TOWN TOPICS

The accent is on youth, according to reports concerning the January 27 dance sponsored by Fr. Regan Council K. of C. to be held in the Main St. Club rooms. We say accent on youth because this attair is thrown open to the public, with a special invitation to all young of the town. Of course, all members of the Council are cordially invited, too. As there will be no advance sale of tickets, admission will be paid at the door, 60 cents per person. Refreshments will be available. Music is to be furnished by Richard Fortino and his orchestra.

Inside information has it that several specialty numbers will be on tap, furnished by members of the Knights.

Reland Cahoon, bulwark in the E. H. High football squad line, had quite a session on the surgery table, undergoing a 3 hour operation on his inffected knee, the result of action on the gridion. A long convalescence will be necessary before Rollie can put the leg to rough usage, we hear.

This actually happened at Rotary some time ago but bears repeating. A visiting clergyman was quizzin't the members on what they had learned since becoming a Rotarian. Answers were based around Rotary ideals until Joe Sutherland was queried. "What have you learned since joining Rotary, Joe?" was the poser. The printer rose to his feet and replied. "The first verse of the Star Spaneted Banner." That broke up the quiz.

Save-The-Children Bundle Day To Be Launched Monday

A Save-the-Children Bundle Day Drive to collect serviceable, used clothing will be launched in the East Haven Public Schools on Jan-uary 22nd, School Superintendent William E. Gillis announced today.

William E. Gillis announced today. The drive, which is part of the Ninth National Children's Clothing Crusade conducted under the auspices of a national committee of school superintendents, will last fr five days. Clothing obtained will be distributed by the Savethe-Children Federation in its program of assistance to children in isolated rural areas of the United States and in seven European countries. pean countries.

Two million pounds of wearable clothing has been set as the national goal. Last year in the Eighth National Children's Clothing Cruede, near the control of ing Crusade, nearly three million pupils took part in 813 bundle days in some 40 states and raised a total of 1,300,000 pounds.

Clothing collected by the Federation is distributed abroad-for the relief of needy children in Austria, Finland, France, Greece, Germany, Holland and Italy. Save-the-Children Federation representatives in Europe report that clothing needs are particularly acute in Greece, parts of Italy, and among refuges in Austria and Germany. At the start of the year, there were four million refugee children in these two countries alone.

In America clothing is distrib-

In America clothing is distrib-uted in low-income rural areas of eight Southern and Mid-Western states and on Navajo Indian Re-servation, in which the Federation servation, in which the rederation operates its sponsored school program. Many of the children in the American areas served, come from families with cash incomes of less than $400 a year. If it were not for the Bundle Day collections, thousands of these children would not be able to attend school dur. not be able to attend school during inclement weather because of lack of proper clothing.

Dr. W. Howard Pillsbury, former president of the American Association of School Administratrs, and chairman of the Federation's National Advisory Committee of School Superintendents, points out that the public school bundle day that the public school bundle day "provides a practical and effective means of clothing collection, and, at the same time, teaches youth in our schools to share with the less fortunate. A sense of brotherhood will be fostered and a foundation laid for international good-will by participation in the National Children's Clothing Crusade." Superintendent Gillis said that wearable clothing of all types, in both baby's, children's and adult sizes: blankets, sheets and other bedding, and pairs of outgrown shoes are needed.

"I hope we will give a bit of ourselves with these gifts, by cleaning and mending the garments so they will express our good wishes for the children who receive them," he said.

A large number of shipping bags have been ordered from the Federation, and leaflets will be given to all children in the school system to take home during the week, staling the purpose of the drive and asking the cooperation of parents.

Forces Increase In Subscription Rates

Gwing to the steadily increasing costs of newsprint and overhead expenses, the Branford Review and the East Haven News has been forced to raise its yearly subscription rates fifty cents a year.

The increase is the first made by the paper since it was introduced twenty two years ago. No advance in the newsstand prices is anticipated at this time although most other weeklies have increased this field also.

New subscriptions and renewals will henceforth cost $2.50 per year.

Blakely, Geelan Resign Posts On Education Board

A MESSAGE TO THE PEOPLE

There is a strong movement in Washington to draft our eighteen

I am strongly opposed to the drafting of eighteen year old boys for military service, but at this time, due to the unsettled condition of the world today, with clouds of war easing their shadows over our heads, and one cloud of war already bursted in Korea, with extremely sad results, I am highly in favor of drafting eighteen year olds for military training as a precautionary measure.

