TWO DOLLARS PER YEAR

CLANCY-HOLCOMBE LEAD DEMOCRATS TO VICTORY IN HEAVY BALLOTING HERE

Town Clerk Margaret Tucker
Only Republican Winner in Close Election Race

Eighty-seven vital-important votes and the First Selectmanship of East Haven were Democrat Frank S. Clancy's Monday night when the polls closed. Of the 5,143 ballots cast for two the candidates running for the post equivalent to that of mayor in larger communities, former Third Selectman Clancy garnered 2,615 to nose out his opponent, Republican Frank Barker, by the slim eighty-seven vote margin. The latter becomes Third Selectman.

In the race for the Second Selectman slot Democrat Alfred F. Holcombe registered 2,629 votes to prevail over John Mele, the Republican nominee, who had 2,502 votes cast in his favor, by 127 tallies.

The only Republican to dent the Democratic armor was Margaret J. Tucker, for the past twelve years Town Clerk during the administration of Republican First Selectman James J. Sullivan, who, in a 2,574 to 2,558 vote victory, retained her office by a majority of sixteen ballots over Democratic bidder Flora Sherman La Pierre.

The newly elected town officers took over their duties Tuesday morning marking their return to town hall for the first time since 1937. Judge Armen K. Krikorian swore in the new incumbents Monday evening following notification of their nearly clear sweep of the town posts. The ceremony took place at the Democratic headquarters on Main Street which was the scene of the victory celebration.

Among the early visitors to the Democratic camp were former Republican Town Chairman, and many of the defeated candidates who extended their congratulations to James Gartland, Democratic Town Chairman, and the victorious candidates.

Clancy who won his berth in the closest town election on record, was prompt to thank the voters on behalf of himself and the rest of the Democratic candidates.

The complete breakdown of the election returns in the four districts is presented in an adjoining column. In each instance the candidate with the majority vote was declared the winner. In the Board of Education contests three out of the four candidates take office. Seven out of the eight candidates for constable also assume the position.

$52,239. More Recommended
To Run Town Next Year
By Board Of Finance

The recommended budget for 1949-1950 which the Board of Finance will submit at the adjourned town meeting on Monday evening, Oct. 10, calls for total appropriations amounting to $721,813.01. This represents an increase of $52,239.64 over last year's budget which called for $669,573.37.

The Board, made up of George E. Wood, Leslie B. Redfield, John J. Mulhern and Peter G. Weber, estimated the total revenues to finance appropriations as received from indirect revenue to be $128,472.00, $102,325.00 of this amount is figured as coming from the State of Connecticut. Direct revenue from property tax, based on 2 1/2 mills on $23,288,275.00, comes to $583,541.01. The total appropriations are thus figured to be $721,813.01.

The largest increase in the budget requests is asked for the schools. Last year's $370,024.97 appropriation was upped $30,499.24, so that $400,524.21 is requested. An increase of $14,529.00 for interest and notes over the 1948-49 figure of $12,082.50 amounts to a bid for $27,211.50.

Another sizeable amount asked is $40,000.00 for bonds. Last year $30,000.00 was appropriated. A difference of $10,000.00. Decreases on the other hand were noted in some of the requests. The largest was that of $12,400.00. This drop is noted in the figures for contingents, and represents in the present a decrease of $12,400.00 as opposed to the previous amount of $34,800.00.

Some other savings are $315.00 in County taxes, the difference between $5,792.50 and $5,477.50 and $5,450.50 denoting a decrease in the highway department budget from $22,975.50 to $17,525.00.

Hansen Wants Safety Check For Home Fires

Urges Local Citizens To Observe Fire Prevention Week
October 9-15

A single afternoon or evening will be enough time to rid your home of the most common fire hazards, Fire Chief Ernest Hansen said today in urging local citizens to join in the nation-wide observance of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 9 to 15.

"The first step is to clean out the cellar," the Chief said. "Most families have stacks of old magazines, piles of discarded clothing, and even piles of furniture stuck away down there."

"All it takes is a spark from the furnace, or a defect in the wiring, or a carelessly dropped cigarette to start a fire in the cellar. Once it is started, it is particularly difficult to bring under control if these piles of fast-burning paper, cloth, and wood are there to supply fuel."

The National Board of Fire Underwriters estimates that one out of every three home fires begins in the cellar, the Chief said.

"The next step is to clean out the attic, which is another danger spot," he said. "By cleaning up your home this week, you may keep it from burning up next week."

