Speech Machine Demonstrations Attracts Crowd

by William Blunt

A very well attended lecture was given on Tuesday evening, January 27, at Woolsey Hall under the auspices of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. Dr. Perrine of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, assisted by Miss Swensen as demonstrator, described in detail the workings of the Voder machine which manufactures artificial speech.

He brought out the fact that the first attempt to imitate speech was made in 1780 with little success. Reference was also made to the fact that the telegraph was invented to transmit messages by means of an arbitrarily established code and that it was not until Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone that actual speech itself was transmitted over wires by the use of electricity.

Today, use is made of newly developed electronic tubes similar to those in our radios. These tubes by means of a manually operated potentiometer can be made to oscillate at varying frequencies and modulated in such a way that the resulting effect through the loud speaker sounds very similar to human speech. Since all language

DEFENSE BONDS SALES

Defense Bonds amounting to $10,825, were sold this week by the Branford Federal Savings and Loan Association. Among the purchasers were Pawson Tribe, I. O. R. M. $100; St. John the Baptist Society $500; Roma Society $500. Lodge 102 Croation Fraternal Union of America $1,000; and John Baker $500.

Health Officer Speaks On Duty Of His Office

Dr. Arthur S. McQueen of Montwese Street was the speaker at the meeting of the Branford Rotary Club Monday noon which was attended by 36 including Dr. James Murphy of Middletown and Arthur E. Hall of New Haven. He used as his subject, "Health and Sanitation Problems in Branford."

He told of the progress which has been made during his 24 years as health officer in this town, in clearing unsanitary spots where the sewage disposal was faulty, especially along the shore. He cited several specific cases where owners were forced to stop polluting streams and the water supply. For several years there have been practically no cases of diphtheria in town, this being mainly due to the diphtheria immunization which has been given to the school children.

He also pointed out the value of a health certificate which is required for a pupil to return to school after an illness. Several mild cases of scarlet fever are thus discovered and epidemics averted.

Dr. McQueen said that the ordinances passed at the town meeting in December are going to promote better health conditions through the regulation of sewage disposal, piggeries and the transportation of garbage.

Funeral Sunday For Chas. Geier

Charles Geier of West Main Street died suddenly at 10 o'clock Friday as the result of a heart attack. He was 65 years of age.

He was born in New Haven and had lived in Branford for the last 35 years. For some years he conducted a bakery route and had recently been janitor of the Canoe Brook School. He was a member of the Order of 55 and of the M. P. Rice Hose Company.

He is survived by his wife, Annie Sondergeld; one son, Roland F., of Branford; one daughter, Mrs. Ernest Burnett of Centerbrook; a brother, Fred, of New Haven; and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 3 from the funeral home of W. S. Clancy and Sons, Bearers were Fred Geier, Jr., of New Haven, W. Claude Stannard of Branford, Herman Duke of West Haven, Edward Burr of Bridgeport, John Iverson of Hamden and Roland Sondergeld of New Haven. Rev. Frederic R. Murray, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, officiated. Burial was in Center Cemetery.

450 BOOKS RECEIVED FOR SERVICE BOYS

About 450 books have been delivered to the library for later distribution to camp libraries for use by men in service. All kinds and types of books are needed to equip U. S. O. reading rooms. Charles N. Baxter is regional director of the collection.

SECOND LECTURE

The second in a series of lectures on social welfare and defense work will be held February 3 at 3 P. M. in the library and given by the Red Cross for any one interested. Miss Eleanor Little, formerly state emergency relief administrator will speak on "Public Welfare in Connecticut."

Miss Little is a member of the Women's Division of the State Defense Council. Anyone interested in defense is invited.

Rush For Birth Records Keeps "Win" Occupied

Perhaps you aren't who you are at all or perhaps you weren't born on the date you have been celebrating all these years. Such matters have come to light in recent months when registrar of vital statistics Winfield Morgan and his assistant, Miss Hazel Van Wie, started handing out copies of birth certificates.

Federal requirements for certain service and that all persons working in defense plants must be citizens of the United States has resulted in a record-breaking number of birth certificates issued.

One of the factors in the big rush is that all persons "using coastal waters" working or visiting waterfront property, must produce their birth certificates before identification papers will be made out.

