STRICTLY LOCAL

A LITTLE ABOUT THIS AND THAT

BY PAUL H. STEVENS

BE ALIVE ON THE FIFTH

(An Editorial from the National Safety Council)

Many happy returns of the day!

Every American joins in extending birthday greetings to his country as it celebrates its 172nd anniversary on the Fourth of July. And wishing many happy returns of the day is one way to express that sentiment.

We would like to extend the same greeting to the Fourth of July celebrants themselves, and with that all of them have a happy—and safe—return from their holiday celebration.

Unfortunately, they will not.

As the fresh page of July turns up on the calendar, the National Safety Council can predict with grim certainty that 8,000 persons will be killed by accidents during the month. Thousands more will be injured, some of them disabled for life. Many of these deaths and maimings will occur during that annual jamboree of carelessness—the glorious Fourth.

The tragic fact is that this carnage need not happen. Accidents are not acts of God; they are acts of men and women and children who foolishly bet their lives for dubious rewards.

The driver who speeds to get to his destination before dark—what does it matter whether he arrives 10 or 20 minutes later?

The youth who attempts to swim across the lake—what is gained by trying to show off in front of a crowd?

The father who refuses to deny his children the "pleasure" of fireworks—what pleasure will the child derive from sightless eyes?

These people and the remainder of the 8,000 marked for accidental death in July are not a strange and nameless breed. They may be the people in your church, in your office, in your block—one may even be you if—

If you are an ostrich-like person who buries his mind in the broom, "Oh, an accident won't happen to me."

It has been said that accidents are no respecter of persons. But there is one person who is respected by accidents. He is the man who thinks before he acts, who never takes a chance just for the fleeting thrill of risking his neck, who conducts himself with courtesy and consideration at the wheel of a car.

He will make sure that he and his family will have a happy return by exerting a little extra caution to meet the extra hazards during the holiday. He will be under no illusions that he is immune from accidents.

He will remember that to be safe on the Fourth is to BE ALIVE ON THE FIFTH!

CHURCH FAMILY PICNICS

We have noted with enthusiasm the revival of the old-time church and Sunday school picnics, which, in many instances, were blotted out during the tense war years. Here in East Haven the latter part of June was the picnic season, and the church picnics were more largely attended and as thoroughly enjoyed as ever before.

There is something about a church family picnic that is especially appealing. It brings together the young and the old, and there is something doing every minute of the time from the departure of the first bus to the distant picnic park, until the last of the tired youngsters have been herded back into the buses for the homeward journey.

This year the mecca for a great many of the church outings has been Lake Compounce, set like a jewel amid the high, rocky, tree-covered hills of Southington. At least two of the churches in this vicinity wisely selected Compounce this year thereby delighting the kids no end.

In the first place, the bus ride to the lake in the early morning is a treat for everyone, then there is the ball game, a swim in the lake, and at noon the relaxing picnic dinner under the trees or in the pavilions scattered along the shore. Fellowship and restfulness wipe away the cares of the workaday world. Next comes the rides around the lake on the famous Gillette miniature railroad, a skim on the water in one of the speed boats, a visit to the merry-go-round, the rocket, and the other amusement devices, and then away to the athletic field for the youngsters and the awarding of prizes.

Times change, new customs and ways arise, but the old Church Family Picnic, thank goodness, hasn't altered too greatly.

Legion Post Preparing To Pick Officers

Commander Thomas F. McMahon of the Harry R. Bartlett Post, American Legion, has appointed a nominating committee to bring in a slate of officers for the coming year. This committee composed of Linus J. Swanton, Edward D. Angelo, Frank C. Kells, Roy E. Hotchkiss and Joseph T. Rodenski, will report to the post at its second meeting in July.

Plans are now going forward for the annual outing of the Legion Post which will be held at the popular Restland Farms in Northford on Sunday, August 15. Joseph F. Glynn, is chairman of the outing committee.

