A Piano in good condition, is sorely needed by a worthy group (we don't care to divulge at present). If you have one, or know of any available one, you call 4-6872. We guarantee you won't be sorry.

Legionaire Bob Travis will take his lovely wife to their new home, recently completed in Orange Center Road late this month. Bob is downright proud of his future residence, one of real country beauty.

The peacefulness of late winter has been shattered now that baseball—good old major league baseball has begun to be held over on local radio stations. With the start of exhibition games played throughout the warmer clime of southern states, the perennial Red Sox-Yankee arguments flourish louder and hotter.

Loon for several chances in store locations soon for the future families over head signs denoting the presence of your favorite place of barter will take on new locations. We'll let the individuals directly responsible for these moves be the first to tell you. You'll be surprised.

Jimmy Carr, jr., son of smiling pharmacist Jim Carr, at Micalaf's, was delightfully surprised by grandpa, "Pop" Carr, when presented with 2 honest-to-goodness standard size baseball bats in commemoration of his 12th birthday anniversary last week.

After a winter of hibernation, Dairy Queen prop. Ken Lingfelder once more doling out his creamy products to our and seems that Ken has his season in a flurry of snow. His debut on Main Street came last year on April 13 amidst an unseasonable baby blizzard. Some roes for this season's opening last week.

Big laughs rose from large crowd at Monday night's testimonial dinner to Fire Chief Tom Hayes, when New Haven Fire Chief Paul Heinz advised Mrs. Tom Hayes not to worry about the wearing out of new easy chair, which was presented to Tom as gift from friends, as the new fire chief wouldn't have many comfortable hours to spend in it. Fire fighting is a family business, he said.

Dayton's certainly started the ball rolling in the right way with their generous contribution of a $50.00 Merchandise Bond to the East Haven Woman's Club, to be given away complete to Cancer Society. These are sponsoring the drive locally this year and if the townspeople pick up half their enthusiasm for this great cause our town will go over the top and then some. Help the Cancer Society by contributing to the fund, second to replenish your wardrobe. Ten cents might do it you know. Tickets are widely distributed through organizations, stores and from any member of the club. Just in case you can't locate them just call Mrs. A. Holcombe, Chairman of the Committee at 4-5289.

East Haven's Charlotte Freeman is making like a cat at New Haven Teachers College where she shares with the College Glee Club. Her most recent appearance was in Huntington before the Mr. and Mrs. Club of the Congregational Church.

A circular bar will feature Pat Fiorio's plans for a new cocktail bar at his Main Street place following the recent fire. Red and buff to be the color scheme and forty-five feet serving area will take care of most of his trade. Plans eight new tables with seats to line the walls.

SCHOOL CONCERT WINS PARENTAL APPROVAL

Soloists Give Program Clever Pace As 400 Applaud Youngsters' Efforts—Miss Hildur Svenson and Mrs. Wilhelmina Direct.

About four hundred parents and friends of the East Haven High School Music Department were present in the school auditorium last Saturday evening for the tenth annual concert given under the supervision of the Directors of Music, Miss Hildur Svenson and Mrs. Wilhelmina Strandberg.

The audience was enthused with the choral work of the seventh and eighth grade groups as well as the High School Chorus and the Frosmann and Senior Glee Clubs.

The program was well rounded and spaced nicely through the efforts of pianists Beverly Gordon and William Webster, accordionist, Richard Fortino, organist, Marie Strandberg and instrumentalists Nicholas Pellegrino and Pacifico Fiore, all of whom appeared in solo numbers save the last two who presented "Harbor Lights." Miss Gordon offered Chopin's Etude, "Ocean Wave" and "Waltz No. 7." Fortino presented Gershwin's "Body and Soul" and Webster played Tosti's difficult "Serenade." Miss Strandberg offered Marhall's "Romance" on the school organ.

The program opened with the High School Chorus singing, "Gounod's Sanctus" from St. Cecilia's Mass and followed with Wagner's "Evening Star."

The Freshman Glee Club then presented the gay "Villa" from Lehár's "The Merry Widow" and "Gay Pleats" by Tejada.

