A LITTLE ABOUT THIS AND THAT

BY PAUL H. STEVENS

CLEANING UP AT THE SHORE

When Judge Edward L. Reynolds spoke out from the bench of the Town Court in session Monday morning in warning against out-of-town trouble-makers who come here and cause disturbances at the East Shore beaches, he reflected the growing sentiment of our townspeople against a practice grown all too common. A group of young fellows, whose ages ranged in their late teens and early twenties, were before the court on charges of breach of the peace. It seems that some of them had become so boisterous last Sunday that they were a source of annoyance to others who had come down to the shore for a pleasant swim or for recreation on the beach. When the local police interfered and attempted to bring order where it was much needed some of the youths became abusive and it was necessary to bring additional charges against them when they were booked.

Judge Reynolds, in disposing of the cases and imposing substantial penalties, made it clear in a few very well chosen words that the police, the prosecuting agency, and the court of East Haven will do all in their power to put a stop to the bad behaviour of those who come to the beaches here bent on causing annoyance and disturbances. It has been unfortunate that in the past few weeks of this season this rowdy element, which is very much a minority, has made beach life so uncomfortable for many. The statement by Judge Reynolds is to be commended. It will have the endorsement and backing of all good citizens.

LET'S PLANT TREES

Among East Haven's choicest possessions are the handsome shade trees which have come down to us a heritage from those who lived here in earlier days. Time was when Main street was lined from end to end with great, graceful elm trees and in summer it was like traveling under a continuous archway of leaves to drive through the center. High street, Thompson avenue and others of the older streets of the town were also well planted with trees by the earlier generations and a few of the more modern thoroughfares also have a good share of shade trees today.

This week First Selectman Sullivan informed us that the town has received a report from a tree expert who has been looking over the shade tree situation. He says that many of the fine old trees have been so badly stricken by disease that many of them must come down this year. Already in recent years a great many trees have been cut down, notably in Main street because of the growth of the business center. There is not now a single tree left standing on the south side of Main street in the blocks between Fire Headquarters and Kirkham avenue.

The State has set out scores of trees along the state highways here including plantings the entire length of the cut-off not only in the Saltonstall Parkway section but along Peat Meadow.

Now First Selectman Sullivan tells us he is asking the Board of Finance for a tree appropriation in the budget next year which will make a start on a tree-planting project in the residential areas. This is a move in the right direction and one which merits the support of all. It should be backed up by a liberal amount of private tree planting and we understand that already tree planting is among items set down for early action by the South District Improvement association and other civic bodies.

HONORING OUR WAR DEAD

East Haven will reverently honor her heroes of World War II at exercises to be held on the Town Green Sunday, August 17, at 3 P. M.

A stone of red sienna granite from Texas, the nearest match that could be found to the native red stone memorial to the dead of World War I, has been put in place on the opposite side of the path at the northwest corner of the Green from where the other memorial stands. Affixed to this block of granite is a bronze plaque with the names of the 23 East Haveners who gave their lives in the conflict which ended two years ago this month.

These exercises will bring to a close the work set by the committee headed by Frank Wells which was named sometime ago by First Selectman James J. Sullivan. The other part of the program, a welcome home banquet and party for the veterans was held earlier in the season at Mansfield's Grove. The committee which was made up of representatives of the various organizations of the town has done its work well.

The Harry R. Bartlett post of the American Legion will take a leading part in the program of dedication and it is expected that there will be a large outpouring of townspeople at this time to do honor to those the memorial will honor.

An especially apt part of the exercises will be the official closing of the Honor Roll on the terrace in front of the Town Hall. After these exercises the Honor Roll which contains the names of all East Haveners who served in the armed forces will be dismantled. The Honor Roll here will not be left to deteriorate from the weather as has happened in so many other communities. The slabs containing the names will be preserved for a reasonable time at the town hall and given to veterans who desire them.

CHILDREN AROUND THE WATER

A striking news picture appeared one day last week in the daily newspapers. It was taken beside a Reservoir in California and it showed a frantic young mother who had just learned that her seven year old daughter had been drowned. The crumpled, wet little body lay on the beach where a volunteer fireman had gently placed it. He was vainly trying to quiet the young mother, who, according to the caption below the picture, fell in a swoon seconds after the photo was taken. She was to learn, on reviving, that her little son, too, had drowned.

It was a tragic snapshot taken straight out of the stark drama of real life. And as it is seen by hundreds of thousands of newspaper readers in all parts of America it will draw sympathy and heart throbs.

There are pointed lessons this picture should teach. It might be well if it were to be included in the considerable literature that has developed around the subject of safety for children, a graphic object lesson for all.

