairman; Charles Close, Norman V. Lamb, L. E. Rice, Solly Donadio, Mrs. S. A. Petrillo Mrs. Lewis Doolittle and Mrs. Terry Morehouse.

Tonight this committee will select about 25 new members selected from among the town taxpayers with a view to non-political but geographical distribution.

At a later date following the first steps of organization a mass meeting will be called to hear the purpose of the proposed organization and to this meeting all interested will be invited.

Major H. Crocker Turns Command To Lieut. Col.

Thursday evening was an eventful date for Company B, Conn. State Guard marking its return to the Second Battalion within which it was originally organized.

Major Hayden Crocker of the Fifth Battalion officially turned over the command of Co. B to Lieut. Col. Chas. E. Lockhart the Commanding Officer of the Second Battalion.

Sculpture Prize Comes To Women Of Stony Creek

Mrs. Anna D. Donaldson has been given the First Award for sculpture by the Fontainebleau Alumni Association, at their annual exhibition now showing at the National Arts Club, 20 Gramercy Park South, New York City. The award was given for her portrait head titled, Oscar, Blind Boy.

Mrs. Donaldson makes her home a studio in New York City.

Mrs. Donaldson, who's professional name is Anne Dunbar, is a graduate of the Fontainebleau School of Fine Arts, Fontainebleau, France. The school is now being carried on at Mount Holyoke College, Mount Holyoke, Mass., for the duration of the war.

The school was formerly run by the French Government as a gesture of friendship with the United States. It is hoped that the school will return to France in the near future.

CCC Enrollment Starts May 20th

The Welfare Department in the town hall is now accepting applications for the next enrollment period which will be conducted from May 20th to May 31st. Private employers in this State are constantly demanding the services of young men who have served at least six months in the CCC.

Experience shows that most of the boys who have enrolled in CCC Camp have profited by the training and supervision which they received.

The Civilian Conservation Corps was created on April 5, 1933 to perform distinctly civilian tasks of employment and to advance a nationwide program for the conservation and development of such vital physical resources as timber and top soil.

Interest Shown In Mobilization Of Scout Work

A dinner meeting of the Branford District Committee of Boy Scouts was held on Wednesday evening at the Oasis. Considerable satisfaction was felt for the excellent results which are being achieved and the great interest shown by all.

As Scouting aims to be of service to the community and a reserve of resourceful leadership in times of distress the troops of this area are busy training for mobilization and for disaster service. Each of the troops is busy constructing and equipping a trailer for first aid, signaling or just plain hard work service.

Troop 1 of Short Beach leads, having already completed three trailers, one for each of these services.

The plans are that very shortly there shall be a Mobilization at the local points when the troops are organized.

Efforts are now being made for a review of these troops and equipment to be held in Branford under the auspices of Company B, Conn. State Guard at which time it is hoped to have guests representing the Red Cross, Quinipiac Council, Boy Scouts of America, The local Police and Fire Chiefs and representatives of the State Police, all of which bodies have inventoried Boy Scouts as potential reserve material.

pheasants and many small species such as the favorites of the wren and warbler families.

Should your outdoor attention be in snakes and reptiles there are some of those too, one a seven foot black given by Marshall Richards and captured a few years ago in Cedar Street swamp.

Not everyone is engaged in birds or snake hunting but one cannot live along the coast and not have some curiosity about the products of the sea and at the library there are many shells of interest. Again, they cannot be compared to the Peabody collection but there is bound to be something in the cases you never saw before.

Star fish, a collection of common round clams from Stony Creek and presented by Mrs. William Page, are among the exhibits.

Rev. H. W. Winkley donated many specimens. Little Littorinella are safely housed in tiny bottles and mussels are there from Branford Point.

If you are one of those amateur naturalist who cannot distinguish a red-throated loon from a common loon or a black-throated loon. Go to the library.

If your problem is to differentiate between the order of herons, storks and ibises ask to see the bird collection in the Blackstone Library.

In early summer when warblers, tanagers and grosbeak are looking for and settling in warm weather quarters and you find your self, a non-professional student, confused when a neighbor lifts an eyebrow and speaks of a zamelodia ludoviciana or cardinalis then is the time to take advantage of the display in the library museum if you would be skilled in natural history.