Miss Svenson took over the baton when the Eighth Grade chorus presented five songs, "The Magic Boat," a Brazilian Air, "An Afternoon in May," a Latin American tune, and "Morning Serenade" a Mexican folksong. Gounod's "Send Out Thy Light," concluded their singing.

The seventh grade chorus was heard in the next choral group presenting Warren's "God of Our Fathers," Borntiansky's "Vesper Hymn," a Kentucky folksong, "Down in the Valley," East Shore melody and "Dawn," "Who's That A-Calling" and "Peace" by Koschat.

The High School Chorus came back to sing Dyke's "Holy, Holy, Holy," Murray's "Madam Jeanne" and "Who's That A-Calling" by Whitcomb, before the Senior Glee Club sang Bernard's, "Winter Wonderland" and Wilson's "Cindy."

The program concluded with the High School Chorus singing "A Montezuma Club" by Estley and a Mazurka arrangement of "I Love Life."

All numbers were spritely accompanied by Lorraine Whitney, Lillian Lewandoski and Beverly Gordon.

East Haven Bill Due For Action

Senate Bill 215 introduced by Senator William Jaspers of East Haven will be the subject of the House before the Committee on Cities and Boroughs.

The subject of the Bill is "Consolidation of Members of the Board of Finance in the Town of East Haven."

Building Program Speeded In Feb.

East Haven's building program is looking up for the Spring months according to the number of building permits issued from the office of Building Inspector Arthur R. Rocca during February.

Twenty five permits for construction were allowed the estimated cost of the completed buildings to be $77,800. Inspector Rocca indicated that the program was tremendous in view of curtailed supplies and high cost of labor.

Although the completed cost is estimated to reach $81,800.

Other business transacted during the month of February included the issuance of sixteen plumbing licenses, three licenses to practice electrician's work, one license to install oil burners and three licenses to sell fuel oil.

Thirty nine electrical permits granted and forty seven oil burner permits allowed. Permission to install plumbing was granted in forty cases.

Seven septic tank permits were issued and 27 power pump permits allowed. Six were given the right to excavate in the streets.

Eight extra electrical inspections were made at various places.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS HOSTS TO JOHN BARRY ASSEMBLY

Father Regan Council No. 3300, Knights of Columbus will be host on Monday night to the John Barry Assembly.

The Council will hold a second degree for twenty five candidates on Friday evening, March 30, and the third degree on Monday, April 2nd in the K. of C. Rooms on Orange Street, New Haven.

Capacity Audience Thrills Fire Chief Thomas J. Hayes

Out Of State Friends Help Swell Occasion To A "Swell Guy"—Town Officials And Visiting Guests Loud Hayes At Testimonial Attended By More Than Four Hundred Friends.

"It couldn't happen to a nicer guy." With those words to describe the tribute tendered to Fire Chief Thomas Hayes, recently elevated to that position in the town's fire fighting service, Toastmaster Thomas Gagliardi closed Monday evening's testimonial dinner speaking program, held at the Weeping Willows and attended by a jammed-packed hall full of sincere well-wishers of the honored guest.

Floor space and seats were at a high premium at this grand occasion, in which friends and relatives in responding to this planned tribute, and no doubt the committee in charge of the affair were more than grateful to see such a turnout. Actually, the number of ticket sales must have exceeded the honest expectations of the hard-working committee under the able supervision of Toastmaster-Chairman Tom Gagliardi. It was a great climax to several weeks' planning and hoping.

Principal speakers introduced by the toastmaster were Rev. John O'Donnell, Fire Marshal Ernest Hansen, Fire Chief Edwin Priest and First Selectman Frank S. Clancy. New Haven Fire Chief Paul Heinz also took the speaker's stand and drew the plaudits of the assembly with his adept remarks in favor of sustaining a first class fire department with proper cooperation of both town officials and townspeople.

Many local people of prominence were also asked to take a public bow, of which were members of the Boards of Public Safety, Finance and Selectmen.