All this week the Legion is holding its annual carnival. The affair this year is taking the form of a Mardi Gras and is attracting large crowds to the grounds next to the Annex House on the Cut-off. The carnival opened Monday night with a band concert by the America Legion Band which appeared in its handsome new uniforms. The carnival will come to a close this Saturday night when the chief attraction will be the giving away of the handsome automobile which has been on display for the past few weeks at the East Haven Service Station at the Center.

HOT WEATHER COMES

East Haven sweltered under the summer sun this week with the thermometer hitting the high spots after a very late, damp and cold spring. The new playground equipment at the War Memorial Playground was set up just in time.

Mr. Sullivan also announces that Bradford Avenue, Henry Street, Bradley Avenue, Elm Street, Forbes Place, Kimberly Avenue, Russo Avenue and John Street are now being put in preparation for the summer oiling.

Booster's Benefit Show July 12-13

The East Haven Boosters will sponsor a benefit movie at the Capitol Theatre Monday, Tuesday, July 12 and 13, to raise funds to help defray the cost of present and future projects that the organization has undertaken. Up to now, all affairs staged by the Boosters have been paid for through money received through dues only and it has caused a strain on the treasury. With many projects planned for the future for the youth of the town, additional funds must be forthcoming.

Applications for membership in the Boosters are still available.

Many Enroll For Water Safety Class

A large enrollment is reported for the Water Safety program sponsored by the East Haven branch of the New Haven Red Cross Chapter, and which will open Tuesday at Monquill to continue for two weeks.

Mrs. Alvin Sanford, chairman of the local branch said that all those who plan to attend and participate should be on hand promptly at 9 A. M. on the first day. The classes will be held daily including Saturday the first week and Monday through Saturday, the second week. The classes will be held at Penton's Beach which is directly east of the Colonnade Hotel and where the Dooley contests are held annually.

Changes Are Made By School Board

The Board of Education met in the board rooms of the high school Monday night for their monthly meeting. The following appointments were made: Caryle Prawly to be head teacher in the science department taking the place of Carl Garvin, who is now principal. Marjorie Tierney as audio-visual director, also due to the promotion of Mr. Garvin. Mrs. Gable Kostlin of New Haven was appointed to teach in Grade One in Gerrish Avenue School. Miss Patricia Ballentine of Kingston, R. I., to teach home-making. All of these appointments are effective at the new school term in September.

Miss Josephine Long, third grade teacher in Union School, tendered her resignation. Miss Long plans to enter another type of work.

and service people and finds them eager to participate in this joint program to call attention of the people in this neighboring communities to the advantages of East Haven as a shopping center.

Time Drawing Near To Open Branch Bank

With the finish floor being laid this week and with other details of construction fast nearing completion, East Haven's new Branch Bank to be opened at Main Street and Childsey Avenue will soon be ready to commence operations.

An announcement of the date of opening, the kind of services to be extended the East Haven and vicinity public, and other details, which have long been awaited, is expected to be made with the next few days.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank and Trust Company of New Haven, which is opening the Branch here, Alfred B. Bowden of 6 Bishop Street was elected as manager of the new branch. The meeting was held last week.

Mr. Bowden is a veteran of 28 years banking experience and has spent much time during the past several months in gaining experience and training in branch bank operation.

Sherwood Brosseau, who joined the First National staff on April 10, 1924, and who saw service in World War II, has been selected as commercial teller at the new branch bank. Mrs. Marie McGuigan whose service dates to 1941 will be the savings teller, and Mrs. Mildred S. Pascale will be the block machine operator. All have been receiving intensive training both at the main bank and at the West Haven branch. The janitor of the new branch bank will be James S. Krowl of Short Beach.

Mr. Warren Crawford of Edward Street, one of the officials of the First National Bank, and a long-time East Haven resident, is in charge of the over-all arrangements in setting up the new branch, and has been largely responsible for this move toward giving East Haven a modern banking institution. He said this week that a complete banking service will be offered the public of East Haven and vicinity the only exception being safe deposit boxes.

