This Is a School by John Schu

Strangeville School is Totally Normal by Darcy Miller

Pizza and Taco: Too Cool for School #4 by Stephen Shaskan

New in Children's

When Donut, a fluffy, scruffy unicorn with a colorful horn spots a bird in the air, she thinks, why can't I be up there, too? Here's the hilarious story of Donut, a scruffy unicorn who can't fly—but who keeps on trying! From the author of One Big Pair of Underwear and the illustrator of Sweetie.

A school isn't just a building; it is all the people who work and learn together. It is a place for discovery and asking questions. A place for sharing, for helping, and for community. It is a place of hope and healing, even when that community can't be together in the same room. John Schu, a librarian and former ambassador of school libraries for Scholastic, crafts a loving letter to schools and the people that make up the communities within in a picture book debut beautifully illustrated by Veronica Miller Jamison.

Harvey Hill just wants other kids to think he's normal. So he's happy to start fresh as the newest kid at Strangeville Middle School. Except Strangeville is anything but normal. Something sinister swims in the drinking fountain, the cafeteria could swallow you whole, and a giant rat named Cuddles is on the loose. And don't even get the vice principal started on the third-floor supply closet. In fact, don't even think about it. What supply closet?

New backpacks? Check! Besties Pizza and Taco are ready to head back to school, but are they ready to meet the cool new kid? Pizza and Taco quickly pick up on what's cool—and what's not—by watching B.L.T.'s every move. Will that spell t-r-o-u-b-l-e for Pizza and Taco with their teacher, Mr. Apple?

Voya Thomas may have passed her Calling to become a full-fledged witch, but the cost was higher than she'd ever imagined. As Voya struggles to convince everyone—herself included—that she can be a good Matriarch, she has a vision of a terrifying, deadly future. With a newfound sense of purpose, Voya must do whatever it takes to bring her shattered community together and stop what's coming for them before it's too late.

Sally Skellington is the official, newly-minted Pumpkin Queen after a whirlwind courtship with her true love, Jack, who Sally adores with every inch of her fabric seams—if only she could say the same for her new role as Queen of Halloween Town. Cast into the spotlight and tasked with all sorts of queenly duties, Sally can't help but wonder if all she's done is trade her captivity under Dr. Finkelstein for a different cage.

When fate connects our two masterminds, Mary Wollstonecraft and Ada Lovelace, and they both learn that they are fae—magical people with the ability to make whatever they imagine become real—and they soon find themselves hunted by a mad scientist who won't stop until he finds out how they made a real boy out of spare parts.

Four years ago, Brynn left Saint Ambrose School following the shocking murder of her favorite teacher—a story that made headlines after the teacher's body was found by three Saint Ambrose students in the woods behind their school. The case was never solved. Now that Brynn is moving home and starting her dream internship at a true-crime show, she's determined to find out what really happened.

Tomorrow and Tomorrow and Tomorrow by Gabrielle Zevin

New in Fiction

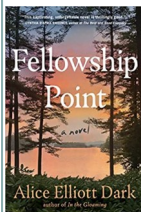

In this exhilarating novel by the best-selling author of The Storied Life of A. J. Fikry, two friends—often in love, but never lovers—come together as creative partners in the world of video game design, where success brings them fame, joy, tragedy, duplicity, and, ultimately, a kind of immortality.

Like many before her, Maria Lagana has come to Hollywood to outrun her past. Born in Rome, where every Sunday her father took her to the cinema instead of church, Maria immigrates with her mother to Los Angeles after a childhood transgression leads to her father's arrest. While the world descends into war, Maria rises through a maze of conflicting politics and divided loyalties. But when the arrival of a stranger from her father's past threatens Maria's carefully constructed facade, she must finally confront her father's fate—and her own.

Mercury Pictures Presents by Anthony Marra

Celebrated children's book author Agnes Lee is determined to secure her legacy—to complete what she knows will be the final volume of her pseudonymously written novels; and even more consuming, to permanently protect the peninsula of majestic coast in Maine known as Fellowship Point. To donate the land to a trust, Agnes must convince shareholders to dissolve a generations-old partnership—and one of those shareholders is her best friend, Polly.