So if you see a line in front of the town hall do not be deceived that they are persons offering to sand the roads. They may just be clam diggers asking for birth certificates.

March Of Dimes Response Good

The infantile paralysis drive or "March of Dimes" is under way. Coin receptacles and Washing Wells have been placed about town.

Due to delay in receiving supplies Pilgrim Brotherhood met in the until next Saturday.

Chairman Reginald S. Baldwin points out that if every grown up in town was to only give a dime and "every child" penny, the result would be several hundred dollars and would inflict no hardship on anyone. He further states with two cases in our midst it behooves the townspeople to put their shoulders to the wheel and push this very worthy cause across. The pre-campaign response has been very good so far and it is anticipated the week will bring a very good response from all.

The following letter, drafted by John Clark, 9 Wilford Ave. has been sent out with sample checks asking that they be signed as donations, and returned.

Since our entry into the war the life of every American has been changed drastically. We spend a goodly percentage of our time listening, discussing and thinking of war, priorities, strategies, restrictions, rationing and the like. The daily paper and family radio are subjected to usage never dreamed of before. We are earnestly trying to live up to our reputation as an intelligent, clear thinking, wide-awake nation.

However, more than one war is

REGISTRATION DAY FOR LOCAL BOARD SET FOR FEB. 16th

The proclamation of the President of the United States issued January 5, amending the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 requires all male citizens and other male persons residing in the United States who were born on or after February 17, 1897 and on or before December 31, 1921 to present themselves to a duly designated registration official on February 16 between the hours of 7 A. M. to 9 P. M. Eastern Standard Time (Except persons already registered).

Clerk of the Draft Board, Robert Hartman announces that Branford court room and the lower hall in the East Haven Town hall will be used February 16, as official registration points.

Members of the armed forces need not register. However, upon discharge they must present themselves for registration.

MILK EVERY OTHER DAY

The Dairy Industry of Connecticut has announced that beginning tomorrow milk deliveries will be made every other day.

This emergency delivery schedule has been adopted by the milk industry for the purpose curtailing truck travel and making tires and equipment give longest possible service.

Spotter Service Has 250 Listed As Volunteers

Nearly 250 Observers of the Aircraft Warning Service have been notified of new schedules effective February 2nd. Under the new arrangements, High School students under the direction of Deputy Chief Observer Raymond E. Pinkham, will man the Observation Post from 6 to 9 in the morning and from 3 to 6 in the afternoon on week days. On Saturday and Sunday they will work only from 6 to 8 in the morning.

This permits Mrs. Flanders Smith, Deputy Chief for the Women's Section, to divide the remaining daytime hours into two hour assignments, during which the women will work in pairs, instead of with High School students as heretofore. Mrs. Smith is looking ahead to the school summer vacation, when many High School boys will doubtless be employed on farms and elsewhere, and the women will have to man the Observation Post throughout the entire day. It is felt that the reduction of the assignments from three to two hours will bring in sufficient additional volunteers to meet this situation when it arises.

The men who operate under the direction of Deputy Chief Observer Irwin B. Morton, Frederick P. Morton and W. Flanders Smith, will continue to carry the burden of the night-time assignments which they have handled so ably already.

A new form of identification card is being prepared for observers. This special card is being arranged so that any person who may happen to be both an observer and a worker under the local Defense

Observers Hunt Warm Clothing

Grandpa's (and Grandma's) fleece-lined union suits are being resurrected these days. Long red flannels, too! Reason? The same reason that silk stockings have gone into the discard and that men's double-breasted coats will soon be taboo—the war, of course.

To the men and women patrolling the windswept beach or hill-top, with eyes cast aloft and ears attuned to catch the throb of airplane motors the "longies" are a big comfort—really a necessity.

If you have, or know where you can get a nice warm union suit, and you yourself are not enrolled in the Aircraft Warning Service, under the direction of Robert Gate, which now operates with 165 others observation posts throughout the state on a twenty-four hour basis, you will be helping national defense, if you notify American Legion headquarters that such garments are available. The Legion which has organized the Warning Service in Connecticut will see that your garments are distributed to observers.

