Governor Warns Farmers In State Of Accident Rise

ASKS ALL AGRICULTURAL WORKERS TO JOIN IN NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK JULY 20—JULY 26

Storrs, Conn.—Declaring that agriculture has more fatal accidents than any other occupation, Governor McConaughy urges Connecticut farmers to recognize the importance of accident preventative measures in their work.

In a statement prepared for the Connecticut Farm Safety Committee in which he endorses the state's participation in National Farm Safety Week, July 20 to 26, the Governor said:

"Stepped in the high tradition stemming back to the inspiring struggle of the original Colonists, who tilled the stubborn rolling acres of Connecticut, the farm industry of our state continues to be a proud and important enterprise. Generally known to be arduous, it is proved to be dangerous as well by national records showing more fatal accidents in agriculture than in any other occupation.

"National Safety Council figures for 1946 show an increase of nearly 20 per cent in motor vehicle accident deaths among farm residents over 1945. During 1946, however, Connecticut led the nation in traffic and pedestrian safety and received two national awards for her record at the President's Safety Conference at Washington.

"With the benefits of human ingenuity, the advances of scientific and mechanical farming bring new complexities to this vital industry. It is therefore incumbent upon those engaged in agricultural pursuits to take the greatest possible precautions against accidents in their work.

"The period between July 20th and July 26th has been designated as National Farm Safety Week. As Governor of Connecticut, I urge the farmers in our state to recognize the importance of accident preventative methods and practices as to plan for a year-round program in the interest of safe conduct of their industry. During the week set aside for highlighting this problem, I urge that all of those persons in agriculture in our state, take part in programs on the farms and in the organizations to whom safety in agriculture is of such vital importance."

William R. Bussman Takes A Holiday After 40 Years With Phone Company

Connecticut's pioneer teletype-writer specialist, William R. Bussman of 69 Church Street, Branford, will retire from The Southern New England Telephone Company on August 1 after 40 years of service. Working in New Haven throughout his career, Mr. Bussman has operated, installed, and repaired teletypewriters—typewriters operated automatically by electrical impulses sent over a wire.

Mr. Bussman installed New Haven's first teletypewriter in 1917 in the Associated Press office, then located at the corner of Orange and Crown Streets. This machine was part of one of the first teletypewriter circuits in the country, connecting New York and Boston. At the time, Mr. Bussman's office associates assured him that teletypewriter work would never work, but for 30 years, he says, they have been working very well.

Mr. Bussman was born in New Haven in 1882, and 16 years later he left home and began working on one of the first long-distance telephone lines to the Midwest. He was a part-time employee, paid by the day to work on the line between Passaic and Perth Amboy, New Jersey.

He joined the Southern New England Company in 1920. He remembers New Haven was then a city of gas lights and narrow streets, mostly unpaved. All telephones were of the magneto variety long box-like affairs with cranks for the caller to attract the operation. In some Connecticut towns, men were still serving as night telephone operators.

Mr. Bussman recalls that he had "no particular title" then, and that his salary was $7.50 for a 54-hour week. He repaired switchboard cords, installed switchboards, and went with the linemen into the "country" sections of West Haven and Whitteville. "The company's transportation consisted of horses; that we hired from a livery stable," he says, "and when the snow drifts stopped the horses, we'd start out on snow shoes to repair lines. We were lucky if we could repair more than one or two a day."

During his 40-year service, he has missed only six weeks of work, caused, he says, when he had to undergo an appendectomy.

After his retirement, Mr. Bussman intends to continue his business associations through the Telephone Pioneers, an organization for telephone people with 21 or more years of service. He will also spend more time on his hobbies—working in his garden which occupies nearly an acre, fishing and hunting. Collecting stamps, and writing his autobiography. The latter, which he intends to call "My Experiences with the Telephone Company," he is writing for recreation, he says, not publication.