A touching scene was enacted with the introduction of the mother of the honored guest, a Springfield resident, Mrs. Mary Hayes. A woman of few words, Mrs. Hayes spoke a few heart-warming words in praise of her son's honor.

Following this, an announcement was made by the toastmaster that earlier in the day, a gift from those who attended the affair, was delivered to the Hayes' home. It was described as a large, comfortable easy chair, which, in the words of Chief Paul Heinz—"You won't find time to wear out, chasing fires."

First Selectman Clancy presented both Mrs. Hayes, the elder, and Mrs. Hayes, the younger, with portraits of the guest of honor.

Before the honored guest was called upon for a word, he was presented a leather-bound guest book autographed by everyone in attendance as a memento of the occasion and also a plaque inscribed "For untiring effort and faithful leadership to the Town of East Haven." To a grand person, Chief Thomas Hayes, from his many friends. He was also presented with a purse.

Just prior to the final moments of the evening's program, Chief Hayes rose to express his solemn and sincere thanks for an evening long to be remembered. His promise to do his very best in his capacity as leader of the Fire Department of the Town of East Haven was not the least bit doubted by any one in attendance.

I was a great night for Tom Hayes. "It couldn't happen to a nicer guy."

Ignatz Nalewajk Buried On Friday

The funeral of Ignatz Nalewajk, father of Mrs. Estelle Costanzo of 42 Helmington Avenue, East Haven was held from the Frank De Lucia & Sons funeral home, 528 Chapel Street, Friday morning and in St. Stanislaus Church where a solemn requiem high mass was celebrated by the Rev. Stanislaus Nalewajk, nephew of the deceased. The Rev. Eugene Szyska was deacon and Dr. Rev. John Eymulio, subdeacon. Burial was in St. Bernard Cemetery where Father Szyska read the committal service. Besides his daughter, the deceased, Ignatz Nalewajk, had five grandchildren and three great grandchildren and a sister in Poland.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nesbit of Elm Street left this week to spend the next fortnight in Florida with friends.

Cancer Appeal To Be Centered Around Dance

The Cancer Appeal of East Haven will be built around a series of social events designed to give local donors something for their money. It was explained yesterday.

Foremost of the event will be a big Ball to be given in the Town Hall Auditorium on Friday evening, April 6th.

The entire campaign will be handled by the East Haven Women's Club. Other fund raising activities will be included in the month of April, club members stated.

As a starter, the Women's Club will handle the details of the $50 merchandise bond being given away to the holder of the lucky ticket. Mrs. Alfred Holcombe is in charge of the merchandise.

Assisting her on the committee are Mrs. Robert Hartman, Mrs. Andrew Kmetz and Mrs. Frank Prerost in charge of distribution. Mrs. Frank McDonald, Stores; Mrs. Forrest Dolen Jr., Organizations; Publicity, Mrs. Ralph Hurder; Book at Dance, Mrs. Harris Anstey and Mrs. Joseph O'Connor; Returns, Mrs. Robert Hartman and Mrs. Paul Goss.

The dance will be run under the principles of the oldtime President Ball and, it was said yesterday, will be the only major dance function in East Haven during the year aside from the Legion Ball which is held outside the environs of town.

Dress will be semi-formal.

Easter Seals Provide Help For Children

Mrs. Asa Hunt, East Haven chairman of the 1951 Easter Seal Drive, appealed this week to all residents to contribute to the welfare of a handicapped person through the purchase of the seals, which have been mailed to all residents.

Eighty-five per cent of the funds raised, Mrs. Hunt pointed out, are retained for the support of the New Haven Curative Workshop at 136 Chapel Street, New Haven, where the Crippled of all ages may receive training which will enable them to overcome their handicaps. Occupational and Physical therapy are here administered by skilled technicians to victims of cerebral palsy, polio and other crippling diseases and to adults injured by accident or stroke.

The remainder goes for the work of the Connecticut Society for Crippled Children and Adults which operates Camp Hemlocks in Nichols, a camp for crippled children, and for the national organization for education and research.

"This important program is dependent upon the sale of seals," Mrs. Hunt stated. "If all who received seals would respond, even in a small way, this work would be assured of continued success."