The two new stores adjacent to the bank in the new building erected by Martin Olson were both occupied this week. A children's and infants' wear store was opened for business last week and the other store was moved into on Monday by The Castle Shop a reupholstering firm which has previously been situated in West Main Street.

Describe Teacher Who Is "Vital Help"

Article by Charlotte McNerney and William E. Gillis Featured in Journal of Education

Supt. of School William E. Gillis and Elementary Supervisor Charlotte McNerney are joint authors of an article entitled "These Are Our Vital Help" which appears in the May number of the Journal of Education, a national publication for school executives and teachers. We are pleased to be able to quote from this article as follows:

"Often I become awestruck, amazed, and even humble before a type of teacher of whom, for want of loftier designation I shall call our vital help. She is prevalent in all school systems and represents a substantial section of any teaching force.

"Miss—may be in her twenties or over forty. She may still have the curves, the gaiety and vivacity of capricious youth, or she may have the extra bumps, greying hair, and sagging complexion of middle age. But she is neat, tidy, and style conscious. She is as smartly dressed as women of her own age in other fields of work.

"It is not these items, however, that concerns us particularly, for age takes its toll among all of us. But our Miss—has not stagnated.

She has a natural dignity acquired through the responsibilities of her position. This might be mistaken for severity but she is an understanding an amiable person. She has grown professionally, socially and personally, despite the fact that she has worked for lackeys' wages. She has been confronted with overcrowded rooms, bursting with scams with hellions who are brimming over with enthusiasm and twentieth century ideas. She has taught all day. She attended courses (which she paid for herself) half the evening. She has attended P. T. A. meetings the night she wanted to do something else, but parent contact was more important to her. She has bought books, magazines, joined professional organizations, paid for the out of her meager salary. Yes, and she has bought many bottles of milk, paid for hot lunches, provided clothes for some poor wail whose need was realized only by her. Visited ill children, given unstinting of her time to outside help. She has constantly sought the cooperation of parents, has visited them, and has tried to help each youngster with his special problems.

"She has begged and pleaded for materials, from outside sources, that would help her in her daily work. Then she has carted and lugged them to school. She has given of her vitality to her daily teaching. Many times she has gone home exhausted, carrying papers to correct and books to use in planning work.

Fine Tribute To Qualities Found in So Many Teachers Who Are Asset To Every School System

"She reads magazines and newspaper for articles of interest to her class. She attends teachers meetings, almost always after hours. She is forever collecting 'things'. She works on committees for growth and improvement—

"She also is able to weather interruptions caused by collections of milk money—money for other drives—paper and waste collections; she enters into community drives.

"Maybe she has taught one grade for several years but she brings to it rich experiences of preceding years. She may change grades every few years and bring to each class a wealth of new ideas. A mental rut is within one's self, not in any one grade, for life is ever fresh and new, filled with wonderful things constantly unfolding."

SWIM FOR HEALTH In the summer months swimming becomes one of the most popular outdoor sports. Beaches are crowded with children and adults seeking relief from heat and humidity. All is well if the beaches and pools are maintained in a sanitary condition. If they are not, dangers to health may include infections in the nose, sinuses, and ears occur more commonly in persons who swim with their heads under water for appreciable periods. Swimming instructors stress the importance of proper breathing.

Clear, healthy ears are ordinarily not affected by water. However water will cause any wax material in the external ear canal to swell and produce pressure and temporary deafness. And if there is a hole in the eardrum, water may enter and infect the middle ear. There is also a possibility that swimming in unclean water may cause infections in the nose and be drawn into the middle ear.

The chief diseases that are transmitted in swimming pools are inflammation of the eyes, boils, and other infections in the ears, chronic inflammation of the ears, chronic sinusitis, sore throat, various infections of the skin, particularly the so-called athlete's foot, and infection of the bowels with dysentery.

