Storm Tuesday Reaches Near '38 High Mark

Residents near Granite Bay moved from their homes early Wednesday morning.

Considerable damage was done to the roadway in front of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Williams in Indian Neck, the dock at the Wharf, property of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Bradley in Stony Creek was damaged and numerous trees were broken off close to the ground including an old maple tree in front of the First Baptist Church.

Dimout Rules Effect Motor Travel Here

In cooperation with the Highway Safety Commission, Safety Program, Chief Christian G. Woehrl of the Branford Police Department, requests that pedestrians, motor vehicle operators and bicycle riders pay strict attention to the laws governing them. The purpose is to make this a safe place in which to live and work.

"Dimout regulations and recently enacted speed restrictions in the interests of the war effort have added greatly to the duties of the local Police. We appreciate the splendid cooperation of the many motorists and pedestrians, who, observe the speed and travel regulations on our highways. Present conditions, however, impose upon Police Officials' of Municipalities the necessity of strict enforcement of these regulations. Patrolmen have been instructed to pay close attention to traffic and to strictly enforce all laws pertaining to pedestrian and motor vehicle travel. Laxity in enforcement prompts many persons to take chances which often result in permanent injuries or fatalities.

"The success of our war effort depends upon every man, woman and child. Public Safety demands that every precaution be taken to safeguard their lives. You can do your part by complying with these laws and regulations."

THE HOME FRONT

On the Home Front this winter our morale is beginning to be put to the test by discomforts and restrictions we must undergo for the sake of our single war effort.

Nationwide gasoline rationing to save our precious rubber supply is one of these minor inconveniences.

cutting down all forms of travel by auto, bus, railway—we will not do away with overcrowding, but we lessen a danger far more important to our national security.

And speaking of the holiday season, civilians can help some of the men in our Armed Forces to enjoy a portion of the holiday season with their families by re-training from travel unless it is essential.

"The United States, which means every one of us," Mr. Nelson said, "is engaged in a fight to the death against the Axis powers. There is no place for Americans in Japan's 'new order'."

Every U. S. citizen recognizes the truth in these words. Every loyal American knows that anything that stands in the way of maximum effort on the part of everyone—particularly war workers—is a threat to our country and our very existence.

Yet, the number of strikes in our war industries has been mounting steadily since Pearl Harbor. Twenty-seven in January, fifty in February, sixty-six in March, ninety-one in April, one hundred forty-four in May, one hundred ninety-two in June, and two hundred twenty-two in July.

During all these months, when everyone should have been doing everything possible to produce to the maximum of his ability over eight thousand men were involved in strikes and more than nine million valuable man-hours were lost to our war production program.

WASHINGTON SNAPSHOTS

There is an obvious rush on foot to palm three "must" bills through before the next Congress convenes in January.

The blanket authority measure would give the President authority to: (a) suspend any or all tariffs which in effect would permit the unhampered flow of goods into and out of the country;

In certain quarters it is said that such sweeping powers will no longer be granted, that Congress will seek to split out legislation just what it and what is not to be done.

The new Congress already is shaping plans for a series of sweeping examinations of every phase of domestic war activity.

Chief Donald M. Nelson of WPB has ordered plane production doubled within a year and has delegated responsibility for seeing that this job is done to WPB Vice Chairman Wilson, the "Czar" of aircraft output.

Chief of these measures is the Tolson-Kilgore-Pepper bill to create the Office of War Mobilization, which would completely reorganize existing war agencies and set up an office under a director who would have charge of four-man divisions that would replace existing agencies.

December 15—last day to use ration stamp No. 9.

Anyone over 15 years of age who has no sugar book should make application immediately in order to secure coupons.

Those who have not done so are asked to call for fuel oil coupons as soon as possible.

There's nothing mysterious about the inspection service which goes into effect with mileage rationing, though some motorists are a little inclined to view the inspection with suspicion.

All "B" coupons became worthless on December 1, 1942 now the owner of any truck or taxicab must use the new "C" coupons.

Office hours at the Branford Rationing Office are from 8:30 a.m. until 9:00 a.m. Monday and Friday evenings.

Yankee Kitchen Recipes Listen Mondays thru Fridays at 215 P. M.—Yankee Network

The Yankee Kitchen is here to bring you new recipes, new ideas about how to fix inexpensive dishes, party foods, and all sorts of suggestions, tips and hints to bring you sometimes, recipes so old that they may have been forgotten.