Teachers' League Makes Ready For Annual Election

The regular meeting of the East Haven Teachers League was held on Monday afternoon, March 12, in the Haseman Memorial Library, served, Miss Cele McGovern, vice president.

Proceeding the meeting tea was in the absence, due to illness, of the president, Miss Hildur Svenson, the business meeting was conducted by Miss Rose Di Francesco, vice president.

The following committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ruth Legge, was named to prepare nominations for the May election: Miss Lucille Forest, Miss Mary Ryan, Mrs. Madeline Link, Mrs. Katherine Kavanaugh, Miss Elsie Palmer, Miss Gertrude Harrison and Miss Zita Matthews.

Mrs. Ellen Switzer of Radio Station W A V Z was the guest speaker. Mrs. Switzer gave a most interesting and informative talk about the work of this local station, describing in detail the activities, programs and methods used in offering an outstanding educational and community service to the New Haven area.

Mrs. Switzer announced that WAVZ was on Monday being awarded the national "oscar" for outstanding radio service.

The League is making plans for its annual teachers' banquet which will take place in May. Miss Elizabeth Ritchie is chairman of the committee in charge of this activity.

Annual Sunrise Service Stated Easter Sunday

Clarence S. Brenner, chairman of the Citizens' Committee, announced last night that the annual Easter Sunrise Service for the East Shore communities will be held on Easter Sunday, March 25, in Fort Wooster Park on the summit of Beacon Hill.

This has been an annual event for more than a score of years. The time of sunrise when the services will begin is 6:48.

The address will be given by Rev. Francis Carlson of St. Andrew's Methodist Church. Rev. Calvin Sears of the Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints will give the benediction and the benediction will be by Robert Goode, youth director at the Old Stone Church.

The Pilgrim Fellowship of Old Stone Church will assist in the service. Miss Dorothy Watson will play the organ for the Easter hymns and Gennaro E. Sestaro will play the cornet. The public is invited to attend. Entrance to the park is by way of Beacon Avenue.

SHORE RESIDENT VISIONED LIBRARY

A short time ago Mrs. John E. Leary, saw the possibility of forming a branch library in Momauguin. Through her efforts Momauguin now has a branch of the Hagan Memorial Library.

As the budget of the Hagan Memorial Library did not allow for a paid branch, Mrs. Leary had three problems to solve: free housing, free help to keep it open, and free transportation of books.

She had interviews with Mr. William E. Gillis, Superintendent of Schools, Mrs. Dorothy Moore, Principal of Momauguin School, and the teachers, Mrs. Beth Tray, and the librarians, Mrs. Betty Tray and Mrs. Leary.

She found Mrs. Elliott, who consented to serve as head librarian in charge of the branch. Leaders and presidents of organizations in Momauguin were contacted and the subject was discussed at meetings. Mrs. Leary explained the project in detail to the president and executive committee of the Parents Club and the club wanted to sponsor the project. Many of the members are helping the library now.

The response of all contacted was enthusiastic and the willingness to work and support the project was there. All seemed to feel the need of and wanted a branch with the realization that it was for the betterment of Momauguin.

The building that it was for the betterment of Momauguin. Many offered their homes as help for the library were selected. Then a transportation committee was formed.

The school board was asked by the Library Board for permission to use the room available on January 10, but did not take action at the meeting of February 10. Mr. John Corbett, secretary of the board of Education told Mrs. Leary that more information might be helpful. Mrs. Leary then sent a letter containing facts taken from her plans to Mr. Corbett, and also copies of same to each member of the board of Education. The board very kindly voted to allow the library to use the room on January 10.

The library is open to the public every Tuesday and Friday from 2 to 5 P.M.

Mrs. Leary congratulates Mrs. Elliott and her staff in the library on the attractiveness of the room and the splendid arrangement of books and magazines. She especially wishes to express her appreciation to all those who in any way encouraged her or assisted her in formulating her plans.

