

Remember — When Steamers Plied Lake Saltonstall?

Recognize the area? The lake steamer on the left in the picture, remember it? Perhaps not, but that lake steamer once traveled on Lake Saltonstall in East Haven. The road in the old, undated picture, is now straightened and is Route 1 leading into Branford. The large house in the foreground, a boathouse, was long ago demolished in the face of progress. This picture was found in the collection of Lewis Boyce by photographer Charles Miller.