You may ask what difference there is in being drafted for military service, or being drafted for military training, My own interpretations are: 1. When a person is drafted for military service, he is being drafted as a potential front line fighter. Past experience has proved to us that eighteen year olds in general service, receive no special privileges or exemptions because of their age. They have been sent to the front lines after receiving very short and inadequate basic training. 2. A person being drafted for military training is being drafted for training purposes only. He cannot be included in a general draft to the front lines without first having his status

Under the latter regulation, we could feel quite assured that our eighteen year old boys would receive proper training before being sent to any actual field of batle. On the other hand, if an emergency should arise, where it would be necessary to use these boys, their status could very well be changed to meet the situation.

Therefore, I am of the opinion that our citizens and organizations cheefed a carried to the country of the country tions should be strongly opposed to the drafting of eighteen year old boys for general military service.

The move was the latest in a series of developments concerning the election of Hugh J. Blakely and Thomas Geelan to the Board of Education succeeding Bart. Gaffney and Earl Tucker.

The resignation of a pair of School Ecard members last evening cancelled anticipated Superior Court action slated for 10 this morning.

Gaffney and Earl Tucker.

The G. O. P. minority on the Board contended that the pair were illegally elected and had sought an injunction to restrain Blakely, Geelan, Tucker and Gaffney from attending board meetings.

Blakely and Geelan both resigned Wednesday evening which now leaves the Board with four Republican members and three Democratis.

The Nation is now observing Printing Week, appropriately, niversary of the birth of the most famous of American printers, Benjamin Franklin. Printing is worth more than a casual thought. It was the nvention that did most to free the mind of man in the mass. It gave men easy access to the ideas of others. It opened the discoveries of others to minds capable of building upon them. It is not too much to say that the capacity of mankind for advancement remained in strait jacket until the device of printing became common. The ancients developed valuable ideas and made a considerable quantity of scientfic and mathematical discoveries but the records of them, locked in a few hand-written manuscripts, were accessible to only a few, and these not always the right persons. Printing, by broadcasting these records, made it easy for them to fall under the eye of those who could and would put them to use.

The destruction of the library at Alexandria, the greatest collection of books in the ancient world, was a blow from which civilization did not recover for centuries. Its manuscripts were not easily replaceable, if at all. Destruction of a modern great library, while regrettable enough, would be no such loss to the world. Apart from sentimental values, practically everything exists in plenty of printed copies elsewhere and can easily be reproduced.

In the Little Chapel in the Glem last Saturday afternoon at 4. Miss Bertha Ann Vahldieck, daughter of Mr. Gustav Vahldieck of Route 80. North Branford became the bride of Mr. Wallace O. Anderson, son of Mrs. Hilda Anderson of 9 Montowese St. Branford, and the late Julius Anderson. The Rev. Raymond Clarke presided at the candlelight service.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Gustav Vahldieck Jr., as matron of honor. Mr. Lawrence Cawley of East Raven was best man for his bicther-in-law, and Mr. Gustav Vahldieck Jr., brother of the bride, ushered.

The bride wore a magnolla pink gown combining a bodice of lace prinkled with rhinestones and a full skirt of crepe. Her pink satin hat was trimmed with veiling and she carried a cascade of white roses centered with an orchid.

The matron of honor wore a royal blue crepe dress with a matching hat, and she carried a cascade of yellow snapdragons and pink roses.

A reception was held in the chapel parlors. Assisting in receiving guests the bride's mother wore a teal blue crepe dress, black hat and talisman roses corsage. The bridegroom's mother wace an aquamarine blue dress, black necessories, and a corsage of talisman roses.

Awards Offered for High School Snapshooters

AT the moment I've got what I | used in a school publication-but consider a very worth while | if they've been used in another

A T the moment I've got what I consider a very worth-while suggestion for high-school-age snapshooters. I suggest that you do two things with a single purpose in mind.

That purpose is to wm your share of the $3,500 prize money being offered in the 1951 National High School Photographic Awards. The two things for you to do: (1) cast a critical eye over those pictures you made last summer and in the fall for possible entries, (2) get busy right now with your chamera and make some shots especially for the contest.