Small children ought not be left unguarded when they are bathing anywhere. Parents should see to it that when they go into the water that older ones are close by in case there is danger. Every child should be taught, as early as he is able to learn, the need for water safety. Children, as soon as they are old enough, should be taught to swim.

Children love the water and bathing is good for them, but all too often cases of this kind point to the everlasting need for care and caution and instruction.

Rev. Nicolas To Be Speaker At Dedication

Secretary F. Weston Bartlett of the G. I. Memorial Committee announces that the Rev. William H. Nicolas, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Simsbury, will be the speaker at the unveiling and dedication of the World War II Memorial on the Town Green Sunday, August 17. The exercises will be held at 3 P. M.

Former Commander Frank Wells of the Harry R. Bartlett Post, is chairman of the committee which has been making plans for the affair for some time. The dedication had been set originally for Memorial day but because of a strike at the quarry in Texas from which the stone was cut the dedication was postponed until now. It will be an appropriate date, the Sunday to V.-J. which marked the cessation of the war two years ago.

Harry R. Bartlett post and the new Post Band will have a prominent part in the exercises which will also include the official closing of the present Honor Roll on the Town Hall Terrace. The Honor Roll is to be demolished and the name slabs preserved and given to the veterans who desire those with their names on them.

Rotary Club Enjoys Talk By Ed Walsh

"Big Ed" Walsh of Meriden, noted baseball player of a generation ago, who was honored two weeks ago at Cooperstown, N. Y., by election to the Baseball Hall of Fame, was the guest speaker at last week's luncheon meeting of the Rotary club. Introduced by James J. Scanlon of the program committee Walsh told many interesting experiences of his years as a big league player.

Walsh pitched for the Chicago White Sox from 1904 to 1910 and the 1906 World Series twice pitched and won two games in one day. In 1908 he won 40 games for his team. He told of some of the thrills of baseball in those times and also compared baseball and baseball players of yesteryear with today. Walsh became a master of the "split ball" and his name and playing became legend in the baseball world.

Today Mr. Walsh shows the splendid effects of his early training his appearance belying his age. He has interesting hobbies and one of them is watching the kids playing ball on the corner lots. He described the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown which, he said, brought back to him many memories of a great past. Bill Carr, retired letter carrier and a baseball fan, was one of the luncheon guests.

Dutch Elm Disease Takes Toll Here

Experts Report That Many Old Trees Must Be Cut Down, Following Survey Just Completed.

First Selectman James J. Sullivan said this week that he has received a report from the Stäpleford company on the survey he requested sometime ago as to the condition of the shade tree on local thoroughfares.

According to this report a large number of trees have been affected seriously by the Dutch Elm Disease and more than a dozen of the older trees must come down at once.

The inroads upon the shade trees of East Haven, both by disease and the march of business, has been heavy. During the past few years large numbers of the old elms have

New Ruling Is Made On Use On Ambulance

A recent vote by the Board of Public Safety concerning the use of the Town Ambulance will be of special interest to those who have been urging that a more liberal policy be approved which will permit more general use of the vehicle.

Under the new rule the ambulance can be called out not only by physicians as in the past but by the non medical doctors and the dentists; also by the Public Health Nursing association and the police Department.

A letter to this effect has been sent by Clerk Henry Weber of the Board of Public Safety to Chief Ernest Hanson of the Fire Department in whose custody the ambulance was placed some time ago.

The ambulance was presented to the town during the recent war by the Rotary Club. It is fully equipped and is kept at Main street Fire Headquarters.

Frank Dooley Hopes to Come To Swim Meet

Frank M. Dooley Jr, father of recreational activities for East Haven youth, hopes to be able to come home for the tenth annual Frank Dooley Swim Meet to be held at Momauguin Beach Tuesday, August 19. Frank, who is now at the Veterans' Hospital in Rocky Hill, founded the annual swim meet back in 1937. Each year, under the sponsorship of the Harry R. Bartlett post, American Legion, the annual Dooley Swim Meet has been one of the outstanding events of the kind hereabouts.

This year the meet will be under the direction of Don Thomas.

During the past decade, these events have attracted such notables as Dick Barbaut of Yale, Ulehn of Hillhouse, Frank Dooley III Bob Dimark and John Sanford of the East Haven High school and such well known girl swimmers as Grace Walsh and Betty Gaunya of the Colony Club, and Maryanna Dooley and Audrey Barnum of Momauguin. All residents of East Haven are eligible to compete.

Decisions Made By Zoning Board

The Zoning Board of Appeals has given the following decisions: Salvatore Gambardella, 239 Dodge Avenue, application to erect a restaurant at the above address, rejected.