Hunting boots, windbreakers and other warm clothing of like nature are all welcomed. "The men and women spotters of Connecticut are doing an important job," says Arthur Connell, State Commander of the American Legion, "a job that is vital to our protection but which carries with it little glory and far too little recognition. To some of these spotters warm clothing would be welcome and no doubt would be forthcoming promptly if people generally only knew their requirements."

Have you a union suit tucked away somewhere in your home

MRS. BALLOU INJURED

Following an automobile accident Tuesday at 8:30 a. m., just east of Plant's bridge in West Main street, Mrs. Raymond Ballou of Alps Road, was removed to Grace hospital with a fractured rib, and bruised chin and right hand. The other car was driven by Edward D. Collier, 43, of 121 Beacon avenue, New Haven, who received laceration of the chin, right hand and right knee. Patrolmen Mullen and Hill investigated.

Nationals Must Be Identified At Post Office

Attorney General Francis Biddle has announced new regulations affecting the conduct of German, Italian and Japanese nationals throughout continental United States.

The new regulations, issued under authority of the Presidential proclamation of Jan. 14, 1942, relating to alien enemies, require all German, Italian and Japanese aliens to apply at the nearest first or second class, or county seat, post office, for a Certificate of Identification. The requirement applies to all enemy nationals 14 years of age or over who have not yet taken the oath of allegiance before a Federal Judge, the final step in acquiring American citizenship.

The identification program, which will affect approximately 1,100,000 German, Italian and Japanese non-citizens, requires filing applications at the nearest first or second class, or county seat, post office, between February 9 and February 23.

Failure to comply with the new regulations may be punished by severe penalties, including possible internment of the enemy alien for the duration of the war.

The regulations require enemy aliens, in applying for identification certificates, to provide a photograph of themselves (to be attached to the certificate).

CONNECTICUT PLAN RECEIVES 136 NEW APPLICANTS HERE

During the recent re-representation of the non-profit Connecticut Plan for Hospital Care to employees of the Malleable Iron Fittings Company in Branford, 136 new applications were received, according to Charles F. Dalley, field manager of the Plan. This makes a total of 513 employees of the company now subscribing to the plan, he said, or 69 per cent of the firm's personnel.

Benefits for new applicants will begin on March 1. Including family members enrolled by subscribers, a total of approximately 1250 persons are now included in the M. I. F. Company group, Mr. Dalley estimated.

Employees wishing any further information on the Plan should contact Mr. Henry Holsenbeck of the employment office.

Mr. Dalley reported that during the re-representation he and William Wallace, field representative, heard from many employees who had previously enrolled and had had occasion to use the Plan. All expressed pleasure with the lack of red tape involved in the handling of their cases, he said.

Plant Committee Reports On Work Among Factories

Mr. T. F. Hammer, who has been appointed Chairman of the Plant Protection Committee of the Branford Defense Council reports the following activities as having taken place in this concern:

Representatives from most of the factories in Branford have attended the course which is being run in New Haven, and which is being given especially for training industrialists as to how to act in an emergency.

gather with Maurili Montelius, The Nutmeg Crucible Steel Company is represented by Mario Napolian, the Branford Printing Company by Mr. Charles Messner.

At the conclusion of the Industrial school course a committee will be appointed to serve under Mr. Hammer, and will meet frequently in order that the program recommended by the National Defense Council will be executed. This program

The council urges anyone with questions or services to offer bring them there during office hours.

Please notify this office if you are changed from one committee to another, change in hours, or data when training courses are finished so that volunteer records may be complete.

Anyone who has not filled out an enrollment blank is asked to visit the council room and do so.

WASTE AT THE WAIST
An executive of Stern Brothers, New York, suggests this reason why men should conserve wool by directing their tailors to make no more double-breasted suits:

"Yardage saved in eliminating the front overlap in all the men's double-breasted suits manufactured annually in this country would be sufficient for 500,000 additional single-breasted suits.

Now it's the tailor's turn to be patriotic. They have decided to conserve cloth, or some of them reportedly have, by making men's suits without vests.

But some men will protest that they need their vest and particularly their vest pockets to carry their pens and pencils, key cases, card cases, watches, knives, and other necessities which are essential to men in uniform.

