Two Dollars Per Year

STRICTLY LOCAL

A LITTLE ABOUT THIS AND THAT

BY PAUL H. STEVENS

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Golden hours of vision come to us in this present life, when we are at our best, and our faculties work together in harmony.

—Charles Fletcher Dole

WELCOME CONNECTICUT P. T. A.

East Haven will extend a warm and hearty welcome next Monday and Tuesday to the hundreds of delegates coming here for the annual state meeting of the Connecticut Parent-Teacher Association.

Our town is honored in being the first of the so-called "small towns" of the state to be chosen for the annual state gathering of parents and teachers. The choice was made largely because of our town's convenient location and the fact that our High School, where the convention sessions will be held, is ideally fitted for an assembly of this kind and magnitude.

Supt. of Schools William E. Gillis, Principal William E. Fagerstrom of the High School, the faculty of our local public school system, the officers and members of our Parent-Teacher units, and the Citizen's committee, which has been aiding the general committee, have joined hands in hard work to make the coming of the state meeting to East Haven a memorable event.

We are sure that the visitors, those who will be entertained overnight in private homes, and those who will come for the day only, will be made welcome here, and will return to their homes carrying with them pleasant memories of their visit to East Haven.

There will be ample time, we hope, for our guests to look our town over. They will be made welcome in our busy shopping center where the Business Association has made special arrangements for their comfort. There are places of interest here they will want to visit, the oldest stone church in New England, the Town Green, where Gen. Lafayette's command camped overnight during the Revolutionary War; the Old Mill, on the site of Connecticut's oldest iron foundry; the Old Cemetery, where the first student of Yale College is buried. On the evening of the first day of the convention the visitors will enjoy a taste of East-Haven hospitality and East Haven cooking when they are entertained at dinners to be served in the three central churches, Old Stone, St. Vincent de Paul's and Christ Episcopal.

The sessions of the convention promise to be very interesting. Notable speakers will bring inspiring messages concerning home and school. There will be ample opportunity for entertainment and fellowship. Everything possible has been done to make the delegates feel at home and enjoy themselves.

The town officials, the business people, the school authorities, and the townspeople generally, join in extending a real welcome to the Connecticut P.T.A. on the occasion of its visit to our town.

TWO WELL-EARNED PROMOTIONS

The advancements announced last week by Postmaster Patrick J. Goode of the New Haven Postal District of Linus J. Swanton to be superintendent of the East Haven Branch Post Office, and of Anthony J. Caruso to succeed him as clerk-in-charge, here, were well-deserved promotions. They were chosen from a large field of candidates from the Postal District and selection of the two East Haven men was glad news to local residents.

Linus Swanton and Anthony Caruso are career men in the postal service. Each has an excellent record, and both have been postal employees, first in New Haven and later at the East Haven branch, for long periods of years. Mr. Swanton has served in the various capacities as postal clerk while Mr. Caruso has spent his years in the postal service as a letter carrier.

In civic life both men have been active. They are long-time members of Harry R. Bartlett post, American Legion and each has gone through the offices and served as commander of the local post. Mr. Caruso was in charge of civilian defense activities in East Haven during World War II.

Under the new set-up East Haveners will be assured of a continuance of the high standard of service of the local branch maintained for so many years under the superintendency of the late John T. Murphy.

WORTHY APPEALS FOR FUNDS

Two campaigns for funds are currently underway in East Haven and each is worthy of generous support. To many citizens it would seem that of drives for worthy causes there is no end—and there is no end because these worthy causes are always with us. But surely, spread as they are throughout the twelve months of the year, there can be no over-taxing of the human characteristic of generosity, as these campaigns appear on the calendar.

Mrs. Paul Goss is heading up an energetic committee which has been canvassing East Haven homes for financial support for the Cancer Society. With cancer increasingly becoming a national menace and with that dreaded disease causing a death every three minutes the clock around, there is every reason for our own self-preservation to see that the cancer war-chest is well-filled and that the war of education, research and early case-finding goes forward with even increased velocity.