Mrs. John E. Leary, who resides at 5 George Street was a former teacher in East Haven and has substituted since her marriage in the East Haven and East Haven schools. She is the mother of four children, James 13, Jackie 12, Robert 11, and Paul 5 and 4.

Her husband is John E. Leary of the Railroad Police Department who has recently been promoted president of the Railroad Police Association. He is a member of Russell Council Knights of Columbus. The John Barry Association.

EASTER SEALS AND THEIR CLAIM ON YOU

Have you examined your Easter Seal carefully? If you do, you will see a little crippled girl reaching for the hand of a helping adult. The adult hand is symbolic of the help given by contributions. The seals were sent to you in order to defray the expenses of the Connecticut Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

The people who give their time to the Society have no illusions. They know that the almost continuous barrage of appeals to aid one worthy cause after another has produced a kind of lethargy in many families. They also know that a lot of persons just can't afford to give, week after week, even though they'd like to. But rightfully, they also feel that they have a special claim on your compassion and your charitable impulses during the Easter season.

Easter is the season of rebirth. It commemorates the Resurrection of Jesus Christ, and all the forces of Nature at this season corroborate it by bursting from the dormancy of winter into new life. Symbolically, this is the work of the Connecticut Society for Crippled Children and Adults: to give new life and hope to those who have been thrust into dormancy by twisted limbs and crippling disease. It is the rather Christ-like function of this Society to help the lame and the halt back to health.

You can prove it, if you wish, by talking with any one of the over 2,000 crippled people who received help last year from the Society. Especially enthusiastic are the youngsters who attended the Society's new camp for crippled children last summer. The joy which camping brings to a little boy or girl in a wheelchair cannot be measured in dollars and cents. But Easter Seal contributions go a long way in bringing new life and new opportunities for Connecticut's handicapped.

Not too long ago I attended a meeting at which Miss Annette Sprague of Babst Brewing Corp. spoke. The majority of her speech was devoted to her visits to Europe. One day, which she had returned, she was in a restaurant in Paris. She was seated at a table with a man saying to another—"I don't care if you go to the moon, I'd want to make it easy for you." She said she could hardly remember the man's name, but she had a hunch that he was a Frenchman. She said she had a hunch that he was a Frenchman. She said she had a hunch that he was a Frenchman.

What do you suppose a tax driver thinks of voters' choice for representation in the Connecticut Assembly? He must overheat a strange variety of conversations including U.S. and state first from an auto to the hill costs fifty cents, but by all reasoning cheaper than shoe leather if it were the trip.

On a recent cold morning two members huddled a cab and gave directions to the Capitol. As the driver started up to enter a "right a third member" tapped on the window, "May I ride up too? I am late and I'll miss the train unless I take a ride." He was made welcome (that split the fare three ways) and talk for the few minutes to the subject of the opening prayer at the Capitol.

It struck me that this was odd procedure for a cab driver, but a topic frequently discussed by members.

Two such opening prayers, selected at random, were given by the Reverend George A. Dyer of Hartford, chaplain of the House, and the Reverend William Let us not trust too much to our own opinion but be also willing to listen to the opinions of others. If our opinion is good, and yet, for God's sake, let us be content to let it be another, we will thereby gain more profit. It is safer often to follow than to lead.

Let us be content to let it be another, we will thereby gain more profit. It is safer often to follow than to lead.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

by C. WILSON HARDER

Although far removed from the bustling Korean city, a small business is going to be in the forefront of a Congressional hearing. A new order has arisen in the House Small Business Committee headed by Wright Patman (D. Texas).

The Army has ordered that brass buying is to be non-partisan. It is situations like this that prompt Sen. Earl Tarr (R. Ohio) to state in this column, "I think it is vitally important that the problems of small business in this anti-inflation period be placed before the public. Our experience in the last year shows that the case for the government and those who purchase for the government is to deal only with the large companies."

The newly appointed Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Justice Department's Antitrust division, H. Graham Marston, in his first public statement says there will be no relaxation of the antitrust laws throughout the country.

This order, unless rescinded, will be reflected in local payrolls throughout the country.

Up until this order, small firms, despite all the small amount of red tape involved in them, were taking a big share of orders awarded from sources of small business is obvious.