Do not go expecting to find a Peabody museum but you will see eagles, owls, pheasants, black crowned night heron, English

Arrowheads, Birds And China Attract Others To Investigate Collections—Books On The Subject Are Also Available.

On the novelty side is the albino lobster, the sea-horse and—oh! dozens.

The best part of a room is devoted to Indian lore. True, some arrowpoints, beads, etc., came from the far west but for the most part the collection is local, found and given by local people.

So we suggest that some day soon you step into the library, see the pictures by Isabella Ruth Doerfler of Branford historical homes, view the ancient furniture, Confederate money, Egyptian ware and guns used to defend the town.

At the desk, on your way out you might ask for a book or two on Indian lore, birds, snakes or shellfish, and settle down to a truly adventurous summer for there are arrowheads still to be uncovered, star-fish to go after and birds to house and feed.

Miss Cirigliano Wed Yesterday To V. Cassella

Wednesday morning in St. Mary's church Miss Marie Joan Cirigliano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cirigliano of 27 Meadow Street, became the bride of Mr. Vincent Cassella, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Cassella of New Haven. The altar was decorated with white carnations. James E. Cosgrove was vocal soloist, accompanied by Mrs. J. J. Collins, organist.

The bride escorted to the altar by her father, wore a gown of white lace and marquisette with a sweetheart neckline and short puffed sleeves, long circular train of marquisette. She carried a show-neck bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis and wore white lace mitts. Her veil hung from a crystal glazed orange blossom wreath.

The maid of honor, Miss Nilda Cirle, of New York City, cousin of the bride, wore a gown of powder blue with lace bodice and net skirt.

Townies Plaster New Haven Pros In Season's Initial Clash 17-8

Joe Duell's timely four for five hitting and Paul Ward's lusty clouts coupled with Bob Gillette's homerun and surprising Branford pitching plus the collapse of a highly touted New Haven Pro nine team returned to the town of Branford for the first time since last fall when the Red Sox belted four New Haven pitchers to score a total of 17 runs on 15 hits while the Pros reached four Branford hurlers nine hits and eight runs at Hamner Field last Sunday.

Others stars who looked particularly impressive were captain Bob Bradley, Willie Prote, Czapielki, Naimo and Lipovich. Ward, Derico, Connolly and Blake were impressive for the visitors until Pete Naimo entered the game in the sixth inning and proceeded to stonewall the show with his hard hitting and sensational base running.

For the smaller investor who wants to buy a Government Bond on an easy payment plan, the post office will have a new series of Postal Savings Stamps, at 10c 25c, 50c, $1, and $5. Each purchaser of any Savings Stamp higher than 10c will be given, free of charge, an attractive pocket album in which to paste his stamps until he has enough to buy a $25 bond or one of higher denomination.

The cover design of the albums is in color, featuring a United States battleship and an eagle bearing the American flag. On the back cover is a painting of the Minute Man statue by Daniel Chester French, which symbolizes the American citizen ever alert in defense of his country.

Secretary Morgenthau said that even a boy or girl who saved 10c to buy a Savings Stamp would help the country. He added that "you can safeguard your own money and your future while helping the national defense, by buying United States Savings Bonds now."

Postmaster General Frank C. Walker, in a letter to Postmaster throughout the country, said that the help of local postmasters would be "a real service to the country." He transmitted the thanks of the Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau for the help that local postmasters had already given in the sale of United States securities, and also Mr. Morgenthau's thanks in advance "for the co-operation which he knows you will give to this new effort."

The new Defense Savings Bond is similar to the familiar "Baby Bond", of which more than five billion dollars worth have been bought by more than two and a half million Americans since 1935. A Defense Bond may be purchased May 1, or thereafter $1.75. In ten years, this bond will be worth $25.00. This is an increase of 33 1/3 per cent, equal to an annual interest return of 2.9 per cent, compounded semi-annually.

IVAN DMITRI, celebrated New York photographer whose color "shots" have made photographic history, will head a photographic expedition to scenic Jasper National Park in the Canadian Rockies in June.

