

Attention CT Writers!

Submissions are now open for the 2021 Connecticut Literary Anthology. CT writers are encouraged to submit their fiction, nonfiction, and poetry. The book will be featured this Fall at the 2021 CT Literary Festival. Published and emerging writers (of all ages) are encouraged to apply. Simultaneous submissions accepted, with immediate notification if accepted elsewhere.

What to Submit:

- Fiction and Nonfiction (3,500 words max)
- Poetry (2 poems max)
- Submit PDF files

Submission Details:

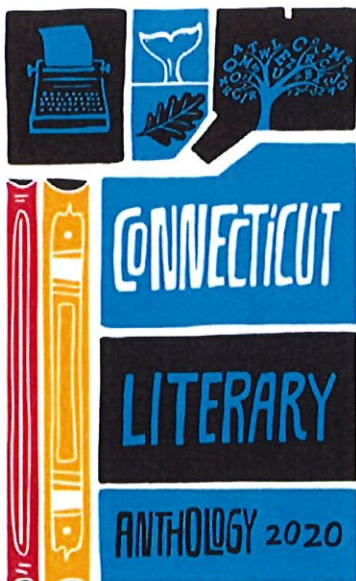

- Submissions will be open from February 1 until April 15, 2020.
- Authors must reside in the state of Connecticut by January 1, 2021.

Preparation:

- NOTE: Reading is blind, so the author's name should not appear on the manuscript. Please note if your submission is fiction, nonfiction or poetry on first page with title of work.

Additional Information:

- Authors paid with one complimentary copy of the anthology, and featured in a public reading
- The anthology is published by the CCSU English Department in conjunction with the CT Literary Anthology, and supported by a private grant.
- Email questions to: info@connecticutliteraryfestival.org. Subject: Anthology.

Praise for the 2020 Anthology:

"Readers looking for evidence of Connecticut's vibrant literary community will find it here."

—Sarah P. Strong, writer of The Mouth of the Earth