Mrs. Mary Funk of 172 Gerrish Avenue, application to remodel a one family house to a two family house, approved.

William Zuckerman, Foxon Road, application to remodel a one family house to a two family house has been tabled for further discussion. Charles DeMusis, 109 Estelle Road, application to build a cinder block garage at the above address approved.

PAPER DRIVE SUNDAY
The Harry R. Bartlett Post, American Legion, will conduct a drive Sunday in East Haven, Momauguin and Morris Cove.

Judge Reynolds Calls A Halt To Hoodlumism

In dealing out stern penalties in Town Court Monday to youths found guilty of breach of the peace at East Haven's waterfront beaches, Judge Edward L. Reynolds has served notice upon all and Sunday that such action will not be tolerated in this town. In a statement from the bench he warned that future violators will be dealt with as severely. The recent alarming increase in breach of the peace cases at Momauguin and in some cases officers of the law being submitted to slugging and other indignities, he indicated must come to a speedy halt. He promised the full extent of the power of the law, the prosecuting agencies and the court to see that these warnings are effective.

Jail sentences some as long as five months, and money fines ranging from $25 up were imposed. In several of the cases jail sentences were omitted or suspended but in all cases fines were imposed.

Some of the youths are East Haveners, but for the most part they are out-of-towners.

Finance Board Starts Work On Budget

The Board of Finance held its initial meeting to start work on preparing the budget for next year on Monday evening. At that time a schedule of hearings for the department was prepared and these departments are being notified to appear and present their requests for the year ahead.

Under the Town Charter the first meeting on the budget is set for the first Monday in August and other meetings are to be held from time to time, the budget to be ready for filing in the town clerk's office Sept. 20 when it will be available for public perusal. Action on the budget takes place at the annual town meeting in October.

Puzzled? Perplexed? Ask Julia Lynch

Dear Julia:
Can you advise me what to do? My brother who lives out of town brought his girl friend to visit us and has written me asking what I think of her, as he wishes to marry her. She is a college graduate and is earning a high salary. My brother has only had a few years of high school. She is earning more than he is and intends to continue work after marriage. What should I answer my brother?

Anxious Sister
It is obvious from your letter that you are hesitant about approving your brother's choice of a fiancée.

Dear Julia:
I have a sixteen month baby who has me very upset. I don't know if he is really sick or just pretending. When he wants something that I won't give him, he'll cry and throw things and kick his feet. He will even hold his breath until I get frantic. What do you think I should do?

Upset
When a child acts the way your baby does, it is indicative of what is coming down on our heads. This type of behavior is called a temper tantrum and should be carefully watched and checked as soon as possible. The wisest plan is to ignore him and above all remain calm. If your baby sees he is making a scene, he will stop.

The Tax Act Needs A Face-Lifting
It's been a long time in the history of Connecticut since any piece of legislation has aroused such adverse comment among diverse groups as the recently enacted "Sales and Use Tax Act." The American Legion, the Manufacturers Association of Connecticut, Labor Groups, Merchants and Retailers, and John J. Quinn are all up in arms over this Act. The only ones, so far, who have endorsed the "Tax Act" are Governor McConaughy and high Republican Party officials in the State.

They are busy digging for the past few months.

The Safest Drivers

Either overcome by the heat, or trying to escape being overcome by the heat, a Hartford Courant reporter recently revived an old familiar subject - the question of safe drivers. The question of safe drivers. The question of safe drivers.

WHAT NOTS
One thing about a polo scare is that everyone gets out into the back yard, steps over his own back yard, sniffs over the fellow's nose. Hostesses refer to hang out "No Men" guests. The new Health District Bill permits one or more towns, cities and boroughs to unite to establish a locally autonomous district health dept. with 50 per cent state financial assistance.

Belle Baker At Clinton; Dick Carlson Will Arrange "Barretts" At Guilford

A rare treat is in store for theatre-goers who attend the Clinton Playhouse the week of August 11th. For on Monday eve, Belle Baker will step to the footlights to star in Paul O'Brien's "The Vinegar Tree".

Belle Baker and big time vaudeville at its peak were synonymous. The "Incomparable" Belle was queen of the headlines. In the list of entertainment greats, Miss Baker occupies a unique and prominent place. This radiant, warm-colored singer of profoundly stirring tunes and interpreter of uproarious comedy material has few equals in the amusement world. Her showmanship and box-office effectiveness evinces the same strength today that once employed when the variety stage was at its popularity peak.

The Baker Bros. is not limited to the stage for the medium of radio and motion picture has found her artistry. One year she won the RKO Radio vocal-to-once popular, "The Lady From Nowhere" and "The Barretts of Wimpole Street".