One authority says that few cases of infection develop from swimming in the ocean or in rivers or lakes where people are not packed too closely together. One crowded beach, however, they are constantly exposed to possible hazardous health conditions.

THE CONNECTICUT LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY A Business-Managed, Time-Saving Company

OUR CUSTOMERS ARE NEVER SATISFIED... AND WE'RE GLAD OF IT!

Typical of Americans generally, our customers are never satisfied with things as they are. If someone can produce a better automobile, a more useful ironer, or a more durable living room rug, they want it. By spending their dollars with businesses which produce the best product at the lowest cost, Americans have encouraged the development of an intensely competitive industry which, in its unceasing effort to meet old demands and create new ones, has brought to the United States the world's highest standard of living. Looking to the continued progress of our standard of living, business today is experimenting with new products based on new ideas—expanding to provide more products, or a better service, for its customers. The Connecticut Light and Power Company, for instance, is rushing to completion an extensive program which will help provide vastly increased amounts of electricity to our customers. Chances are we'll never completely stop adding to our power generating equipment, for as new products and services make an even higher standard of living available, our customers will demand even more electricity. Like all Americans, they're never satisfied, and that's a good thing.

SNET Company Installing Dial System

Mr. O. S. Chapman, manager of the Branford exchange of The Southern New England Telephone Company announced this week that work is underway on Branford's new dial telephone system. "The new building on Main Street has been completed. It will be the home of what we call the 'central office'—the heart of the new dial exchange. Specially trained telephone men will be busy in the building during the summer months, installing the dial equipment. This will be a big job, involving thousands of individual wire connections. A great deal of testing must also be done. When the installer replaces your present telephone with a dial set, he will place a temporary number card over the dial. At the time of the change to dial operation we will replace manual telephones with dial sets. As our men visit each party-line subscriber, they will replace the line to give an unnumbered wire. When dial will be necessary on party lines. When dial service becomes effective, it will be necessary to change all telephone numbers. We can't tell you just yet what your new number will be, but we will have this information for you before the change is made to dial operation. Here's Why—The reason why your number must be changed is because the dial equipment operates on a different numbering plan than your present service.

GUILFORD ART LEAGUE SHOW

An Outdoor Show, sponsored by the Guilford Art League, will be held on the Green in Guilford, opposite the Greene Gallery, on Saturday, July 3rd, from 10 A. M. to 6 P. M. Anyone interested in exhibiting is cordially invited to bring paintings to the Green during these hours. The only requirements for exhibits are that they be priced at $25 or less, and that 25% of the sale price will be paid to the league. Exhibitors must make arrangements for someone to be present with work displayed. Mrs. Gertrude H. Kerth of Madison is in charge of the exhibition.

In previous years, the clothingline shows have proved invaluable in bringing art to the attention of the general public, which sometimes hesitates to enter a gallery. The Guilford Art League hopes, with the aid of the congenial atmosphere of these shows, to let people who "don't know a thing about art but but know what they like" have an opportunity to see, and perhaps want to own, a work of art at a price which they can afford.

NEW Haven County Leads Connecticut In Paralysis Fund

The 1948 March of Dimes in Connecticut raised a total of $395,000. It was announced today by Judge John T. Callinan, of Bridgeport, state chairman of the annual fund raising appeal of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. This amount exceeds the 1947 total by approximately $25,000.
"This splendid result means that we will be able, barring an epidemic to continue our full program in behalf of the children and adults who are stricken with the disease," Judge Callinan said. "The response of the public is indeed heartening, and we owe also a great debt of gratitude to the county and local directors who deserve a major share of the credit for our success."
Judge Callinan revealed that New Haven County reported the largest gain in collections with a total of $91,696, an increase of $8,531 over last year. Martin A. Cattaneo, of New Haven, vice-president of the Southern New England Telephone Co., who was county director, was highly commended by Judge Callinan for reporting the largest amount ever collected in New Haven County for the infantile paralysis program.
"Mr. Cattaneo and his local chairman not only established a new record for their county," Judge Callinan declared, "but they also overcame a lower return by Washington, D.C.; Friday, July 9, 8:00 and 8:30; Philadelphia, 8:25; Saturday, July 10, Red Sox - Washington, 2:00 and Braves - Philadelphia, 8:25.