Because food is fun and the cooking is deliciously a fun fun. Today when meat is so expensive, any time we cook it, we want to do something very different and another lamb.

Baked Ham with Cider First prepare your ham the usual way by scoring the fat, brushing it with slightly beaten egg and then a cup of sweet apple cider. In the middle, place it in the baking pan, and pour into the pan, two cups of sweet apple cider and the ham bakes, baste it every 15 or 20 minutes. It will be delicious and have a wonderful dark brown glaze when it is done.

Punch holes every three or four inches in your lamb with a paring knife, and insert slices of onion or cloves of garlic in the holes. As the lamb roasts, the onion will be soft and heavy; and you advise basting the lamb with brown sugar and bacon or little sausages over the lamb. When they become too dark or burn, eat them.

Tomato and Egg White Mousse Make large, ripe tomatoes, wash and remove seeds. Slice into slices of tomatoes slightly and put in a colander.

Our Own Christmas Miracle

By Kathleen Norris

A small hot crowded kitchen a woman busy with cooking and washing and the care of noisy small boys. And in a pillowed chair, in the midst of the confusion, in the close air, a little girl, coughing her life away. The mother looks at her anxiously from time to time; a bottle of medicine is there, but it doesn't seem to help much.

Into this kitchen comes a strange woman. Smiling at them all, she explains that the doctor has arranged for Mary to go to a sanatorium to rest in bed, in the fresh air, to eat good wholesome food. Help has come in time. She can be cured.

The overworked mother, the hardworking father love that child as you and I love ours. They would give their lives to save her. But they can't do this for her. They can't choose the right food. Little perfect conditions. It would cost them thousands, and even if they had those thousands they wouldn't know how to manage it.

What do you think their bursting hearts feel toward the National Tuberculosis Association, and to you, who through that association, do that for them? And for thousands like them. Tuberculosis, the hideous "white death" that has stalked unchecked for so many generations, is actually on the wane, and only the God of suffering humanity knows how great a share in that miracle is due to the unseen, untiring, unceasing work of the Christmas Seals.

For thirty-five years our Christmas sealings have been made all for further training in a Navy Service School, or will be assigned to duty at sea or at a naval shore station.

The following letter is addressed to "Dear Classmates."

If my wishes could be granted I would be with you on this Thanksgiving Day. But wars do funny things to the plans and lives of men. The smashing and wrecking of human lives is of no importance to those who have this gathering their place in the sun. They care very little, on whose toes, their iron shoe heel of oppression trod. Their war machines have already destroyed many of the great nations that gave them their fine culture and their noble arts by which they were enabled to raise to the high level of power, from which vantage point they hope to enslave the world, and use its manpower and its women power to perpetuate its own greed upon a world which wants nothing else but peace with justice for all.

Because we in America love peace uphold justice is one of the main reasons why we have such names as Thanksgiving and such as I said before if my wishes could be granted, I would be with you this Thanksgiving Day. But remember this, even though I am a thousand miles away, in spirit and in thought, I am right there beside you. You can not see me and perhaps you do not care, but as you sit down to dinner, pause for just a moment, and let me take you back with me, back down the years with misty memory back to that first Thanksgiving Day.

There on the bleak and rocky coast of New England. At a little settlement built from the wilderness, a small group of Pilgrims knelt in humble prayer and thanked God for the bountiful benedictions of plenitude which he so lavishly bestowed upon them. They not only thanked God for his goodness, but they promised to try and establish here a system of government that would guarantee to their posterity, a just return from the fruits of their labors.

We have taken up arms and we have given up their lives in defense of this noble heritage. It is our duty now to prove that those names like Washington, Lincoln and Jefferson shall always bring bright in the full throes of battle and lead our nation through the darkest hours of victory. We in the armed forces are trying to do this. We cannot do it alone but with your help and prayers we shall. And in return we only ask that God makes us worth to hear the banner of Victory.

Light Lines by R.K.

No Christmas lights this year?

Of course there'll be Christmas lights.

Not the kind that hang on wires over streets in the shopping areas.

Those are out because the War Department wants no night sky-glow.

But there'll be Christmas lights.