Louis Rocheleau is the chairman of another committee which is also raising funds locally now. This is the annual maintenance appeal of the Salvation Army. No sales talk is needed when it comes to the Salvation Army. Everyone is aware of the religious, social and rehabilitation program of this great organization which has endeared itself into the great, warm heart of the American people. The kindly, humanitarian work of the Salvation Army brings light in dark places, a ray of happiness where misery and sadness holds sway.

Both of these drives for funds are more than mere campaigns for dimes and dollars. They supply the opportunity to every individual to be helpful in areas where help is sorely needed, not this month or this year, but all the time.

Give generously. The canvassers are doing their part. See that you do yours.

East Haven Ready To Welcome Delegates Of Connecticut P. T. A.

The 1948 annual meeting of the Connecticut State Parent-Teacher Association will bring a thousand or more visitors to East Haven next Monday and Tuesday. Preparations have been going on for months for this big gathering and a warm welcome will be extended by the townspeople.

The extensive two-day program will get under way Monday, April 26 at 1 P. M. with the presentation of the Connecticut program of action for 1948-1949. At this meeting there will be awards of state life memberships, the reading of reports and the transaction of other business.

A series of conferences will start at 3:30 P. M. for the following groups and on the topics listed: Presidents and vice presidents, council presidents, for treasurers budget and ways and means chairman; program, publicity, projects, safely, summer round-up, school lunch radio as classroom aid.

Dr. Harry M. Overstreet will serve as chairman for a symposium on developing good working relations between educators and laymen, in which the following educators, will take part: Royden K. Greeley, president, Connecticut Education Association; Miss Caroline C. Jourdan, president, Connecticut Association of Elementary School Principals; Miss Viola M. Larson, elementary supervisor; Frank H. Johnson, president, Connecticut Association of School Superintendents, and Roger M.L. add, president, Connecticut Association of School Board Members.

An organ recital is scheduled for 5:30, after which supper will be served in three East Haven churches at 6. At a meeting that evening, H. B. McCarty, national radio chairman, will bring greetings from the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. Bonaro Overstreet, author, lecturer and adult educator, will speak.

The second day's program, on Tuesday, April 27, will open with a business session at 10 A. M. This will be followed by a symposium on Health—An Objective of Education, with Charles C. Wilson, professor of public health, Yale University, as chairman. Taking part will be Allen M. Pond, assistant professor, public health, Yale University; Charles H. Abell, school superintendent; Raymond P. Walker, principal, Meriden High School; Martha L. Clifford, M.D., director of the Bureau of Maternal and Child Hygiene, consultant to the Parent-Teacher Association of Connecticut, Inc.

At noon a box luncheon will be served by the East Haven Council of the association.

The afternoon session will start at 1:30, when current questions before the association will be considered. Among them will be: What shall we do about the 1949 convention? Is it time to change to a unit-council - regional - state structure? The State Aid Bill in action, and Looking toward the 1949 Legislature.

Following this will be a panel discussion by four third-year students at New Haven State Teachers College on "What Is Citizenship Education?" Participants will be Betty Diglio, Camilla Quinn, Jeannette Sherman and Jack Hulser. Anthony Macri will serve as chairman.

Dinner will be served at 6 P.M. in the school gymnasium, and will be followed by a report of tellers on election results, reports of the credentials committee and the installation of officers. The program will close with an address by H. B. McCarty, radio station director of Madison, Wis., who will discuss "The Listener's Role in Radio Improvement."

New Fence To Be Built At Green Lawn

At the annual meeting of the Green Lawn Cemetery Association Friday night in the home of Mrs. Zeal Beach in Saitonstall Parkway an improvement program was voted. One of the projects will be the erection of a new fence along the Tyler street side of the cemetery, an improvement that has long been needed. The association will assess $1 for each lot in the cemetery to cover the expenses and donations will be asked from anyone interested in this improvement. Donations large or small may be sent to either the acting treasurer, G. Archer Quick, or to the secretary, Mrs. Beach.