The camera fan trip, sponsored by Popular Photography Magazine in cooperation with Canadian National Railways, will provide lens enthusiasts with the opportunity of a lifetime in making photos in a veritable empire of virgin Canadian Rocky Mountain loveliness.

Director Warns Against Change In Addresses

Warning to all registrants under the Selective Training and Service Act that they must notify their local boards promptly of any change of address or become liable to severe penalties, was given today by Colonel Ernest L. Averill, State Director of Selective Service.

It is the duty of every registrant to keep his local board advised at all times of the address at which mail will reach him without delay, the Director pointed out. He cited that Selective Service Regulations, which are prescribed by the Act, provide that any registrant who fails to conform to them shall be liable to fine and imprisonment under Section 11 of the Selective Training and Service Act.

Legal Notice

Warning of Annual Borough Meeting

Notice is hereby given to all the legal voters of the Borough of Branford, that the Annual Meeting of said Borough will be held at the Town Hall in said Borough on May 5th, 1941 at 7 o'clock P. M.

Dated at Branford, Conn., this 15th day of April, 1941.

R. Edwin Maddern Warden, Borough of Branford

Notice Taxpayers Borough of Branford, Section 182c of the General Statutes:

"The report of any audit furnished by the state tax commissioner shall be included in detail in the annual report of such municipality, and the Borough Clerk shall cause to be published a legal notice in a newspaper having a circulation in such municipality, that such report is on file in his office for public inspection, within one week after receiving such report."

Pursuant to the foregoing this report is on file in the Tax Collector's Office in the Town Hall.

lent in cases where it is apparent there has been no willful intent to violate the law. Nevertheless he stressed, investigation of such cases has taken up much valuable time of local boards of Department of Justice agents which should be devoted to urgent work for National Defense.

To relieve this situation, and also to protect registrants who do not willfully try to violate the law, Director Averill has asked all local boards to use all means of investigation at their disposal before reporting apparent cases of delinquency to the Department of Justice.

1. Communicate with "Person who will always know" the registrant's address whom he named on his registration card; 2. Communicate with his employer as named on his registration card.

Loudly we hail JELLIED DISHES for the main course in the meal

Dorothy Greig WHEN the first warm sunny days of the new season burst upon us, that's the time to come out of the kitchen, mother, and get your share of sniffling the beautiful flowers. A jellied dish is the way to manage it.

Jellied Shrimp and Vegetables in a star shaped mold is an inviting dish for a warm day.

will jelly our chicken, fish or meat dish, tuck it away in the refrigerator and forget it. Then at meal time, just open a can or two of soup, add an equal quantity of water, heat and serve it as hot first course to the meal—to be followed by our jellied meat dish. A suggestion for just such a hearty jellied main course dish is this one. It is filled thick with shrimp and cool crunchy pieces of celery and cucumber, all in lively flavored tomato jelly.

—the sort of dish we take real pride in serving.

- Jellied Ham-Chicken Loaf 2 tablespoons cold water 1 tablespoon gelatine 1 can condensed consommé 1/2 Madrilone 3 tablespoons lemon juice 2 cups ground cooked ham 1 cup ground chicken 1/2 tablespoons mayonnaise 1/2 teaspoon salt 1 pinch pepper 2 eggs (hard-cooked) Sprinkle the gelatine on the cold water and let soak for at least 5 minutes. Then dissolve with the hot consommé Madrilone and add the lemon juice. Pour 3-4 tablespoons of this jelly in the bottom of a loaf pan (7 1/2 x 3 1/2 x 3 1/2) and let it partially set, then garnish with rings of stuffed olives, pineapple or hard-cooked egg slices and set aside until firm. When the remaining consommé Madrilone is partially set add the ground ham, ground chicken, mayonnaise, salt and pepper and mix thoroughly. Put 1/2 of meat mixture in the bottom of the loaf pan, put in the three hard-cooked eggs, arranging end to end through the center of the loaf. Cover with the remaining meat mixture and put into the refrigerator until set. Turn out on cold platter and garnish with greens. Serves 8-8.