The Chief also suggested these "Four Steps to Fire Safety":

1. Have the complete heating system inspected, cleaned, and repaired by an experienced repairman.
2. Provide covered metal containers for ashes and trash.
3. Avoid hanging extension cords over bare walls or running them under rugs, as this causes dangerous wear. Replace worn extension cords.
4. Always call in an experienced electrician for necessary home wiring, because "home handyman" have been responsible for many fires traced to faulty wiring.

Old clothes, newspapers, and magazines tucked away in cellars and attics cause many fires in homes, the National Board of Fire Underwriters warns. The fire experts suggest that attics and cellars be cleaned out during Fire Prevention Week and then kept clear of quick-burning cloth, wood, and paper.

MRS. DOOLEY MOVES
Mrs. Marlon H. Dooley, East Haven correspondent for the East Haven News, has moved from 246 Main Street to 41 Green Gardens Court. Her telephone number, 4-4682, remains unchanged. News items may either be left at Mrs. Dooley's home or phoned to her weekdays after 4:30 and on Saturdays and Sundays all day.

TOWN TOPICS

by John E. Loeb

The elections have come and gone and so have a lot of the faces we were so used to seeing in Town Hall these past 12 years. Reflecting on the campaigning, we think Frank Clancy won by virtue of firing the opening gun. On the day the Democrats opened their headquarters on Main Street, which many dubbed the new Town Hall, we wandered in while out on the news round-up and found the new First Selectman vigorously pursuing flies with a spray gun. We checked to see if the GOP's were enjoying heavier artillery such as an aerosol bomb, but such was not the case.

One election story we like, although there are those who say it's not true, is that the Dems were sweating out a three vote deficit with all votes in but those from Momaugan. As the story goes, the ninety pro-Democratic plurality from out there turned the tide.

Those of you who send in your news items to our East Haven correspondent, Mrs. Marion H. Dooley, will want to know that she has moved from her 246 Main Street address to 41 Green Gardens Court. The phone number remains 4-4682. Call her up and welcome her to her new home, and incidentally pass along a hot news item. You can do this anytime after 5:30 weekdays and all day Saturdays and Sundays.

Others who have used moving vans of late are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Altro, formerly of 639 Main Street, who are now living at 340 McKinley Avenue in the Elm City. In the new corner department are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Butler of 39 Summit Avenue who came to East Haven from New Haven. Then there's the Dominick Golia family who also moved across the New Haven line and are living here at 12 Frances Street. Mrs. Jean Jantzen comes to 172 Vista Drive from Pelham, New York. New Haven was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kenyon of 176 Vista Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ally, until recently of Meriden, take their place in the community at 245 Hemingway Avenue.

National Guard Seeks Recruits In E. H. Drive

Headquarters At 301 Main St.
Will Be Opened Saturday
For Week's Campaign

The 102nd Infantry Regiment, Connecticut National Guard, stationed at the Goffe Street Armory, New Haven, will conduct a recruiting drive at 301 Main Street, East Haven, from Oct. 8 to 15.

This drive is being held to familiarize the men from East Haven and vicinity with the many opportunities available to them by being a member of the National Guard. If sufficient interest is shown a unit comprised of East Haven men will be formed by the 102nd Infantry Regiment.

Among the many advantages of being a member are good pay for drills, retirement pay, a chance to become a skilled technician in one of the many interesting fields open in the Guard and participation in sports and social activities.

Equipment used in every phase of infantry operations including radio, wire, kitchen, maintenance, weapons, clothing, and vehicles will be on display. There will also be an exhibit of trophies and battle souvenirs collected by the regiment during its long history and movies will be shown each evening.

The recruiting station will be opened from 7 to 10 P. M. evenings and from 2 to 5 P. M. Saturdays.

THE GREEN THUMB

BY BILL AIHERN

Away back, a score of years ago, long before the days of sports pressure, a blond scientist had the coaching reins of a small Connecticut school thrust into his hands. No extra money passed his way and lush athletic coffers were unknown.

Practical experience was not the basis of his teachings to a handful of youngsters, who for the most part were willing but unable, but rather he pored dog-eared, sport manuals searching for time-tested football plays and basketball coaching methods.

He asked nothing and gave all for the various youths who sought to make the squads which he turned out for Branford High, in the late twenties, when Laurel Street bubbled with the effervescence of adolescence; when the flapper girls sundae at the O'Connor Block, across from the Green.

Nygard's trucks served as game transport except for special occasions when Alton Crisman would bus the team and its followers to Shelton and Derby and other seemingly long distances. Afternoons for the non-athletes were lazy hours spent in the tonneau of Nelson Cooke's Dodge or Stan Bodycow's flivver.