Also included in the improvement project will be the repairing

CIRCUS COMING JUNE 3 & 4

Benny Goodman announced this week that the famous Hunt Circus will visit East Haven this summer for a two-night stand at the War Memorial Athletic Field at Thompson and Dodge avenue under the auspices of the South District Civic Association, on June 3 and 4. This will be the first time a circus has come to East Haven. It will be a three-ring circus under fireproof canvas with a special animal menagerie and other attractions of the big top.

Parent-Teacher Pupil Supper Set For May 7

The annual Parent-Teacher-Pupil supper and program sponsored jointly by the St. Andrew's Methodist Church School and St. Andrew's Mothers' Club, will be held Friday evening, May 7 in the Townsend avenue chapel.

The supper will be served by members of the Mothers' Club and will be followed by a program of speaking and entertainment. All children of the church school and their parents are cordially invited to attend.

The St. Andrew's Every Member Canvass, sponsored by the Finance Committee will begin this Saturday and continue for one week. Seventeen men of the parish have volunteered to call in the homes of members and friends of the church to seek cooperation in the work of the church for the coming year. The workers will meet in the chapel at 8 this Thursday evening to complete plans and receive assignments.

A ham supper is being sponsored in the chapel this evening by the Sunshine Assembly.

Church services will be held Sunday at 11 A. M. with church school in the chapel at 10 A. M. and Youth Fellowship at 7 P. M.

Salvation Army Campaign Starts In East Haven

Louis Rocheleau, chairman here sent out the following letter soliciting donations for the Salvation Army:

"The Salvation Army is making its annual appeal for funds to the people of East Haven. I am sure you will agree with me that whenever we need it, this organization does not hesitate to do its part. Its record for many years in this area as well as its work in both world wars in rendering service to our armed forces has shown its unselfish devotion to the needs of mankind.

"To continue this work contributions must come from old friends and new of the Salvation Army. The East Haven Committee is composed of, Hon. James J. Sullivan (Honorary Chairman); Louis Rocheleau, Chairman; Frank S. Glantz, Treasurer; John J. Carter, William E. Fagerstrom, William E. Gillis, Harold E. LaPointe, Leroy Perry, Alvin L. Sanford, Maurice J. Sarashin, Clifford B. Sturges, George E. Wood.

Nice Program Arranged By Garden Club

The Garden Club of East Haven will hold their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday at 8 o'clock in the Hageman Memorial Library with Mrs. Earle R. James presiding.

Russell Frank, Program Chairman, has selected "Wild Flowers" as her subject. All members will participate by bringing at least one wild flower. Mrs. Francis Flood will give a resume of the lectures given at the Y. W. C. A. by the Solon Club on "Back Yard Gardening", "Color", "Flower Arrangement", and "Horticulture with sketches she has made illustrating various flower arrangements as demonstrated by Mrs. G. Bruno Arnold.

The Club will furnish bouquets to be used in decorating the library in honor of The Connecticut Congress of Parents and Teachers. Mrs. Arthur W. Hannaway is chairman.

First Social Of Boosters Huge Success

Close to 100 boys of all ages 4 to 15 enjoyed the first social sponsored by the E. H. Boosters last Friday night in the E. H. Town Hall. From the start to finish, the evening was one of extreme interest, with money of Peveo Hockey in Madison Square Garden, featuring an East Haven youngster destined to reach the pinnacle of fame on the ice, none other than plain-sliced Jackie Norton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Norton of Geriah Avenue, both ardent followers of the ice game for years.

A two-reel film of the championship Hillhouse-Durfee High game, played in the Boston Garden, was also shown. Both the hockey and basketball movies were narrated by Harry Thompson, Recreational Director of Hamden, who substituted for Lynn Patrick, Rambler's coach.

Between sketches of the films, President Ralph Walker, awarded on behalf of the Boosters basketball charms to the players on the winning team that participated in the tournament conducted by the organization recently.