The kind that shine in the eyes of men—men who love freedom so much they're willing to fight for it.

There'll be the kind of Christmas lights that burn in the souls of women doing their part at home while their men are on the fighting fronts.

Yes there'll be Christmas lights this year.

They'll be the kind that throw a gleam of hope into the hearts of men once free but now in chains.

The once-free men of France of the Low Countries of Greece of Norway of Poland and all the rest.

These are the Christmas lights we'll have this year.

And they are the lights that lead the way to Victory when we can again have our Christmas lights without fearing a glow in the night sky.

All Connecticut deer hunters are urged to salvage deer hides this year as the leather is needed for the manufacture of gloves and other equipment for the armed forces. The hides should be removed, salted, and dried in the shade. Hides rolled fresh will spoil rapidly. The dried and salted skins may be turned over to fur buyers, hide dealers or State Fish and Game Warden. The State Police have also arranged to receive hides at the barracks. Connecticut laws do not prohibit the sale of deer hides to anyone.

THE MOST IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT EVER MADE BY THE U. S. TREASURY DEPARTMENT

The 9 Billion Dollar Victory Loan Drive Is On!

This week the United States Government begins the task of borrowing nine billion dollars from accumulated savings and idle funds in the next several weeks as an essential part of winning the war more quickly and more completely.

During these critical weeks you probably will be visited by a representative of one of the securities firms or banks which are contributing their time and effort—without compensation of any kind—to the Victory Fund Committee. He will explain to you, for instance, the benefits that you can obtain from the new Victory 2 1/2's—available for the first time. Welcome him as a war worker when he calls. If you miss him, ask your banker or securities dealer for full particulars. There is no limit to the amount that you can purchase.

Today many American families are torn apart. Millions have left their homes or their jobs; thousands have given their lives and many more are prepared to do so.

But the government, your government, is not asking you to give anything to this Nine Billion Dollar Drive. It is asking you to lend it all of the money you can possibly invest in what is the safest investment in the world—at a good rate of interest.

When the Victory Fund representative calls, please remember this: it is in your own interest, as well as that of your country, to listen to him—and to invest.

Other Treasury Securities offered to investors through the Victory Fund Committee are Treasury Tax Savings Notes A and C, and U. S. Savings Bonds, Series F and G.

THE SHOTS THAT HELP

E. H. H. S. At War Gives Time, Money, Work In Victory Drive

Survey by Astrid Johannessen

East Haven High School is giving time, money, and material contributions to the national war program. A survey conducted last week by the Comet revealed that many school organizations are planning special group projects as their part of the schoolwide drive. Individual students, as well, are working in after-school jobs or in volunteer service.

The Junior Red Cross unit of the high school in its second year of organization under the supervision of Miss Alice Hall, has given aid to the servicemen, veterans, civilians, and needy children throughout the world. Last year this unit, made up of high school and grammar school pupils of East Haven, sent out a total of 108 wool dolls, 22 dresses, 20 boys' blouses, 1 sweater, 26 scrapbooks, 50 Christmas favors, 100 Easter favors, 6 Christmas boxes, 5 pairs felt slippers, 1 woven belt, 2 afghans, 20 cloth toys, 2 checker sets, 1 set wooden animal toys.

As a result of last year's membership drive, the Industrial Arts department was able to build a ping pong table which was donated to the U.S.O. at Westover Field, Massachusetts. From this fund ten dollars was spent for sheets for the East Haven Red Cross emergency hospital.

This year, the Junior Red Cross has filled 11 Christmas boxes, contributed 15 scrapbooks for children's hospitals, 4 scrapbooks for veterans' hospitals, and 280 menu covers to be used for Navy Christmas dinner menus.

History Class Project
The American history classes of the high school are aiding, as well, Christmas boxes are being sent to graduates of the high school in the armed services who are stationed within the United States. Barbara McLeay is student chairman of this project.

Students In Civilian Defense
According to recent reports, many students of the high school are working in civilian defense. At least 54 students are taking courses as air raid messengers, while 35 are enrolled for first aid training. About 19 are on duty at the aircraft warning post, 5 students are enrolled in home nursing, and 5 are answering phones at the report center. Twenty-one girls help by taking care of children whose parents are in defense activities.