Lewis Harmon announces that after "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" in many motion pictures including "That Brennan Girl", "Danger Street", "The Affairs of Albert Barrimore" and "Walter Hampden" but eventually struck at Hollywood where he has been busy playing leads for every major studio in many motion pictures including "That Brennan Girl", "Danger Street", "The Affairs of Albert Barrimore" and "Walter Hampden".

NORTH BRANFORD Greatest Need of World Today "Understanding"

Resume of Address by A. N. Jorgensen at the Summer Meeting of the Editorial Association, New London, July 26, 1947.

The great need of the world today is that peoples shall understand each other, that groups and classes shall understand each other, that individuals shall understand each other, so that we may work and live together in comparative harmony, with freedom for each to pursue happiness after his own fashion.

This is particularly true of what we may call the educated individual, those who have had the benefit of university study and discipline. These will have to lead the way, with a broader understanding than ever before of other individuals, other groups, other people, as each pursues his own particular specialty. They will have to guide others not so fortunate in education and station in life, to the end that each individual, each group, each people, may lead to something of himself or itself to all the others.

Of course, there will always be, in any form of organized society, some competition among men. Struggle is a helpful thing, a necessary thing for development; but there are large areas of agreement and mutual interest and there must be understanding of economics and of what is sometimes called humanity by large numbers of people if we are to go forward. A house divided against itself cannot stand, and if the house falls all who live within it fall with it.

I have complete faith in American youth. Our young people will not fall to our enemies. They are the bright hope of the future of America. It is their destiny to build higher and stronger the concepts and institutions of America. They are the bright hope of better living to come. That is their beacon and I know they will never lose sight of it.

As the tragic drama of war unfolded, the strength and courage, the stamina and initiative of our people and joy and the future of the bright hope of better living to come. That is their beacon and I know they will never lose sight of it.

The military of Germany and Japan scoffed and jeered as we began to arm. American boys and girls, they said, were soft and puny. Democracy, they sneered, was a decadent thing and would be wiped out. It was powerless, they boasted, to defend itself. Only in that hour America faced its greatest peril but it did not quail nor falter. With our freedom as we chose to fight and fight hard.

Now, as we all know, ruthless "hardness" is not an outstanding American characteristic. Only an occasional bully is found in the ranks of our country's boyhood and manhood and he usually gets more than he's looking for when he tackles someone of his own size. It's true our boys play hard but they also play fair. Many hard knocks are given and taken on the football field but usually it is the boy who

William Whyte performed the double ring ceremony. The bride's sister was her only attendant. Sam Vitekovic will not want any system under which their efforts support any considerable body of drones; nor I suspect, will the drones look with favor on any alternative system of compulsory work. Most of our people like the stimulating free-for-all American plan under which there is a chance that anyone can win to the very top—a millionaires, any, if he measures success by money, or president of the United States—even though he may not, as an individual, make any such bid.

The ceremony took place Friday evening in the First Congregational Church with the Rev. Ernie C. Church officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Pond of South Montowese Street were attendants.

Following a trip to Smuggler's Notch, Vermont, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will be at home to their friends in Indian Neck, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo E. Vincello have announced the coming marriage of their daughter, Margaret, to Mr. Stanley Meglin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Meglin, 208 Harbor Street. The wedding will take place August 10 in St. George's Church, Guilford.

Army Blood Donors

The past week was another busy week for the Branford Blood Donors, with the Army pitching in and offering blood.

A call for four pints of type A came to Joseph Driscoll who immediately put his organization to work rounding up available type A donors.

Maurice Demarais put the facilities of their office at the service of the doctor who made the request for a patient in Grace Hospital.

The required blood was immediately available by the men of the Army and by members of the Blood Donors.

Mr. John McCabe of Cherry Hill Road is one of the directors of the New Haven County 4 H Club Fair Association to hold an exhibition August 22-23 in Orange.

1/3 OF A CENT

STEEL PRODUCERS have announced new prices for certain of their products. As a result steel prices are up an average of less than one-third of a cent a pound.

The higher cost of living hits steel plants as well as individuals. Steelmaking costs have risen sharply since January of this year—and they are still going up.

This average steel price increase adds:

- $11 to the total cost of all the steel used in a typical automobile.
- 65 cents to the total cost of all the steel in an average domestic refrigerator.
- 55 to the cost of the steel in a medium-sized farm tractor.
- $25 for all the steel used in building a 5 or 6 room one-family house.

At the present average price of 3 1/2 cents per pound, steel is the lowest priced of all metals.

How much have steel plant "living costs" gone up?