Specialty program scrolls were also presented to Jack Norton for outstanding performance as a hockey player, and to Donald Bradley, 19 year old high school student, for "outstanding courage and fortitude despite the loss of a leg", thereby exhibiting a possible career in sports.

Following the night's serious business, soda and doughnuts were enjoyed.

A humorous side of the evening came to light thusly: with 24 dozens of doughnuts ordered, the Boosters were willing to bet that plenty of the baked goods would be left over. Rather than allow any of those luscious round things to go to waste, several members agreed to what whatever remained to take home for breakfast in the morning. When the smoke of the battle and you think those kids didn't put up a battle with those doughnuts, you're off the beam) cleared, not a scrap remained. Even a few bags, when the doughnuts came, were given to the directors of the Old East Haven Cemetery for many years.

Mrs. Bradley was one of pioneer members of the East Haven Library Board a position to which she has been re-elected through the years. Both have long been active in the Old Stone church.

G.O.P. Names Delegates To Convention

At the Republican primary held Monday, with no contest, delegates were elected to the forthcoming state convention when delegates to the national convention will be chosen. The state convention delegates from East Haven will be First Selectman James J. Sullivan, Town Chairman John F. Lawler, Toohy, Clayton Andrews, John and Representatives, Charlotte Miller, Edward L. Royolds, Dorothy D. Merrill, Clifford Sturges, William Jaspers, Lyman Goddich, Joseph Rodanski, Ruth Barker, Burton Reed, Henry W. Aniz, Hiram Myers, Henry Weber, William Dursio, William Ginnetti, Florence Hoy, Rudolph Kun, Julius Kaczynski, John Mele, Mae Balz, Rudy Schmidt Jr., Herbert Bowley, Frank Wells, Margaret Finkle, Anthony Popera, Fred Borrman, Adbert Mautie, Myron Grover, Walter Woods, Jack Lawler, and Matthew Anaslato.

H. H. Bradleys To Make Home In California

Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Bradley, well known residents of East Haven for many years, plan to move from East Haven next summer to Los Angeles, California, where they will reside in the future. Their daughter and family already live there.

The Bradleys have sold their home in Thompson avenue to Dr. Donald Beckwith.

They built their home here in 1880, the year following their marriage, and throughout the years have been active in East Haven civic affairs.

Mr. Bradley was town treasurer for many years and also representative to the General Assembly. He was president of the East Haven Bank and Trust company and in years past served on many occasions as moderator of a great many annual and special town meetings. He has also been member of the directors of the Old East Haven Cemetery for many years.

Mrs. Bradley was one of pioneer members of the East Haven Library Board a position to which she has been re-elected through the years. Both have long been active in the Old Stone church.

Garden Notes

METTESOME SPRING SONG Now Spring bursts forth, as it always does.

With the primrose and the crocus And the trees producing their new green fuzz, Look safely out of focus. Now meadows carpet themselves with grasses.

Out comes the Easter lily; And lightfoot lads chase rasp-lipped asses And set extremely silly.

Now brightly blossoms the gay azalea, And sunshine warms us all, And people in Adelaide, South Australia, Get ready for the fall.

BASEBALL SEASON OPENS TODAY ON LOCAL DIAMOND

Freshman Locarno And Casanova Bolster Coach Sampson's Hopes For Successful Year—Meet Boardman Trade Today And Travel To Milford In Saturday Encounter—Captain Dave Marsh Heads Returning Lettermen.

Two freshman baseball finds have coach Warren Sampson grinning like a cheshire cat these days at Hammer Field where Branford High is rounding into shape for the season's opener against Boardman Trade this afternoon.

Locarno and Casanova, catcher and pitcher, respectively, are his reasons since it has been these two spots that have given him most concern. Boardman, he expects to take into camp but the Milford game on Saturday is a horse of a different color, he admits.

Milford under the one hit pitching of Tom Russo, whitewashed Lyman Hall of Wallingford 1 to 0 on Tuesday in the latter town and may counter with the same ace in the Branford game.

Another dark horse in the Housatonic circuit is Shelton High which upset Hillhouse High 7 to 5 in 7 inning clash in the river town also on Tuesday.