Club Asks Right To Plant Grass On Town Green

The following letter was voted to be sent to the Board of Selectmen: The Branford Garden Club notes that a committee of the Business Men's Association is asking for suggestions for bettering and beautifying our town. Our club is interested in preserving the life and beauty of its glorious trees. It was, therefore, unanimously voted by the members of the Garden Club at its meeting on July 11th, that we petition you, the Selectmen of this town to give serious thought to this project of protecting and enhancing the beauty of the Branford Green, one of the town's greatest assets, through greater care of its trees. In discussing this matter the fact was brought to our attention that the grass around the elm tree opposite Trinity Church has been destroyed by the practice of parking cars on the green. We ask the privilege of planting grass seed on this plot.

Meeting July 21 At Short Beach On Zoning Law

A special meeting of the Short Beach Civic Association has been called for Monday night at 8 in the Chapel to discuss the subject of Zoning.

Those owning buildings in the association limits will also meet in the Chapel Friday July 25 at 8 for the annual meeting and for the vote on Zoning.

This subject is creating interest among property owners and it is expected that both meetings will be largely attended.

Those who favor Zoning are of the belief that the adoption of Zoning will curtail and prevent overcrowding, will keep out undesirable business and put a stop to the building of "shacks."

Short Beach is admittedly a year round residential section and conducts itself entirely different than it did when the organization was formed in July of 1921.

Those opposed to zoning express the opinion that the nine members of the executive board already have enough power to "provide protection for the property, health and morals of the inhabitants, for the promotion of order, the improvement of the property and the comfort and convenience of persons living therein."

Prior to his affiliation with the K. of C., he was employed in a supervisory capacity by the U. S. Government.

Education Board Will Use Money For Schools Only

Rotary Club Hears Talk By Dr. Racca

At the weekly meeting of the Branford Rotary Club Monday, Dr. Vittorio Racca, former lecturer at universities in Rome, Italy and Lausanne, Switzerland, told members of experiences inside Turkish Armenia when he served as a representative of the Armenian forces opposed to Turkish oppression in 1903.

In his talk, Doctor Racca described the events leading up to his trip to Armenia and the clever work of the Armenian revolutionaries who aided him while he was in the country. He described his venture as a "defeat" because he had to turn back before he could gather the information for which he was sent. To have continued, the doctor said, would have meant certain death.

In an interview with Dr. Racca after he had concluded his talk, he pointed out that he was not forced to leave Italy because of his opposition to Mussolini. "Mussolini was a student of mine at Lausanne," he said. "The secretary of the University there still has records which prove that my signature is right next to Mussolini's. I want to make it clear, however," the doctor added, "that I had nothing to do with what Mussolini did after that."

At present, Dr. Racca is not actively engaged in lecturing or other public activities. He purchased a home in Branford recently.

At next Monday's meeting, the guest speaker will be Harold C. Kessinger of Ridgewood, N. J., past district governor of the 182nd Rotary District and lecturer. His subject will be "Rolling Back the Record." Mr. Kessinger addressed the Branford Rotary last July and has also been speaker before the New York City, Baltimore, Atlantic City and Bridgeport Rotaries. At present, he is vacationing at the Montowese House.

Mischler was appointed Chairman of the Bake and will be assisted by a Committee of his own choice.

Boy Loses Wallet After Hitch Hike

There is one local lad who will do no more hitch-hiking. Monday evening he called on friends in East Haven and about midnight started walking home over the Branford Hills. Shortly after leaving the old Stone Church he was offered a ride by three men in a black sedan.

He was immediately given a going over and relieved of a watch and a wallet containing five dollars. In a struggle his clothes were torn and a finger injured. The lad was taken to the East Street area and left.

Dazed and badly shaken up he walked from there to the East Haven Police station where he told his story and was given a safe hitch-hike ride home.

TOWN TAXES DUE

The second half of the town taxes for the 1946 list must be paid by August 15 or be subject to an interest charge.