Money was not the motive for athletic contests and every night basketball game was followed by a dance with music furnished by Bob Dzomba's orchestra. Dzomba played the saxophone, Twirt Bradley the drums and Keith Brown the piano. The big affairs were mastered by Bill Harvey and his band which had Dave Baldwin, Al Ward and Whit Marsh, among others.

With the elevation of the chemistry teacher to the one-man coaching staff, a shining array of athletes added careless luster to the classes of Soule, Bender, Feldman, etc. Study was a means of staying eligible rather than preparing for future problems.

Speedsters like Bud Mischler, Earl Houde, Bub Reynolds and Lou Uhl had hefty ball carriers brushing the middle of opponents' lines. Sam Beach, Art Senburg and Tom Williams provided much of the weight.

Aldie Clapp was an All State selection at one end and Pat McGowan was equally as effective on the other. Peter Donofrio, Mike Infantino, Bernie Anderson, Rudy Johnson and Wild Clapp were rock-fast defenders of the Branford goal.

The unit compiled a brilliant record as football players. Even more impressive was the basketball team of McGowan, Mischler, the Clapp brothers, Johnson, Reynolds and Uhl. That combine topped the state title in the C class tourney at Storrs in 1927.

They were efficient long before Ray Schimmel became their coach. And the teacher knew it.

It became his job to hold the boys down. The years in the Clapp backyard had given them a polish that few high school mentors can ever hope to present on a scholastic court. He was merely to be the cloth which kept them that way.

The drills were good-natured sessions with everybody joining in the rally. Yet in the midst of the fun, Ray Schimmel's patterns were being performed until they became a part of habit itself. Blackboard sessions indicated the easiest cutting lanes; shaded backboard areas showed the angle of bank shots.

The title was the answer but most people assumed that the team was born not made. A weed just grew into a beautiful plant. But the town was grateful. Somewhere enough money appeared to buy the team red wool sweaters with a gray B blocked into its design. They were cloaks of honor worn by with distinction by the players, the manager and the coach.

Eventually physical education came and a new teacher in a new high school. Theory gave way to fact and sports moved into game receipts.

About the same time two remarkable boy violinists were fiddling their way into the hearts of the student body.

So proficient were they that the students would not let an assembly pass without their presence. The pupil gatherings were not weekly occasions but took place quarterly in Library Hall.

It developed that the chemistry teacher could play the piano. Self-taught, he was as good with the songs of the day as he was with the long hair stuff. Once he devised a bit of piano trickery in which he played, "My Wild Irish Rose" in eight different styles.

It was a sensation.

With a few weeks a school orchestra was born. The director was the same Mr. Schimmel. Arthur Barker handled the percussion and Evelyn Steueck the piano. Val Steueck was cellist. Bernice Sheppard was among the second violinists.

Within two years the group was the most remarkable school orchestra in the state. Chamber music was its forte and the boy violinists went on to greater music heights until a tragic accident robbed Arthur Lethonen of the use of the tendons in his right hand. Harry Lindberg is still playing hereabouts although mostly in the church work.

The New Haven School of Music recognizing a lush field obtained permission to give lessons after school hours. Nearly every girl yearned to be a budding violinist and all boys became either saxophone or drum enthusiasts. The Pottery Club, as a project, sponsored a band which died a natural death after several months of practice. From the residue of the organization the professor formed a school band.

Less than twenty were in its make-up but some good musicians played. Arthur Donofrio, who now conducts the Soldier's Chorus of the U. S. Army Ground Forces Band, was among them. So, also were the Palumbo brothers, Nick and Frank. The former was a member of one of the regiment bands in the South Pacific during the recent war. Kirk Cadwell was a trumpeter, Gordy Baldwin and Walter Allen were trombonists and Bob Williams tooted the bass horn. Elmer Newton banged the drums.

Collectively they didn't play good but they sure were loud. Mr. Schimmel vacated his spot as conductor and joined the unit as a trombone player. But, he forced himself to learn all the wind instruments until he could give any, who wanted to join, the basic rudiments of their implements.

He was a real hot man with the slush-pump s'mear. But if the townspeople shook their heads each Memorial Day when a bunch of enthusiastic kids paraded down the street to doubtful harmony and questionable time, the same folks applaud each appearance here of the smart-stepping East Haven Legion Band. Over fifty percent of its members are Branford residents who got their music start with Ray Schimmel's boom-boom boys.

The Schools' Band, now, is under professional direction. Its present leader, has done a remarkable job with the youth of the town. Many who might never have given expression through athletics or dramatics or studies, have found a place in the school world through music.