ACE LOCAL ATHLETE TURNS INTO PITCHER FOR SUFFIELD PREP

Big Jim Murphy's pitching arm is counted to rack up many baseball victories for Suffield Academy this spring. Two other boys from this vicinity, Jackson King and Gene Spaziani, both of West Haven, are also important cogs in the Suffield scheme of things.

James Murphy To Get Awards For Basketball

Coach Hugh Greer of the University of Connecticut will be the principal speaker at the Winter Sports Banquet of Suffield Academy which will be held this evening at the upstate prep school.

Headmaster Conrad Hahn said that letters would be given to the swimming and basketball teams and that Coach Stan Ward and the members of the court squad which swept the Class A championship in the New England Prep School Tourney in the Boston Gardens and which includes Branford's Jim Murphy, will be awarded special award sweaters.

Captain Edward Fitzbombs of Holyoke, Mass. will formally present the tournament trophy to Headmaster Hahn and the Academy on behalf of the basketball team.

Greer, who coaches the Uconn basketball, is a Suffield Academy graduate and was a member of the school team in 1922.

Local Keglers Prep For National Play At Detroit In May

Members of the big pin teams of Branford made a special trip to Portchester, N. Y. on Tuesday night in a tune up practice session for the National Bowling title which they will try for in Detroit on Saturday, May 1 and 2.

The Keglers were pleased with the New York set-up but were unable to roll in the consistent manner which both fives, the Bombers and the Sportsmen, have maintained all season in the City loop in the New Haven.

When the Sportsmen were unable to muster a full team Town Clerk, Frank J. Kinney bowled a creditable effort as a substitute.

HOOKS TWO

Buster Johnson was about the earliest Branford angler to report after the opening of the Connecticut trout season last Saturday. He caught two beautiful brown trout, one ten and the other thirteen inches long.

SPORTS IN REVIEW

by Bill Ahern

Probably because you have been used to watching for pennant prognostications during the past week, we should oblige by giving out our opinions as to who will win the flags in the major leagues.

To tell the truth your selection is as good as ours. Briefly the choice rests with Boston in the American League and St. Louis in the National circuit. The long shots are Philadelphia in the former loop and Cincinnati in the older association.

Actually it didn't take long to say but, like a lighthouse, we were a long time getting in the seat.

We also hold to another belief that baseball hasn't gotten over the effects of the war. The games should be some better but by and large too many men over the hill are still able to hold regular positions on most of the clubs or else their rookie alternates are too inexperienced to round out the smooth, efficient style of play we have come to expect in the majors.

We confess to another apathy. We are sick and tired of managers trying to outsmart one another.

The fact that they do it constantly proves that their players are not up to par. A well knit array depends on few substitutes and its efficiency rests in its ability to know what their teammate is doing. When a manager must use from fifteen to twenty five ball players a game, he is not a master mind; he is unwilling to make ball players by giving youth experience in the tough spots.

But this is a day of exaggerated gate receipts.

They must produce The Tom Yawkey type of owner is fast leaving the game. Syndicates demand winners. To have a winner you must have a top flight manager and assistants. High pressure publicity would every radio fan and each reader of the sport's page believe that present day players are out of this world.

A highly rated writer said in a New York publication last Sunday that there are no Speakers, Cobbs, Ruhs, Maranvilles, Pennocks or Walter Johnsons in the game today. We don't have to tell you. You know it.

Before we close the so called column let us express appreciation for the kind remarks passed along to us on last week's edition, in general, and "The Brightest Page", in particular. It was no intention of ours to try to name all the athletes who starred over the past 20 years.

Rather we attempted to cover an era. The names mentioned, did so amply, if not thoroughly. Frank McGowan, whose name should have led all the rest was omitted. Likewise was that famous schoolboy batter, Red Sanzero and Jerry

Cancer Drive To Benefit By C. F. U. Tilt

The Croatian Fraternal Union softball team is working out steadily at Hammer Field twice a week in anticipation of a Cancer Drive benefit game to be played at the Eades Street field on Sunday May 2, against the Arena Grill team of New Haven.