TURN THE SUMMER HEAT AROUND - KEEP IT OUTDOORS!
(Scientists call it "Reflective Insulation")

Sounds like a wild promise doesn't it—turning the sun's hot rays around the very second they hit the walls or roof of your house? But that's just what happens when you insulate with ALFOL House Blanket.
The secret is this: Heat rays can't get through aluminum foil. In fact 95% of all radiant heat is reflected back to its source when it comes up against ALFOL ALFOL House Blanket provides one or two layers of aluminum foil attached to a heavy moisture-proof paper—and that keeps your house cooler by many degrees in summer—warmer in winter.
It's easy to apply, too. Just measure it, cut it and tack it on the roof rafters, floor joists or studs. No mess, no dust, no dirt. For economical insulation call us.

SPORTS FAMILY

BY BILL AIHERN

In western Pennsylvania, about the steel mill district of the city of Pittsburgh, the Croatiens of that area believe that the top family in Slav sports is the boxing family of the Zivics, four brothers who became ring artists with varying degrees of success. The crown princes of sport are the members of the family of Michael G. Laich.

In Connecticut, the Zivics are merely boxers but the Laichs are the golden pages of time in nearly all chapters of the sport's book.

The story should properly go back to the time when poppa Mike was a prime necessity. He fought professionally in and about Chicago and battled so well that he faced Jack Johnson, former colored heavy-weight champion, inside the ropes, and although he lost he failed to lose any prestige.

The revelation serves only to prove that in the professional ring, the Branford family knows its way around.

Thereafter Michael G. gave his attention to raising a family.

His first born, Margaret early displayed an interest in swimming and basketball although sports for girls was not encouraged when she was a high school bobby soxer. Nevertheless she did manage the girls basketball team there before she displayed her excellent thespian talents, mostly as a comedienne, for the devotees of local dramatics. Then came, mostly as a comedienne, for the devotees of local dramatics. Then came, mostly as a comedienne, for the devotees of local dramatics.

The second born was George Francis, known throughout the wide circle of his Connecticut friends as "Battler". A really fine athlete "Stretch" turned out to be although in the early days, it was strictly "Stretch" George was playing with the Branford Tanks on the state armory court when he was fourteen years old and also played with Branford High under Ray Schimmel, when he was a sophomore. Immensely strong, he won a lineman's berth on Branford High's gridiron teams and then renounced it to become a back.

His ability never reached the heights however until after he left school, with a sheepskin and a sheepish look, in 1930. That very fall he picked up the slack and became the most sensational pass receiver the town has ever known when he started taking the pitches of West Haven's Johnny King, from his halfback position.

His father, then the owner of a restaurant on Main Street, offered the boy a five dollar bonus for each touchdown he made and the boy promptly had his pockets filled with spending money. No doubt, Mike suspected that the whole team conspired to give Battler the payoff.

So, if so, he can now learn that he was right; for with the utmost confidence of youth Johnny King allowed big George to kill two birds with one stone—to win the game and to put the bee on poppa.

Basketball found him at his peak when he teamed up with Birdie Hart, Mink Swirski, Joe Resjan, John O'Tell, Bud Fisher, Duke Lacko, Wine Brannigan, Carl Monteloni, Stu Clancy and many more to become the regular forward on the Branford Alumni.

That outfit was colorful but their chief hue came from George Francis Laich. He was a team player and a terrific man underneath the baskets. The more clever floor men used to deliberately lead Battler just beyond his reach to watch him sprawl while diving for the ball.