REDUCTION OF TOWN TAX RATES NOT INTENT OF STATE AID BILL; INCREASE COVERS PAY RAISE

(Ed. Note: The following is a letter received by the Review from the Board of Education.)

In a letter to the Board of Education signed "Taxpayer" published in the Branford Review of June 18th, we were asked to present our views more fully on certain points which we touched on in our article explaining the new State Aid Bill for education.

We are very glad to reply to this reader, believing that the letter was written in good faith, and that it represents a real interest in school affairs which we hope is widespread in the Town.

As we estimate it, the Town of Branford will receive, from the State, as a grant under this new act, a sum of approximately $87,800 for the improvement of the educational system of our Town.

Grant to Reduce Taxes?

"Taxpayer" asks whether it would not be better to use this State educational grant for reduction of taxes in our Town, than to put it all into the schools. He refers especially to the action taken by Litchfield and Deep River. Both of these towns have recently reduced their tax rates by the use of the school subsidy funds.

We will try to give a conclusive answer to this suggestion in our article for to-day.

Meanwhile, "Taxpayer" obviously would also like further explanation as to how the Board of Education feels about application of the State grant in our own Town, and what specific projects the Board has in mind for the improvement of our schools by the use of these funds.

As we cannot cover so much material in one letter, we shall there for continue to-day's discussion in later issues. As for a detailed explanation of the actual projects contemplated, however, we shall have to wait until the school budget for the coming year is made up. We shall be glad to publish an article on this subject at a later date.

Unsatisfactory Explanation

"Taxpayer" has referred to the action of Litchfield and Deep River in using their school grants to effect a reduction in their tax rates. We felt that there must have been some reason for this action, but calls to officials of both towns did not reveal any satisfactory explanation.

It is, of course, not our place to censure our sister towns, but we fail to see how there can be any justification for such an action, whereby a town takes a sum of money issued to it by the State for improvement in education, and uses it instead as a means of reducing its town tax rate.

Two things should be kept in mind in considering how these State Aid funds should be used: First, that although the State requires an expenditure of $140 per pupil in the (Continued on page three)

Clinton 'House Will Premiere New Comedy

Anton Dolin, who makes ballet dancing pay off at the American boxoffice, will turn his talents to straight acting the week of July 21st, when he plays the lead in the world premiere of Richard Maloy's new sophisticated comedy, "So Small A Worm", at the Clinton Playhouse.

"So Small A Worm", a comedy which will have its first showing at the Clinton, is the work of Richard Maloy, radio scripter turned playwright. It is a modern play of manners which means that its theme is topical, bright, and gay.

For many it will be reminiscent of the early Noel Coward who made comedy come up to meet his audience instead of writing farce way below them. Richard Maloy's play deals with married people and confessions, and how pseudo-wedded bliss can be the two very tightly in absurd knots. Entering in behind this silk curtain of laughter is a charming legend of love, still for several acts, throw in Anton Dolin, Ellen Andrews, Carol Hughes and John Healy, and after ballet under lights and make up for an hour and a half you get, "So Small A Worm", on the laugh shelf.

Anton Dolin's last appearance in stock was in "Night Must Fall" and "Billie's Spirit". Between the touring the United States and grossing fabulous receipts at the Lincoln window, with ballerina Alicia Markova, Dolin has had time to do two Broadway shows, George Abbott's, ill-fated "Dancers" and Billy Rose's "Seven Lively Arts". He was the first of the school of dance to combine ballet with acting, and his success has resulted in his supreme spot as Number One on the Ballet Hit Parade. Dolin originally started as an actor studying at the Italia Conti School, which is the alma mater of such notables as Noel Coward and Gertrude Lawrence. In the fall, Dolin will be seen at the Metropolitan Opera House, doing his famous "Giselle" and two new ballets, "Henry 8th & Wives" and "The Lady of the Camellias".