And Ray Schimmel has retired—except for his science and his wife, the former Rita Sullivan, and his child. He has retreated to the Cape Cod gem, he fashioned with his own hands. Each nail was driven with his hammer. Each board was measured by his eye.

But he has yet another avocation.

When the trials of a rough school day get him down, he hastens to a tiny greenhouse which he fashioned to the south of his Hotchkiss Grove home.

There he experiments with flowers, mostly chrysanthemums. He likes the Fall, posey because it requires little care during the summer months when he takes his brood to Portchester, N. Y., his birthplace.

Today he has over five hundred plants of the hardy type in over fifty of the newest varieties.

His yard is a riot of autumn color as the mums vie with maples and elms and oaks and apple trees for eye-catching splendor.

In special beds, the experienced gardener will note unusual types of blooms, some of which measure four inches across the face. Questioning with ferocity that the biology teacher knows a bit of botany too; for he has crossed-bred several varieties which show remarkable promise.

Each week-end he can be seen about his yard. On days when it is especially cool, he wears an old, red sweater, shaker style. No longer is it sharply creased and the B sometimes is dirt stained.

It gives more than material heat to the wearer. It has heart-

HORNET-EASTIE CLASH SLATED FRIDAY NIGHT WILL DRAW THOUSANDS

West End Stadium will be no place for those afflicted with weak hearts this Friday night when the annual dog fight, called a football game, takes place between East Haven High and Branford at 8 P. M.

All the thrills usually present when the rivals meet will be amplified for the Easties are represented by their strongest squad since the inception of scholastic football here and Branford has twice risen from underdog ranks to topple better than-fair adversaries.

In addition the Crisman coached combine has a score to settle, based on the upset victory Branford High registered last Thanksgiving Day.

Three factors are the outstanding reasons why East Haven will be favored side from its individual brilliance.

1. The backfield is a well coordinated unit ranking in ground power and aerial potential with the best in the state.

2. It easily overbalances Branford's sixteen man first line squad in size and depth of material.

3. It is a veteran unit.

But Coach Frank Crisman will realize such instruments are not enough.

Branford fans are elated over the spirit of its representatives. Considered no better than an even choice against St. Mary's it rolled to a convincing 12 to 6 win over St. Mary's which was beaten 12 to 0 by East Haven last week. The Branfordites also upset a heavily favored Derby array 13 to 0 at Hammer Field. Also, its offense was good enough to tally three times against the Galloping Gaiels of Shelton, although it dropped the encounter 35 to 19.

The chief offensive threat up to the present moment is opportunistic Lou Locarno, a brilliant pass catching end and a speedy, if inexperienced, halfback, Wilbur Washington.

Washington and Blake Lehr, both on the injured list, were not used against Derby last Saturday. Lehr is a veteran fullback and rates as the most efficient blocker of the B. H. squad.

The Easties, through their injury troubles too. A tough backfield loss is Lou Paolillo, who was injured in the opening contest, a practice game which the schoolboys played against the Alumni.

On the first play following the opening kickoff Locarno hid himself near the sidelines, took a sleeper-pass from Vince Casanova, and ambled to the Derby five yard line. A fumble followed by an unsuccessful line plunge and an incomplete pass put the ball on the ten yard strip at fourth down. Casanova then lofted a pass into the end zone which Locarno grabbed for the touchdown. Bob Polastri's kick was no good.

Coach Leo Ryan's Raiders had numerous offensive marches stopped by their own fumbles and the Hornet's defense, but with seven minutes remaining in the ball game they seemed headed for a score.

End Tom Ludiano blocked a Branford punt and recovered on the Hornet's Guy Romangna plunged for a first down on the 25 and Guy Greco hit for two more yards over center. Quarterback Frank Pasuzzo then flipped a pass to the high flank which linebacker Locarno intercepted on the 25 and carried 75 yards for the final tally. Polastri converted to give Branford its 13-0 margin.

Without the services of their flashy fullback, injured Wilbur Washington, Locarno was utilized as the Hornet punter. In the second quarter the versatile end got off a boot that carried 84 yards—from his own six to the Derby ten.

Branford High Upsets Derby On Local Grid

Two sterling catches by end Lou Locarno paced Branford High to a well deserved 13 to 0 win over Derby High at Hammer Field last Saturday afternoon.

Although the locals had been decided underdogs against Leo Ryan's heavy footballers, the Red Raiders reckoned without the spark of Branford High which fanned into a flame when the junior standout grabbed a sleeper pass to set up the first score and then produce the six points when he went high into the air to snatch Vin Casanova's accurate toss in the midst of a pair of Derby defenders.