His biggest asset was his ability to pull his mates together while the going was the toughest. Fans can recall watching a big Alumni lead fade away and the team appear to become disoriented when Laich would call time out, gather his mates in a huddle, and then break apart with everybody roaring. Many times needless interruptions of play were called merely because Battler had just thought of another joke. They may have been interruptions but they sure paid off.

About that time, in the middle 1930's, western Pennsylvania got its first glimpse of "Stretch". It was in Branford at the first inter-sectional basketball game between the Steelton C.F.U. and the Branford Croation Lodge, which contained a fine collection of "Micks". Steelton was considered extremely good but the locals copped the duke in a thrilling affair in the old Redmen Hall.

Even in baseball he was considered above ordinary for he had a flyhawk's ability to pick putouts out of the air. He did a creditable turn on the mound with a terrific fast ball and a crazy hook, but spoiled it with some of the wildest hurling ever witnessed in the erratic confines of a fan's memory.

Later he turned to softball where he played an excellent game for many seasons. Today he maintains a stout interest in the C.F.U., but his heart is in the power boat anchored to the rear of his home on Goodsell Road, where he lives with his wife, the former Alice Horrigan of Meriden, and their family.

Behind George came Catherine, who without doubt was the finest girl athlete ever to represent the town. Others including her sister Eleanor, went farther but none had more ability.

While in high school she led the Branford High girls to the greatest seasons they have ever enjoyed but her ability dates away back to the early days of the Branford Aquatic Meet sponsored by the Community Council.

Before twelve she was copping every swimming prize open to her on the schedule. Her diving was remarkable and her confidence was unbounded. Season after season she paced all point getters until her room at home became cluttered with trophies and badges and medals.

In her first try in state swimming competition she set a new mark for the 100 yards and the 220. She took all major honors at the Clear Lake Manor meet some years back.

In the mid-thirties she entered the Register Cross Harbor Swim, where the rules said she must be accompanied by a boat. After arranging for one, the swimmer started out bravely under the assumption that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points. Others swam with the tide figuring that its aid in finishing the race would offset the extra distance.

Until one half mile of the finish Catherine led the pack but the constant battle took her strength and she finished a creditable fifth. She never swam in competition again, claiming that her eyes bothered her while in salt water.

She did go on in the hoop game, though, becoming a star with the Middletown Speedgirls and later with a traveling girls team.

A whole column should be devoted to Eleanor and her experiences as a member of the All-American Red-Heads, America's top female professional quintet.

Marie lived apart from athletics being content to follow her mother's skill in culinary arts and Joe, a shy, hesitant kid played only sand lot sports until he entered a big game as a U. S. Marine. His hesitancy vanished thereafter and today Joe plays an excellent court game with the C. F. U., and a better one in hearts. You see, he is soon to be married.

Reds-Townie Contest Will Feature Fourth

Although Fire Marshal Ernest Wood has decreed no fireworks, he reckoned without the game scheduled for Hammer Field on Sunday afternoon when Branford will oppose the East Haven Reds in a baseball game that promises a bang in every inning.

The game will be a regularly scheduled one of the New Haven Baseball League and will mark the first regular contest between the two arrays although they met in a pre-season practice clash some week's ago.

Despite two very tough losses in league play, the Reds have produced indications of a heavy hitting array and have some top pitching material in Roger Frey and Lou Simon. The latter chucker hurled no hit ball for six innings against the Edgewood Boosters, last year's winners, last week but weakened thereafter although some atrocious support aided his downfall.

Coach Joe Orsini of the locals has indicated that big Jim Murphy will get the starting nod although he admits that he was impressed with Bigelow's gallant five hitter against the Hamden Townies and may make a shift in the latter's favor.

Both the coach and team members are enthused over the recent acquisition of Willie Proto to the club. The brilliant infielder will give Branford additional experience in the field and his plate power may be the difference between winning and losing the hunting.