Ellen Andrews was last seen on Broadway and on tour in "Apple of His Eye" with Walter Huston. Miss Andrews was at one time with the Orson Welles who did "Danton's

Flowering Rock Garden Plants Can Be Divided

Early flowering rock gardens plants which spread freely, particularly Phlox subulata, can be divided now. If not divided and replanted, it is advisable to trim the plants relatively hard.

Pinch out the tips of stems of chrysanthemums to promote full, well rounded, bushy plants with an abundance of flowers. This induces the formation of side branches and discourages tall, spindling growth. BRANFORD SPORTS

BY BUD DOBER

Hi, sport fans of Branford! Don't fall off your chairs, but we're going to have a few sports items back in the pages of The Review. I started to address you as "extinct sport fans," but you haven't been extinct, its the sports columns which have been missing from the paper. You may see my name in the masthead listed with another title, but that means nothing; I do everything.

There's a lot of sports activity in town, but I've been running into a little difficulty getting the scores of some of the games. I haven't been able to get a schedule of games for the softball leagues, and I haven't been able to get the standings of the leagues. Main reason why is that Don McCall over at Community House has been so busy.

In order to get a better picture of what's going on, I'd like to have all the managers of all the softball and baseball teams in town get in touch with me. After I talk with all the managers, maybe we'll be able to work out some effective system to publicize in these pages all the athletic activities of Branford.

I made a working agreement with Clayton Massey, the owner of the concession at Hammer Field. He's going to have some forms down there on which the managers can list their line-ups, keep track of the runs, and the inning by inning score. When the games are over, the managers can leave the form with Massey, and he'll turn them over to me. That way, we'll get complete coverage of the games, and no one will be left out.

There were only two games Tuesday at Hammer Field. The Old Timers "shellacked" the Pilgrim Brotherhood by a score of 14 to 1. Lipdin and Zampano was the battery for the Old Timers, while the battery for the Brotherhood was Cliff Doebrick and Al Stannard. Thanks very much to Johnny Stegma, manager of the Pilgrim's, and to Ed Kumb, manager of the Old Timers for their cooperation in getting in their line-ups. That's the sixth straight victory for the Old-Timers, against no defeats, by the way.

In the other game, the boys neglected to turn in their line-ups or the score! All we know is that in the game between the Blue Sox and Granite Bay, the Granite Bay team won. Someone said Zel Leshine hit a home run for the Blue Sox. Accidents do happen, I guess.

Monday night at Stony Creek, Carniak's Silver Dollar softball team won its fifth straight game in the Shore Line League by defeating the Three Elms team 4 to 3. Kenny Bray pitched fine ball for the winners. Tookle Tamulevich's sixth inning single scored the winning runs. That game puts Carniak's in first place in the League.

The Silver Dollar's rang up a couple of other victories by identical 6 to 1 scores. Last Monday they defeated the Lighthouse Orioles and last week they beat Chalmers Garage. Kenny Bray pitched and Olie Archer caught both games. Hmm, iron men. This Sunday morning at 11 a.m., the Silver Dollars will play the Lighthouse Ramblers at Hammer Field in a Shore Line League game.

Monday night the Branford Sportsmen won a 2 to 0 softball game from Greenblatt's in the Greater New Haven League, behind the brilliant, one-hit pitching of Joe Resjan. A hit in the fourth inning spoiled Joe's chances of a no-hit game. The Sportsmen's game with Hamden was rained out Wednesday night.

Over at the Pine Orchard Club last week-end, the President's Cup Trophy, a 54-hole medal play tournament with full handicap, was won by Ohandler Withington. His scores were: 79-9-70, 80-9-71, 81-9-72 for a total of 213. In the ladies 36-hole play tournament, the winner was Mrs. J. W. Flanders. Her score was: 92-16-76, 101-16-85 for a total of 161. Friday and Saturday July 18 and 19, there will be a member-guest tournament. Play will be 18 holes each day with prizes for low gross and three low net scores. On Sunday, July 20th, the feature will be an Invitation Scotch Foursome event.