You're eligible if you're a regularly enrolled student attending daily any public, private, or parochial high school (grades 9 through 12) in the United States. You can enter any picture you've made—without professional help—since April 15, 1950. It doesn't matter whether you do your own developing and finishing or have it done commercially. This is a contest limited to black-and-white pletures; so don't send color work. Be sure the print hasn't been retouched. Enlargements are welcome, if they aren't larger than 7 x 7.

The pictures (you can enter as many as you wish) may have been olue weol costume, a fur coat, a navy blue hat trimmed with gold requins, and an crehid corsage, Upon their return after January 20, they will reside in Route 80 North THE PHOTOGRAPHER IN your 'azalea give you greater enjoyment in the home. Grow the plants in a rather bright window and see that they get a uniform supply of water at all times. Roots should never be allowed to run dry. After the plant flowers, keep it in a well lighted window where it will continue to make growth. In Spring, after danger of freezing, plunge the contract of the contra after danger of freezing, plunge the pot in the garden and keep it moist during the summer months. If the soil seems poor and leaves of the plant are yellowish, repot the plant using plenty of peat moss, because plant are yellowish, repot the plant using plenty of peat moss, because an acid soil is needed for growling azalea. They are one of the few house plants which are acid lovers.

Before frost in the Fall, bring indoors, place in a cool, well-lighted place where it will not freeze. A bedroom window is usually ideal. About January 17st, it may be brought into the living rom to flower.

Salt used to melt ice on driveways and walks should be used with caution. Common salt (sodium chloride) or calcium chloride, which is used as a substitute seeps into the soil and severely inpures trees, shrubs and other foundation plantings. Next spring their leaves will appear as though scorched and lacking the lustre of a healthy green. Evergreen needles brown and drop. Rather than salt, use sand or ashes. If you must use salt in quantity, flush the soil around the roots with water early next spring. This will help bleach out the chloride. Remember too that salt used on frozen gutters or lease is just as dangerous when it drips into foundation plants.

If you want a real good show with out much trouble, you can always rely on the Coleus plants. They have bright leaf color of green, red and yellow. You get the best color when grown in full sun. For shapely thick plants, pinch tops out when five or six sets of leaves have formed. Keep flower buds plucked off. Start new plants from stem cuttings rooted in water. Another good item is English tyy (Hedera). This vine prefers to be grown out of direct sun. Cuttings start easily in water, plants will grow in water or soil. Jade plants have thick leathery leaves, grayish green in color. Every home has one of these foliage plants. Jade plants like a light or sunny location. When plant

Judging from the figures in the last census, it seems that the area around the North Branford center has gained about six hundred new inhabitants. Perhaps not every one of these can visit the Atwater Memorial Library frequently, and no doubt many of this number are not yet guitte up to much reading anyway, but to every one who likes bocks and magazines the library extends a cordal and neighborly welcome. It's no trouble at all to take out a borrower's card, and the reading room is a pleasant place to spend a half hour in. Also it's a good place to meet people, and learn what your new neighbors are like. The library is open Monday and Wednesday afternoons and evenings, and also Saturday ·Want to get there fastest, with the mostest, for the LEASTEST? Then you'll want to take a good look right away at these new Ford Trucks for '51. "Economy Leaders" is no empty phrase. It's a FACT, a mighty important fact in these times when business costs are rising.

You'll find Ford engineering has stopped ahead with many new features . . . in engines, transmissions, axles, bodies . . . all designed to cut your costs on any job. And you'll find the proven POWER PILOT, that goes to work right away to give you the most power from the least gas!

Choose from over 180 models. Choose from four great engines, V-8 or Six as suits your job best. Whichever you choose, you'll have America's ECONOMY leader. Come in today and get the facts. .

This is the symbol of Ford's Power Pilot . . . which gives the most power from the least gas for you in every kind of truck service! Its economy has been proven on thou-sands of trucks . . . at all speeds, under all loads and conditions!

The Power Pilot is a simpler, fully-proven way of getting the most power from the least gas. It automatically meters and fires the right amount of gas, at precisely the right instant, to match constantly changing speed, load and power requirements. Using only one control instead of two, it is designed to synchronize firing twice as accurately. You can use regular gas . . . you get no-knock performance.