The importance of proper nutrition to the people in wartime and various ways to adapt menus to current food supplies are being studied by the homemaking classes of the school this year more than ever. The sewing classes are devoting one class each week to Red Cross work.

East Haven High School Notes

The Pioneer in its 1943 edition, will have for the first time in its history, a unified theme, "East Haven and Education." This fact was announced by Miss Sylvia Dworski, advisor of the yearbook. This theme will help to coordinate the book and will serve as a foundation for all sections, Miss Dworski pointed out.

The staff of the yearbook, tentatively including over forty workers, will receive appointments in a few weeks.

The art classes, under the supervision of Miss Ahti Haatenen, are working on cover designs.

Because all extra-curricular affairs at the high school must take place in the afternoon, the school Athletic Association has chosen the town hall for its first dance, scheduled for December 7. Fred MacManus, chairman; Bill Clancy, Dick DeFazio, and Albert Howard, all members of last year's varsity squad, are in charge of this affair. The profits from this dance will help to support the basketball team this year.

Miss Eleanor Leary has returned to her position as teacher of eighth grade social studies at the local high school, following an absence of two months due to a severe case of laryngitis.

Shella Levine, freshman at the local high school, was elected president of the Junior Thespian Dramatic Club at the December 2 meeting. Other officers elected were: Dorothy Kane, vice-president; Joan Osborne, secretary; and Frank Backos, treasurer. Miss Gladys Zulauf is faculty sponsor.

Hand-carved Polynesian heads, shell necklaces, and other native jewelry are all being featured in the library exhibit on the second floor. These articles, native work from islands in the Pacific are loaned for the exhibit by Miss Alice Hall and Mrs. Edna Long.

Photography by Bill Norton
By teaching ways to adjust menus to supplies, the homemaking classes prepare girls for life in a nation at war. Above is a scene from the high school knitting. In the foreground are Roberta Ingham and Marie Dionne. In the kitchen at the rear left are Doris Howard and Mae Rockwell.

Delay In Stamp Sales
At the meeting on November 9 of the Student Council, members voiced their disapproval of the present system of buying war stamps, which causes a delay of two weeks after purchase before stamps can be obtained. To help alleviate this situation, however, the East Haven Y.M.C.A. group, the Hi-Y Club, is planning to sell stamps in the cafeteria during lunch periods. Perhaps more school organizations will follow this plan, and enable students to buy and receive war stamps without a delay.

As a means of maintaining a close bond of friendship between the servicemen and pupils, Student Council has begun a project in which high school students will write to graduates in the services. Each homeroom will have a block of names, and addresses of these boys. At least one student will then correspond regularly with each person on the list. Homerooms will exchange lists from time to time.

Early Morning Fire In Coop Kills Flock

Approximately 1,000 chickens died in an early morning fire Monday which gutted a large coop and brooder house in the "Half Mile" section North of Foxon. The chickens were owned by A. Bouquesquet, a tenant farmer on property of Maurice Balley.

The fire which occurred about dawn, was discovered by two coon hunters who had been roaming the Half Mile woods through the night. They aroused the Bouquesquet family and an attempt was made to douse the spreading fire with water from a nearby well.

With the nearest telephone two miles away on Route 80 an alarm did not reach Headquarters Company in the center until 5:15. The run to the "Half Mile", a round-trip distance of 11 1-2 miles was made in fast time but, unfortunately, firemen, who brought three pieces of equipment found little to do but watch the remainder of the structure fall. There is no city water nor was there any ponds or lakes in the vicinity from which water could be drawn.

A fire company was organized two years ago in the Foxon section meets regularly, and the town has already voted funds for equipment but lack of priorities have held up plans for fire protection.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of Bradford Manor Hose Co., will be held December 7 at 8 P. M.

When the ruthless Japanese first flew over peaceful China and dropped death on its simple, peasant folk, they were bewildered, as shown by Pearl Buck in her popular novel Dragon Seed. At first they were pleased by the sound made by the bombs, but then they were hurt and frightened when they saw their people wounded and dead. Why should these cruel birds come out of the sky to harm them? But shortly, these land-working people took up the defense of their country still incomprehensible to most, but clear as to the fact that without fighting back, they would never be able to return to their peaceful lives—planting rice, laughing together, and raising the children of China!
For a sympathetic understanding of those people of China, we recommend this novel Dragon Seed.