One might suggest that he could do more readily without double-breasted suits.

At this point a few males may become apprehensive of losing both the vest and that extra thickness in the coat. Knowing the practicalities of coat buttons, they may envisage themselves exposing their vests to the winter wind.

So, how about a compromise? Possibly it could be arranged to have vests with the single-breasted suits and no vests with the double-breasted suits. That would keep too much cloth from going to waste at the waist.

SMALL BUSINESS: What to do about small business always gets a rise at any gathering around town. There's sure to be someone present who is connected with the fifteen-odd Government agencies which have something more or less to do with small business. Floyd B. Otium, small business consultant, pulls no punches when he sums up the situation by saying, "I think the Government is oversteering, for it is the business community that has the responsibility of adjusting the program." He said that small business has to be put on a par with the large business in the allocation of materials. Mr. Nelson anticipated that one of his first acts will be to coordinate the scattered efforts to aid small business and work out a plan to insure its survival.

OUR RISING SUN

"Bragging won't scare the enemy to death; bullying won't do it; boasting of our great mass production capacity is meaningless unless we really mass-produce for war."

Voicing those opinions in a recent speech, Mr. Walter B. Weisenburger, executive vice-president of the National Association of Manufacturers, declared that the successful prosecution of the war will take "all the organization talent and experience that America can muster to integrate and speed production. . . . When the President's newest program reaches industry in the form of orders and specifications, it will require at least 60 per cent of all the factory output."

The job is so huge that it will demand complete co-operation from everyone charged with doing it. As Mr. Weisenburger pointed out, "This is no time to fight out local domestic battles, or to retrace the traditional issues between capital and labor, or to continue in any guise the effort to master the business system. This is a time for all of us to abandon 'business as usual,' 'politics as usual,' and 'reform as usual,' and as a truly united and inspired nation to take up the supreme job of waging war."

WORK DOES IT

"I don't mean discipline for unruly boys and girls who ought to be spanked and sent to bed supperless (and there are plenty of them). I mean discipline for ourselves. We rejoice in the fact that we are a free people, that far from being oppressed by our government we are free people, that far from being oppressed by our government we are free people, that far from being oppressed by our government we are free people."

DISCIPLINE

All of this is ours because we live in this country. We are not a slave race. We are not a subject race. To some extent this independent life units us for the discipline that must be had in war time. We do not like to have our freedom of movement taken away from us. We do not like to have our freedom of movement taken away from us. We do not like to have our freedom of movement taken away from us.

Relax your body completely—your scalp, your face, your neck, your shoulders. By the time you reach your living room you may be sound asleep.

Many people use the ancient method of the Chinese, the "pleasant" counting method. Over counting, counting over. You've made yourself physically comfortable and relaxed, think pleasant thoughts.

There are also certain mechanical helpers such as ear plugs, if there is a noise that bothers you. Or use a black sock or cloth if the light creeps in through the shutters. Eyeglasses are especially helpful. There are also mechanical devices that you can use to help you relax.

Do not try to sleep at all. Do not think about anything. Do not think about anything. Do not think about anything.

Many people use the ancient method of the Chinese, the "pleasant" counting method. Over counting, counting over. You've made yourself physically comfortable and relaxed, think pleasant thoughts.

From the press and radio you have heard all the details. We will not recount them. Remember, fifty per cent of the total amount raised in Branford remains here to fight this dread disease. Records indicate that our town has already received more back in benefits than has ever been contributed, so this becomes a real "home town" campaign. At the present time our own town is now afflicted with two cases of this dread disease.

INDIAN NECK

Registrant Must Choose Address For Local Board

A Selective Service registrant, at the forthcoming February 16th registration of men in the military service age bracket of 20 to 45 years old, must now choose one place of residence to designate as his place of residence to designate the Local Board that always will have jurisdiction over him. Colonel Ernest L. Averill, State Director of Selective Service for Connecticut, is the Director emphasized, however, that no transient address should be recorded and that Selective Service regulations prohibit any interference or dictation by a registrant when he chooses his place of residence.

"It is the intent of the law and the purpose of Selective Service regulations," Director Averill asserted, "that each man be registered at his home address and be subject to call to fill quotas from that local board. That is a basic principle of democratic procedure and I expect every Selective Service registrant in the State of Connecticut to adhere strictly to it."