Fellowship Point by Alice Elliott Dark

Joy and Annie are friends and roommates whose thirty-something lives aren't exactly what they'd imagined. To make ends meet, they decide to rent their extra bedroom to Theo, who charms Joy with his salt-and-pepper hair and adoration of their one-eyed cat. Perceptive, mordantly funny, and full of heart, How to Fall Out of Love Madly examines women's many relationships to reveal their underlying power and complexity.

The Pink Hotel by Liska Jacobs

Newlyweds Keith and Kit Collins can hardly believe their luck when the general manager of the iconic, opulent Pink Hotel invites them to come for a luxurious stay as a bid to hire Keith. Soon after their arrival, wildfires sweep through the surrounding mountains and Los Angeles becomes a pressure cooker—and The Pink Hotel closes its doors to "outsiders." Keith and Kit suddenly find themselves confined with an anxious, disgruntled staff and a growing roster of eccentric, ultra-wealthy, dangerously idle guests.

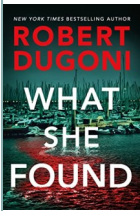

The Many Daughters of Afong Moy by Jamie Ford

Dorothy Moy breaks her own heart for a living; as Washington's former poet laureate, that's how she describes channeling her mental health struggles into her art. But when her five-year-old daughter exhibits similar behavior and begins remembering things from the lives of their ancestors, Dorothy believes the past has truly come to haunt her. Fearing that her child is predestined to endure the same debilitating depression that has marked her own life, Dorothy seeks radical help.

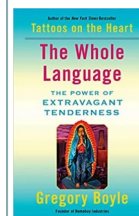

The Dating Plan by Sara Desai

Daisy Patel is a software engineer who understands lists and logic better than bosses and boyfriends. With her life all planned out, and no interest in love, the one thing she can't give her family is the marriage they expect. Left with few options, she asks her childhood crush to be her decoy fiancé. Even with a step-by-step plan, these fake fiancés might accidentally fall for each other in this hilarious, heartfelt romantic comedy from the author of The Marriage Game.

What She Found by Robert Dugoni

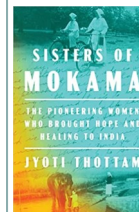

Detective Tracy Crosswhite has agreed to look into the disappearance of investigative reporter Lisa Childress. Solving the cold case is an obsession for Lisa's daughter, Anita; so is clearing the name of her father, a prime suspect who became a pariah. After twenty-five years, all Anita wants is the truth—no matter where it leads. For Tracy, that means reopening the potentially explosive investigations Lisa was following on the dark night she vanished.

The Whole Language by Gregory Boyle

New in Non-Fiction

Over the past thirty years, Gregory Boyle has transformed thousands of lives through his work as the founder of Homeboy Industries, the largest and most successful gang-intervention program in the world. In a community struggling to overcome systemic poverty and violence, The Whole Language shows how those at Homeboy Industries fight despair and remain generous, hopeful, and tender. Boyle's moving stories challenge our ideas about God and about people, providing a window into a world filled with fellowship, compassion, and fewer barriers.

Sisters of Mokama by Jyoti Thottam

In Sisters of Mokama, Jyoti draws up on twenty years' worth of research to tell this inspiring story for the first time: Jyoti's mother left home by herself at just fifteen years old and traveled to Bihar in order to train to be a nurse under the tutelage of the determined and resourceful Appalachian nuns who ran Nazareth Hospital; with no knowledge of Hindi, and the awareness that they would likely never see their families again, the Sisters had traveled to Mokama determined to live up to the spirit of their order, founded in the rough hills of the Kentucky frontier.

Managing Expectations by Minnie Driver

In this intimate, beautifully crafted collection, Minnie writes with disarming charm and candor about her bohemian upbringing between England and Barbados; her post-university travails and triumphs, shooting to fame in one of the most influential films of the 1990s and being nominated for an Academy Award; and finding the true light of her life, her son. Effortlessly charming, deeply funny, personal, and honest, Managing Expectations reminds us of the way life works out—even when it doesn't.

Alabama v. King by Dan Abrams & Fred D. Gray

Fred D. Gray was just twenty-four years old when he became the defense lawyer for Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., a young minister who had become the face of the bus boycott that had rocked the city of in Montgomery, Alabama. Alabama v. King captures a pivotal moment in the fight for equality.