THESE items of cost in steelmaking are wages, raw materials, equipment, fuel and transportation. Since January 1, 1947, these changes have taken place in typical annual cost items of the steel industry:

- Wages have increased $240,000,000
- Scrap has increased $160,000,000
- Freight has increased $75,000,000
- Fuel oil has increased $30,000,000
- Coal has increased $90,000,000

These and other items of increase since January 1, 1947, have added more than $600,000,000 to the annual costs of the steel industry.

That sum is more than the combined earnings of all the steel companies for three years past.

It amounts to nearly $10.00 a ton on the present record-breaking volume of steel output.

To help meet this higher cost of living in steel plants, steel prices have been increased on the average by less than 66.00 a ton.

The increase in steel prices since 1939 is only about half as much as the increase in commodity prices generally, and is less than half as much as the increase in weekly earnings of steel wage earners.

American Iron and Steel Institute

350 Fifth Avenue - New York 1, N. Y.

There are 101 member companies of the Institute with plants in 173 American communities. They produce 96.3 per cent of the country's steel.

BRANFORD SPORTS

BY BUD DOBER

Here I am back again after a lapse of one week. There's a good reason why there wasn't a column last week: it's still too difficult to find anyone who has track of what league games are going on other than the Greater New Haven Softball League and the Shore Line League. The boys who are playing in the Community House League evidently have given up on the thing and play their games whenever they feel like it. I checked at Hammer Field last week to see how a couple of the games were coming along (the games for that week had been listed in The Review); what I found was that two of the teams were engaged in other competition. When asked why they weren't playing their scheduled league game, they replied that they'd play those games "some other time."

Once a team has consented to play in a league, it automatically commits itself to carry out the schedules of that league. The league games take preference over other games. I'm willing to admit that the league hasn't been run as efficiently as it could be run, but that is being remedied. There's to be a meeting of all the softball managers at the Community House in which a managers' committee will be designated to see that league games are played when they are supposed to be played. Bases, and possibly balls, will be provided for league games. More about the meeting next week.

It seems a shame to let a good league like that go to pot. It's a reflection, not only on the league administrators, but also on its participants. What better way for a man to amuse himself than to relax taking part in some sporting event? The League is almost over and there's not much that can be done for this year. Maybe next year, the same mistakes will not be repeated.

Here's a quick round-up of games played in the last couple of weeks. The Silver Dollars played a few games. They upset the Sea Cliff Ramblers, 6-5, behind Kenny Bray's three hit pitching. Against the CFU team they went down swinging to the tune of 13-3. "Bobo" Prahovic gave them only 5 hits while his mates were getting 8 hits and 10 walks from Bray and Larry Massey. In a third tussle, they were upset by the Branford Redmen, 13-8. (Did some one say 13 was unlucky?) Down ten runs in the last inning they rallied to score five runs, but Stan Pinski put out the rally to protect his lead. Markleski and Olaszewski hit homers for the winners.

The Old Timers (they really get around for a bunch of "old" guys) had plenty of activity. In four games, they managed to win three and lose one which is a good average. They took an eight-inning affair from Summer Island, 8-7; beat Howie's Grill, 5-2, took the measure of the West Ends, 13-0, but lost a close one to Post 83, 2-1. The Old Timers play Summer Island again on August 17. In another game we have here, CFU Lodge 102 lost a game to the East Haven Cleaners, 11-10. The lead changed hands five times with the Cleaners coming from behind with 2 in the sixth to tie it, then win it with another in the last of the seventh.

Had quite a time at the Eastern Connecticut Yacht Racing Association Regatta Sunday at Pine Orchard. Spent all afternoon out on a Coast Guard boat watching the yachts sail around the 23.3 mile course through my field glasses. It was perfect weather for racing and sailing. There was quite a scramble at the beginning of the Lightning class race—must have been about eight Lightnings in a tight little bunch. They finally got untangled and sailed away. No protests, either. What impressed me was the efficient way the committee had the whole thing organized. Signals were going up and down, guns were going off, boats were coming alongside asking the course, all the entries had to be checked before the start of each race, the charts had to be tallied correctly, yet it wasn't till the finish, when boats started to cross the finish line about eight at a time, that there was any evidence of confusion. One thing is certain, there was no doubt about which boats won the race. I like the Interclubs; they're slick.

Don McCall's certainly brought the mechanical age to the Community House. The Sky Wolves, model airplane club, have a beautiful workshop upstairs in the Community House. Now, Don's laid out a race course in back of the Community House on which the boys with scooters and bikes race several nights a week. By scooters, I mean the ones with motors in them. They can really go around that track. Can't think of better ways for the boys to amuse themselves than by using their hands and their heads at the same time.