Registration cards to be used on February 16th will contain a space for the registrant to list his place of residence. In the event that he has more than one place, he is required to list his own choice as his place of residence.

In addition, the registration card will have space for recording a mail address. This may be the same as the place of residence or it may be another address where the registrant will receive his mail more readily.

Selective Service Regulations also require each registrant to describe the place of his residence so that its location may be determined from its description. A resident who lives on an RFD route which goes through two states will be required to indicate the location of his residence, rather than the mailing address. For this reason, and because some registrants may be able to receive mail more readily at an address other than their residence, the registration card has spaces for both addresses.

A description of the place of residence of the registrant, the Director stressed, will need and for all time determine the local board that will have jurisdiction over the registrant. The mailing address, however, can be changed when necessary, and local boards will send their notices to the mailing address without regard to place of residence.

While the mailing address is subject to change whenever the registrant moves, the Director pointed out, registrants are instructed to change the registration card whenever the registrant moves. He designated his place of residence, he irrevocably designates the local board which will have continuous jurisdiction over him.

EDITORIAL

Mr. Townsend, last Wednesday, presented slides in the junior high students. The slides were sent by the association of Manufacturers. They gave the numbers of modern appliances used in the modern home of a person in the U. S., Russia, Germany, Bulgaria, England, etc. A comparison that was quite amazing was the fact that in Bulgaria there is one car for every 1949 people, and in the U. S. 4 cars for every five people. It is estimated that American people spend close to $10,000,000,000 for recreation and amusement.

All Junior high examinations will be given in the home rooms. Because of the conflicts with the drawing schedule, Room 106 will be used for the mathematics examination period, 8th grade Language will be given in 201.

The Junior High Home Economics class which is under the direction of Mrs. Jacoby has completed various garments such as dresses, aprons, etc. The girls will concentrate on cooking for the rest of the year.

A Junior and senior high rally was held in the auditorium last Friday afternoon. The students participated in the practice of cheers and the singing of the Alma Mater. The group was led by the high school cheer leaders. Speeches were given by Coach John Knecht, Mr. Carr and Mr. Townsend. Basketball players were cheered and taken up in a splendid job this year. The rally was held previous to a game between East Haven and Branford.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Wm. Pliankham, Assistant Editor of a meeting of the Student Council was called to order Monday in Room 202. The main objective was to launch a campaign for old paper, magazines, rubber articles and all kinds of scrap metal. Students are urged to bring these articles to their classrooms. Next Tuesday is the day for collecting. All scrap metal accept this job as a patriotic duty!

THE RED CROSS

The Red Cross needs our help. It is the most important organization ever known. Probably when we give up our old paper, magazines, rubber articles and all kinds of scrap metal, we can help it. We can help our nation in this fight for democracy.

Clubs, organizations and individuals are all helping. Why aren't you? After all, we're all Americans! Mrs. Daniels gave a most interesting talk on Friday. She displayed different articles such as knitted blankets, sweaters, mittens, bonnets, knitted caps, wooden dresses, knitted hats, scarves, oshibori, wooden pins and toys.

Speech Machine

Continued from page one sounds are fundamentally only frequencies. It makes no difference what language is used in the machine. It does in English and also in song - even in a duet with Mr. Roosevelt who is tenor in the telephone club.

Mrs. Swenson is the pioneer of 25 young ladies who are able to manipulate the apparatus, consisting of a keyboard, a few levers operated by the left hand and an induction pedal operated by one foot.

The Telephone Research Laboratory anticipates perfection of a machine which will translate speech into electrical control which in turn will manufacture speech again similar to the way it was manufactured so ably by Mrs. Swenson.

Dr. Perrin demonstrated the speech vowel and consonant primarily combinations of different frequency bands; also that through manual control these frequencies can be reproduced through speech.

The Bell Laboratories anticipate the perfection of an electrical apparatus which will utilize this principle in transmission of human speech over wire telephone lines.

Development of an apparatus of this type would be of tremendous economic significance in that a number of phone conversations could be transmitted over the same wires simultaneously, similar to transmittal of telegraph messages today.