The team is substantially the same as last year's pennant winners and will enter the Community League and the new triangular circuit among the Croatian lodges of the state; Hartford, Stamford and Branford. The winner is assured of a trip to Pittsburgh in September to compete in the national titular play.

Old Timers Seek Community Title

Manager Ed Kamb has again entered his Old Timers in the Community Softball circuit. The rotund mentor fully believes that by now his unit has the experience and should go for in the season's play.

Only one new player has been able to break into the lineup of the veterans and that is the old high school ace, Bob Linden. Otherwise the team will be the same as last year's Dave Hylienski, Ralph Linden, Eddie Bombolski, Bud Fisher, Charlie Jones, Walt Sanleski, Bob Gillette, Vin Chestnut, Tony Sokolosky, Ed. Kamb and Herby Zampano.

Carden. In basketball, the Owens brothers were left out of the picture Tot, likewise was overlooked for his famous forward passing feat in a war year Holy Cross-Boston College football game. John Fitzgerald and Col. Donadio did not receive mention nor did the later stars; Mischler, Murphy, Orsene among others.

Missing also was Billy Panaroni, Walt Dykun and too many more. In the outboard racing world Paul Birbrrie and Al Anderson made national reputations. Art Doolittle's doubles record still stands in the U. S. Duckpin Congress play. Hugo Mann has won many important state ten-pin victories and golf with Spencer Brainerd, among others, also drew Branford into its spotlight.

The mention of these few names should emphasize our point. We were not writing a sports history of this grand town merely trying to associate the years with the Review's impressive twenty year anniversary.

WETED PLEADS AID FOR IMPROVEMENTS AT HAMMER FIELD

Semi-Pro Coach Believes That Two Hundred Dollars Would Solve Shower Troubles At The Local Field—Resigns As Chairman Of Commission To Take Clerk's Post—Collins New Caretaker

Branford High Fells Alumni In Exhibition

Branford High's baseball team is still waiting for the official opening of its schedule although at Hammer Field on Tuesday it showed fine cohesion in defeating a good Alumni team 3 to 2.

Both of its scheduled games, St. Mary's last Friday and Shelton on Tuesday were cancelled when both coaches agreed that lack of practice and general rainy conditions would not make for good baseball. The Shelton contest has been rescheduled for May 12.

A pair of freshmen looked very good in Tuesday's clash, according to coach Warren Sampson. Casanova, pitcher, worked three innings against Mel Bigelow and allowed no hits over the distance. Upholding his freshman mate was Lou Locarno who turned in a nice job in his first appearance as the receiving half of the battery. Markleski replaced Casanova on the hill in the fourth and gave up the two runs. Veterans Dave Marsh, Dick Dolan, Bob Sobolewski and Frank Reynolds also gave impressive performances.

Bigelow, Struzinski, and Ralola led the opposition's attack.

Weted, who doubles as the semi-pro coach, has his players warned to the idea of getting into proper conditioning this summer but will not allow them to jump into cars or walk home after a workout unless they are properly cooled off. Hot water showers are a vital need to the program, he insists.

Baseball and softball players would share in the benefit as well as other field activities. High school players will work out on an informal basis by taking the conditioning drills, it has been learned. Some college players, including Ed Petela, of B. C., intend to take advantage of the summer long schedule. One set of goal posts will be placed away from regular activities to allow kickers to improve on their style.

Weted recently resigned as chairman of the Hammer Field Commission to take over the important post of secretary and treasurer of the group.

The commission will introduce a plan to assess all users of the field ten percent of the gross gate, including the high school. The idea, which will bar no one using the field for financial gain, will allow the fence to be completed soon, it is hoped.

Commission members know that in the long run the school will benefit since the money games now fall far short of the attendance because of the inadequacy of the fencing. All other sports suffer in like degree.

are invited to make a try for the combine which plans an inter city softball contest as one of the highlights of its annual field day in August.