This new order which virtually assures monopolies will sell everything from beans to cans is strong evidence of that success.

In fact, the success of small business is obvious.

It is not only essential to protect the public interest, but it is also a patriotic duty. It is essential to the welfare of the nation that we should have a large number of small business enterprises.

Which has caused Washington to remark, "That's like writing the life of a light-bulb maker."

The numerous Flower Shows are now in the twilight and all garden lovers have at least visited one. Some take them all in, New York, Boston and Hartford.

The Hartford show theme was "A New England Village—1881 version." The Federated Garden Clubs section theme was "Spring Comes to the Village."

There are sound practical reasons behind the advice to put those bird nest boxes in two rows in the spring. For one thing, birds don't care for the smell of fresh paint or other wood preservatives on a new box, and a week or more of outdoor exposure is the best way to get rid of it.

The Rector of Zion Episcopal Church, the Reverend Francis J. Smith, Archdeacon of the New Haven Archdiocese has given the following Holy week message to his parishioners:

"Easter is the most significant day in the whole Christian year. The Resurrection of our Lord was the triumph of the forces of Goodness over Evil which proved for all time that God is active and omnipotent and will stand by those who follow Him even after death."

"In our time when the forces of evil seem to be so powerful the Easter inference of Eternal Victory is of especial significance, for it alone can give man the hope and the purpose to follow the demands and rigorous principles of our divine Master."

"Easter is a day of obligation in our Episcopal Church; that is to say that the Church expects that its members will receive their communion on that great Festival as a token of their loyalty and joy. I hope that all will receive their communion on Easter Day."

"As a necessary and constant preparation for Easter Day, we should observe Good Friday, not as a holiday but as a Holy Day. Plan to spend some time before the Cross of your dying Redeemer."

Sgt. Felix DelGiudice Awarded Bronze Star

Marine Sgt. Felix DelGiudice, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. DelGiudice, 651 Main Street, East Haven, recently was awarded the Bronze Star medal by the Commanding General of the First Marine Division for service in Korea.

The citation reads: "For heroic achievement in connection with operations against the enemy while serving with a Marine Infantry company in Korea on 7 November 1950. While his company was proceeding in convoy through a steep walled ravine, it was halted by an enemy road block and subjected to enemy small arms and machine gun fire. Sgt. DelGiudice, serving as a squad leader, began to return fire when his weapons were destroyed and his helmet shot off his head by the enemy fire. Without regard for his own personal safety, he assisted in administering aid to the wounded Marines. His actions were an inspiration to all members of his company as he moved among the casualties banded and without a weapon to assist in their evacuation. Sergeant DelGiudice's display of initiative and courageous actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service. He is authorized to wear the Combat 'V'."

Mrs. George J. Fouser of Short Beach is visiting her sister, Miss Helene Whitaker in Miami, Fla.

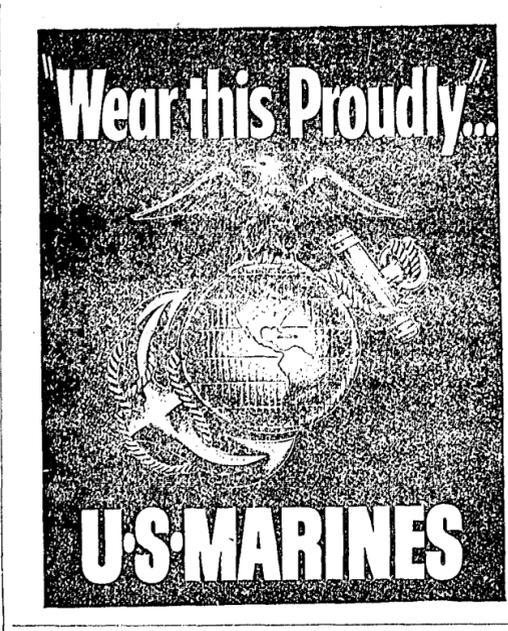

Irish songs, and group singing were enjoyed and Miss Sharon Hartigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hartigan, entertained with two dances. A specialty number was also much enjoyed. A demonstration of the opaque projector was well received by the members and the demonstration was much enjoyed. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. John Hartigan, Mrs. Henry Read, and Mr. and Mrs. Eddard Wall.