His sensational eighty yard run in the settling shadows of the October afternoon after he had intercepted a valley town aerial provided the Sarnpsmen with the insurance score.

With only fourteen first line men ready for action Branford's offense was stymied. Ryan's eleven was credited with eight first downs and the losers were left with only five yard gains.

But the tally sheet did not show the speedster, Wilbur Washington, or the chunky line smasher and blocker, Blake Lehr, out of the fracas.

Consequently Coach Warren Sampson could play only defensive ball except for time stalling devices designed to stall the powerhouse pigskin advance of wily Ryan and his crew.

Derby threatened many times but the green Branford line with Captain Don Atkinson standing out, repulsed the ground charge. Brilliant also in defense, were Dick Coleman and Ed Murphy.

Yellowjackets Pace St. Mary's In Rough Fray

East Haven boom boom boys, an alert group of high school griders, uncovered a pair of first half scoring punches in their game against St. Mary's last Friday night at West End Stadium to win a rough jouster 12 to 0.

The tilt was marred by frequent penalties.

For the third time in as many games, the Crisman proved the excellence of their backfield. Redman and Mautte were terrific on the stadium terrain and pass pitcher, Ron Rossetti, only slightly behind in matching the pair's thrilling play.

For one half the Blue and Gold dominated the scene but through-out the second half, penalties blocked their offensive thrusts and spine tingling defensive work by the men of Horace Marone further halted their sorties. The Easties were set back 145 yards throughout the rough evening.

Ron Rossetti, East Haven quarterback, started things rolling in the dying minutes of the first quarter as he returned Tom Maher's punt ten yards to the St. Mary 28. Penalties nullified gains by Redman and Mautte, but in two more tries the duo advanced the ball to the 13-yard stripe.

After a penalty pushed action back five yards, Redman, the Eastie fullback took command and skirted left and for 13 yards and the touchdown. Carafeno's conversion attempt was low.

Mauttee had the crowd on its feet midway in the second period with a twisting 62-yard into play-dirt on the ancient Statue of Liberty play. Officials ruled, however, that the flashy halfback had stepped out of bounds on the 50 yard line.

Hal Henry drove off tackle for 28 yards at this point and a Rossetti to Mautte pass gave the victors ten more a minute later. With a first down on the ten, Redman drove to the one-yard line and Mautte scored over left tackle. The kick was wide.

Coach Horace Morone, without the services of his first string quarterback, Pat Donahue, lost his brilliant freshman passer, Sandy Listro, in the second quarter. The St. Mary's casualty list mounted rapidly in the rugged second half.

Listro was taken to the Hospital of St. Raphael with a possible brain concussion. Hospital authorities said X-rays would be taken today to determine the exact nature of the injury.

Laurels Ready For Sunday Go Against Easties

The Branford Laurels will attempt to crack a record this week. In East Haven, the Rams will seek to preserve one. Both cannot succeed because on Sunday afternoon, the two squads will oppose each other in a game which promises much action.

West End Stadium has been set as the battle arena.

Branford, which has been sorely pressed for a climax runner came up with one this week when Willie Panaroni wiped the dust from his well scarred cleats and joined the Green forces.

Coach Walt Tamulevich is confident that his former teammate will answer the team's prayer for a passer and a runner. Coupled with Tookey Tamulevich, the pair could spearhead a heretofore blunted attack into a sharp pointed lance capable of tremendous possibilities. Line coach Nick Dykun and end coach Ed Gatavaski are of the same opinion.

But East Haven is leaving no stone unturned as it preps for its most feared rival.

Coach Art DeFilippo has had his charges working overtime this week in an effort to prepare them for the Sunday encounter. Duke Pesca, the battering ram in the Eastie attack, is in fine fettle for the clash. The Duke scored the lone East Haven touchdown in last Sunday's fracas.

Competent Central Board officials will handle the whistles.

Jim Murphy and Bill Mischler were among the basketball candidates reporting to Coach Hugh Greer at the University of Connecticut on Tuesday.

WHO COMES IN...

WHEN YOU GO OUT?

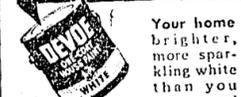

Have you ever thought of the shock you'd get if you came home some night to find that vandals had broken into your house and had done much damage? Even if they didn't steal anything, their vandalism would still mean a heavy financial loss to you.

Residence and Outlets Theft Insurance covers this situation and also gives you an iron-clad guarantee that theft, burglary and holdup losses will be made good. Call us or stop in for further details.