Play will start at 3 and the natural rivalry between the two towns insures a hundred dollars worth of fireworks for the price of admission.

Branford Loses Heart Breaker 6-5

Pitching wildness on the part of Eddie Sobolewski enabled the Branford Hornets of West Haven to defeat the Branford Townies in a regularly scheduled game of the New Haven Baseball League last evening at Hammer Field.

Down 6 to 2 going to the final inning, Branford threw a terrific scare into the Hornets when with the bases loaded and two out, Jackson uncorked a Sunday clout for an apparent home run.

After he had rounded third, the local centerfielder fell as he struck a soft spot thus becoming an easy out before he could scramble back to third. The loss leaves Branford with a 2 and 2 record for the season thus far.

Hartford Bows Before Raging Croatiens 8-1

Lashing out with terrific thirteen hit attack, the C. F. U. set a hot pace for the other state Croatian clubs by smothering the Hartford Lodge in the Insurance City last Sunday by an 8 to 1 score.

The big gun in the local barrage was speedster Frankie Yasavac who pounded out four singles in five trips. His brother, Anthony, classy shortstop, belted out two hits, including a double and contributed many fielding gems in the Laichmen victory.

All starting players hit safely at least once with the locals tallying one in the first, three in the second and four in the fourth. The home team pushed its single counter across also in the fourth.

The pitching duties were divided between Resjan and Prahovic with the latter getting the starting nod.

Townies Edge Hamden, 2 to 1

In a postponed game against the Hamden Townies, played on Monday night at Rochford Field in Hamden, the Townies gained its second win in three starts by ekling out a two to one verdict in an abbreviated six inning go.

Jim Murphy's timely double in the first frame scored Dolan and Jackson with the two local tallies and Mel Bigelow pitched masterfully in the clutches thereafter to safely clinch the contest.

Murphy's pay-off clout came with three on and two out. Dolan had singled. Ralola had fanned. Jackson reached on an error by DeMattis. Marsh struckout but Bigelow walked setting the stage. After Murphy's hit Bradley popped to the catcher MacFayden, to end the inning.

The home team got its tally in the fifth when Russo was issued a pass and pilfered second. He went to third and Kissel's infield out and counted on Marsh's error. DeMattis flew out to center to end the inning.

Although the opening batter, Alfano, tripped to start the sixth, Bigelow's adroit handling of the following three batters, all of whom, popped out, save the win.

Hamden got five hits for a total of nine bases in losing and Branford rapped out four hits for seven bases. It was Bigelow's first start of the season.

The stocking schedule for the period 14-18 included the following waters:

District III (New Haven Area) Branford River, Branford, North Branford; Schreeder's Pond (Chatfield Hollow Pond) Killingworth; Beaver Park Lagoon, New Haven; Quonnapaug Lake, Guilford; Millane's Pond, Cromwell; Reservoir Brook, Portland. Bible Rock Brook, Middletown, Haddam.

Fishing Extended

The Connecticut State Board of Fisheries and Game, at a meeting on June 24, announced an extension of the trout fishing season on the following streams to October 31: District 3 (New Haven Area) Branford River, Muddy River, Coginchaug River, Chatfield Hollow Brook.

Kaceys Defeat Locals Before Sunday Crowd

Early inning ineffectiveness on the part of Jim Murphy gave the Knights of Columbus its 5 to 2 victory over the Branford Townies at Hammer Field last Sunday although several brilliant plays on the part of the Elm Cityites in the late stages saved the win for the duel pitching combination of Sullivan and Lynch.

Lombardi counted in the first half of the second inning for the visitors when he reached on a single and went to second on a passed ball. He was awarded third when Murphy balked and scored on a wild pitch. Dempsey's single in the same frame, with two out, went for naught.

The locals evened the game in their half when Marsh, who had a perfect day, walked, and went to third on Bigelow's single to left. When Bradley reached on Lombardi's miscue, the right fielder counted.