It was announced that the dental program sponsored by the Totoket Grange, had gotten off to a good start on March sixth.

The installation of the carillon chimes has been completed at the North Branford Congregational Church with the exception of a few minor adjustments. These chimes were purchased with the money left to the church by the will of the late Mr. Charles Todd. They will be dedicated in the near future at a service of dedication.

The plan calls for a door on one side, a picture window and a double window spaced evenly apart. In a fourth elevation the door is in the center with a picture window on one side and a double window on the other.

There are two floor plans, one being laid out so a bedroom can be converted into a dining room after an expendable attic has been completed. The other, the basic lay-

SUNSET HOMES PROJECT IN NORTH BRANFORD BUILDING 33 HOUSES

The second phase of construction to supplement the first section on Route 80 North Branford is currently under way by the Edwards Construction Company of New Haven. Thirty-three new homes are in the process of erection to supplement the first section of 34 homes, completed on an 11 acre tract, December 1.

The houses are being built on a 15 acre tract through which streets have been cut and utilities, such as water and electricity, provided for. Two of them have been completed and eight are partially completed.

They are Cape Cod-Colonial style, one and a half story residences with four different front elevations, and are expected to be completed by August. Approved by the Veterans Administration, the four room structures range in price from $10,500 and $10,950.

Basic Elevation
 Erected on lots averaging 80 feet in width and 160 in depth, the elevation of the basic house plan has a front door in the center flanked by a pair of windows. A variation of this plan calls for a triple window on one side and a single on the other.

The plan calls for a door on one side, a picture window and a double window spaced evenly apart. In a fourth elevation the door is in the center with a picture window on one side and a double window on the other.

There are two floor plans, one being laid out so a bedroom can be converted into a dining room after an expendable attic has been completed. The other, the basic layout, has a living room, two adjacent bedrooms, and a kitchen. Full Cellars

The wood shingle frame dwellings have full cellars of poured concrete. There are driveways and the landscaping will include grass and shrubbery.

Other features are oak floors, fully insulated attic 12 foot custom built cabinets, choice of asphalt tile in the kitchen, and tile bath. They are heated by warm, conditioned air, oil fired. The macadam roads are water bound.

Arthur R. Riccio, East Haven's building inspector, is co-owner of the Edwards' Construction Company. His brother, Edward, vice president of the Home Builders Association of Greater New Haven, is a partner.

VETS HOLD SESSION
 The Veterans of World War II held a special meeting on Monday evening at their clubrooms at Branford Point. A change was made in the by-laws stating that any veteran who has served in the armed forces is now eligible to become a member.

The regular meeting of the Baptist Welfare League scheduled for Wednesday, March 21st at Mrs. Lobart Page's home, has been postponed on account of so much illness locally. Mrs. Page will entertain the League in April instead.

SETTLE HERE
 We welcome to East Haven Mr. and Mrs. John Querrieri of 451 High Street, formerly of the Bronx, New York. They are the parents of a five month old daughter.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Watch Out For The "Blind-Spots"

Stopped by Squint Miller's farm the other day and saw a vinegar bottle in his kitchen with an oversized cucumber inside it. The cucumber filled the whole bottle.

"What's a cucumber doing in there?" I asked him. "That's my 'blind-spot' reminder," says Squint. "My grandmother kept one in her kitchen to remind her to take stock of herself now and then."

"I slipped that bottle over the cucumber when it was just starting to grow on the vine," he went on. "And like certain viewpoints, not noticed, it just grew and grew—now it's there to stay."

From where I sit, we could take a cue from Squint and watch for our own "blind-spots" and prejudices before they grow too big to get rid of. We've got to respect our neighbor's right to his preferences... preferences for a certain make of car, a favorite movie star, or a temperate glass of beer after work. We won't be tripped by any blind spots if we keep our eyes—and minds—open!