As you can see, this hasn't been complete coverage because I haven't made all my contacts. It's a start, though, and as we go along we'll have more and more news of sports here. It won't always be in the column; some of the games will be listed with the complete box score.

In reading through the column, you may have wondered whether or not this was a personal column for the Silver Dollar games. The reason there's so much devoted to their games is that Clayt Massey's brother was right on the ball with the stuff about his team. I have no favorites; I'll do as much for anyone who turns the information in to me.

Eventually, we'll have the complete standings as up to date as we can keep them, and we'll have a complete schedule of the games to be played. We hope we'll have all the news about all Branford sports activities.

Tall, handsome Bob Falkenburg, brother of the glamorous Jinx, was a semifinalist at Forest Hills last fall, losing to Kramer. Later, in the Pacific Southwest final, Jack had to go all out to take Bob's measure in five sets. Falkenburg first won the Junior Championship in 1943 and has been ranked in the first ten three times, now being eighth. Bob is also the present champion of the Argentine. He is married to a Brazilian girl.

VETERAN NEWS

TERMINAL LEAVE DEADLINE
All eligible veterans who have not already done so should file their applications for terminal leave pay in view of the approaching deadline of August 31, 1947 set by the Armed Forces Leave Act of 1946.

Necessary forms for filling terminal leave claims are available at the local Post Office and the Veterans Center in the Town Hall. Mrs. Dorothy H. Neal, Director of the local Center will be very pleased to assist the veteran with his application and will also notarize the document for him free of charge.

SERVICE CONNECTED MALARIA
Veterans who are drawing disability compensation for malaria may have their payments cut off unless evidence of a recurrence or relapse is submitted to the Veterans Administration within fourteen months after their claims have been established.

Twelve months after it has been officially determined that the veteran suffers from service-connected malaria, the Veterans Administration will request him to submit, within sixty days, evidence of a recurrence or relapse. When evidence is submitted, the veteran's service connected rating for malaria will be extended for an additional year from the date of the last attack. Veterans should report to a physician every time a relapse occurs and to obtain from him a statement indicating that the attack was malaria and the treatment given.

NATIONAL SERVICE LIFE INSURANCE
The deadline for reinstatement of lapsed policies, without undergoing a physical examination, has been extended to January 1, 1948. The veteran merely states that his health is as good as it was while in the armed forces and pays two premiums upon reinstatement—one for the month of lapse and one for the current month.

Tennis Tourney Starts Saturday At Short Beach

The East Shore Tennis Championships, which includes men's singles and doubles, Women's singles and doubles, and mixed doubles is scheduled to begin Saturday, July 19 at the Short Beach Tennis Courts. The finals of this tournament which usually draws players from the New Haven and greater Branford area are scheduled to be played August 3.

Members of the committee in charge of the tournament are: Paul Barnett, chairman, Mrs. Elbert Pearson, Donald Charlotte and Kendall Brown. Entry fees are fifty cents for singles events and one dollar per team in the doubles. Prizes will be awarded to winners and runners-up.

Scheduled play in the Junior Boys' Tennis Tournament which was supposed to start Tuesday, has been delayed because of the poor weather. Matches will begin on the first available, good day. Both singles and doubles titles will be decided.

Seeded one and two are Creighton Johnson and Loren Lehr, last year's winner and runner-up. Other entrants are Craig Johnson, Blake Lehr, Jerry Hayward, Jack Corning, Robert Brennan, David Burdige, Curtis Wayland, and Curtis Hutchins.

Doris Hart of Miami, Florida, was finalist in the Women's National Championship at Forest Hills last September. She is looked on as a potential winner this year. Doris is tall, with a real cannonball first service, hard ground strokes and excellent volleying. Set back by illness in her youth, Doris came back stronger than ever and won the National Girls' Championship in 1942 and 1943. Since then she has been a leading contender for top honors.