The Kaceys pushed ahead in the fourth when Kelly walked with one out. Dempsey also reached when an attempted fielder's choice went awry. Lombardozi sacrificed Kelly who was nailed at the plate, Ralola to Bernardi. Sullivan singled and Burke likewise hit scoring Dempsey. Sacripello fanned to end the frame.

The invaders tallied three times in the fifth when DePalma and Lombardi singled and doubled respectively. Finn walked. Kelly hit a bunt single to push across one run. Dempsey fled out to Dolan. Two runs counted on the next putout by Dolan, who bobbed a slow grounder by Lombardozi but managed to make the play at first. Sullivan fled out to Lynch.

Although Branford threatened many times thereafter, they were able to mark up only one run; and that was in the seventh when Newton walked and Berardo singled to right. Dolan fanned but Ralola singled Newton home but Bernardi was out trying for third, Jackson grounded out catcher to first for the final out. Branford threatened in the eighth when two men reached with no outs but Lynch nabbed Bigelow's great bid for a hit and doubled Murphy on first before collapsing from the force of the line drive which he stopped in the groin.

The New Haveners reached for nine hits, mostly early in the game, the Townies, on the other hand, were able to rack up seven bingles in an interesting game before approximately 150 persons.

Softball Game Tonight Will Benefit Doc Kelsey

Review School Adds Six Boys To Player List

The under fourteen baseball players, sponsored by the Branford Review, will witness pictures of last year's world series at the Community House this evening beginning at 8:30 before entering the more intensive phase of training at Hammer Field on Saturday afternoon with some of the best local coaching available for the afternoon's clinic which will be headed by Wally "Kinky" Klarman, former coach hurler of Holy Cross and a veteran of many years of professional play.

An innovation was added to the local setup for the summer, last week, when it became known that the Community Council will operate a weekly league at Hammer Field during the days for the benefit of the youngsters.

At least five teams will be forthcoming from the Review School. The circuit will commence play during July and will operate until inter-town games start between boys of the same age bracket of East Haven, New Haven and Hamden in August.

Six new players were added to the roster last Saturday afternoon. They are Joe Zurovsky, Bill Austin, Harry Corning, John Zurkus, Joe Moore and Bob Dwyer.

Tonight's pictures will feature films on how to play ball. The film will be shown through the courtesy of A. G. Spaulding Company of New York City.

HARRY JOHNSON, BOB SHOEMAKER COP BOAT RACES

Harry Johnson of Branford and Bob Shoemaker of East Haven were winners in the Outboard Races sponsored by the Hartford Yacht Club on the Connecticut River Sunday.

Shoemaker won both heats of the 10 H. P. Class with Lewis Anderson of New Haven second. Harry Johnson won the first heat in the 50 H. P. Class beating out Jack Whitehouse of Springfield, winner of the Albany-New York race. In the second heat, Harry was nosed out by Whitehouse and finished a close second.

Two spills added to the afternoons' excitement when John Dolan of Devon was thrown from his boat when it hit a rough spot and Jack Norkin of Morris Cove was rammed by another boat and went overboard.

Four hundred tickets have been distributed for tonight's softball game to be played between the Branford Sportsmen and the C. F. U. for the benefit of Vermont Kelsey, injured Stony Creek outfield star.

The two teams have met twice before this season with the latter unit copping both decisions by narrow margins, 2 to 0 and 8 to 7.

Two of the state's top hurlers will oppose each other in tonight's feature. George Van Malen will take the hill for the Croats and Tex Black, tobacco chewing speedball artist, will toss for Dave Hylenski's nine.

Two other players have received serious injuries in the Community League this season. Jerry Devlin broke his arm and the veteran Stanley Opinski had his ankle broke in four places. Devlin received $120 in a previous game played between the two clubs. Opinski will receive the proceeds of a game to be played between a picked team of Community League stars against Roessiers of New Haven at a later date.
